HAS BEEN PUT UNDER ARREST

DOESN'T LIKE WAY WILSON RUNS WAR

Long-Bladed Knife and a Bottle of Liquid Are Found Among Tools.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—President Wilson and W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state, met here today for the first time in months. The president stopped in the way from Chicago to Long Branch, N. J., and Mr. Bryan came here on the way to speak in the district of Representative W. W. Bailey, of Johnstown, Pa.

In the course of his automobile ride about the city the president lost his hat, and the automobile was stopped while a secret service man recovered it.

Crank Jumps on Running Board. A man apparently a workman, with a bag of tools, jumped upon the running board of the automobile, but was knocked off by a secret service man. The man chased the president's conveyance for a block before he was arrested by local detectives.

The prisoner gave his name as Richard Cullen, aged 22, a machinist of this city. On his way to the police station he told the police that he was not at all satisfied with President Wilson's conduct of the European war.

TELLS OF FRIGHTFUL DEVASTATION IN WAR

Battlefields of France Scenes of Most Terrible Destruction.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 20.—The terrible destruction wrought on the battlefields of France is described in an official communique from the Canadian war records office which has been made public by Lieut. General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia. Incidentally the communique iterates the claims of the British leaders in regard to the superiority of the allies in the air and in the artillery. In the latter respect the Canadian officer says that the allies are firing five shells to the Germans one.

Describing the destruction comminued by the tremendous struggle the communique says: "Never has the human agency controlled such engines of destruction nor has ever war so profoundly impressed itself upon the face of nature. No natural could be more ruthless, no natural blight more devastating."

In regard to the situation in the air the communique says: "In this respect the British and French domination is almost absolute. Here all day long we watch our planes circling above our heads. Closely they come and go with the speed and alertness of birds; far off they seem to hang suspended in the sky. Occasionally a flight of five or more planes, intent upon some special mission, go over high up and disappear into the distance. So rarely do the German machines appear that some men who have been here for a month have not seen a single one."

Muncie Woman Says She Didn't Shoot at Doctor

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 20.—Miss Grace Harris, for whom the Indianapolis police were looking, has returned to her home here and in a statement denied she fired any shots at Dr. C. C. Hanna, at Indianapolis, last night. She said she was not near his home at the time of the shooting, but she thought she could name the woman who did fire the revolver at the physician. The local police have not taken any steps toward placing Miss Harris under custody and will not do so unless charges of some kind should be filed against her in Indianapolis, they said.

POLICE LOOKING FOR GIRL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—The police today were still looking for Miss Grace Harris, of Muncie, to question her as to her whereabouts last night when a woman fired four shots through a window at

ENGINEER LOSES HIS LIFE IN RESCUE WORK

Four Bodies Thus Far Recovered from Explosion-Wrecked Mine.

Fairmont, W. Va., Oct. 20.—L. M. Jones, a mining engineer, sent to Barrackville, near here, yesterday, in charge of a trained crew from the Pittsburg station of the bureau of mines to conduct the work of rescue at the Jamison mine, where more than a dozen men had been entombed by an explosion, was asphyxiated in the workings early today. Jones, with seven other men, had reached the bottom of the shaft where canary birds were released to test the air. All the birds were almost immediately killed and Jones, who had advanced further into the workings, also fell to the tracks. His companions, advancing to his rescue, felt the force of the gas and one by one were overcome. All quickly recovered except Jones when brought to the surface.

Four bodies of men at work in the mine have been recovered. These men, the rescue party said, had evidently been killed by gas as their bodies bore no mark of the explosion. Jones was one of the government's best rescue directors. He is the fourth engineer killed in rescue work.

FALL FROM KITCHEN DOOR PROVES FATAL

John Shuster, a veteran of the civil war and a retired employee of the Pennsylvania machine shop, died at St. Joseph's hospital early Friday morning at the age of seventy years. Death was due to a fractured skull, which he suffered on Monday evening when he fell from the kitchen door.

Last Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock he started out of the back door of the kitchen. In some manner unknown to the members of the family he fell to the sidewalk, a distance of but a few feet. Members of the family, hearing him fall, rushed to his side. He was carried into the house and a physician was summoned. His condition was not regarded as serious at that time. However, Tuesday, at midnight, he became worse and he was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Shuster, who resided at 2718 Maumee avenue, was born in Pennsylvania, but had resided in Fort Wayne for many years. He was a member of company E, 25th Indiana volunteer infantry. Last July he was put on the Pennsylvania pension list after completing many years of faithful service.

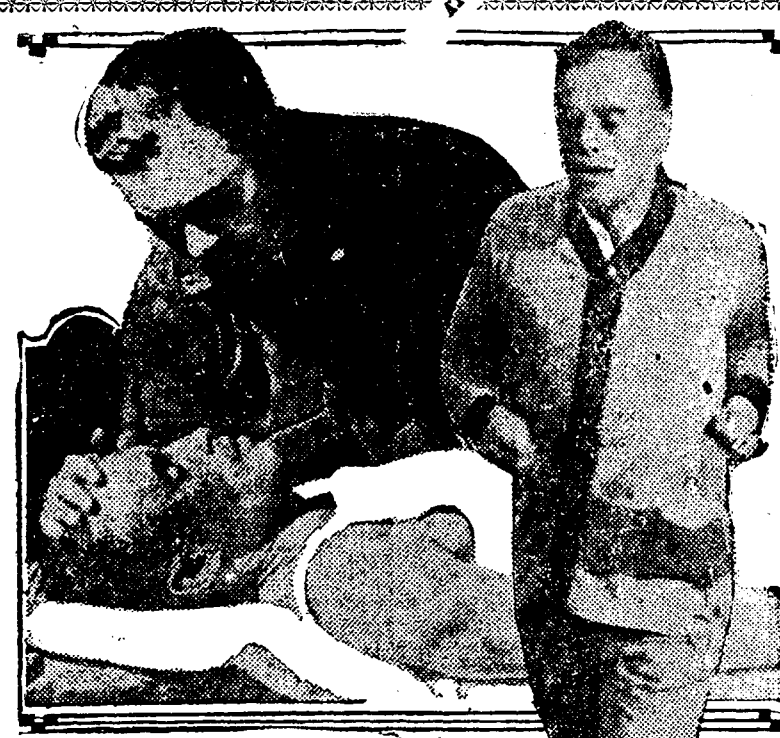

The deceased was a member of the I. O. O. F. and active in its affairs. Besides the widow he is survived by three sons: Walter, Frank and Clayton, of this city; five daughters, Mrs. Laura Kniffin, of Chicago; Mrs. Fannie Leath, of Muncie; Mrs. Clara Meyer, of New Haven; Mrs. Florence Kromm, of this city; and Mrs. Lillian Baulky, also of Fort Wayne. There are also sixteen grandchildren.

SIX THOUSAND AFFECTED.

Trouble Develops in Pennsylvania Soft Coal District.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Oct. 20.—Six thousand bituminous coal miners are affected by a strike at seven mines of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Coke company, near here. The outside men, at all the mines demand an eight hour day with the same pay as given them for ten hours, while the miners at a number of the other workings ask for a readjustment of the weight scale.

RUN AND WALK IF YOU WOULD SHARPEN THE WITS, SAYS NEW CHAMPION.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—For better health, for brightening the eye and sharpening the wits, walking and running have the call, according to Sidney Hatch, newsboy and athlete, who has just set a new world's record for running 100 miles.

Hatch ran from Milwaukee to Chicago in 14 hours, 50 minutes and 30 seconds. The previous record was 18 hours, 33 minutes, held by Albert Corey, Frenchman.

Hatch is 27. He has reached an age when most athletes are in the has-been class. Hatch is right at his prime and a champion.

After his record-breaking feat Hatch slept twenty hours then went back to his paper route in River Forest, Ill., his home.

"Running and walking are good for one's health," Hatch said, "because you can't be a good runner or walker and dissipate or smoke or eat the wrong things. It settles down to the question of taking care of one's self. I recommend walking and running for everybody."

BIG MEETING HUGE SUCCESS

Four National Figures Take Part in Program at Palace Theater.

At one of the largest rallies ever held by the democrats in Fort Wayne four national figures, Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, Prof. Stockton Axson, brother-in-law of President Wilson, and Senator Thomas Taggart and John W. Kern, made speeches at the Palace theater Thursday night before an audience that packed the theater. Achievements of the national administration in foreign relations, finance, the Mexican situation and its enactment of the Adamson law, the rural credits law and the currency bill were all embodied in the speeches which were given rapid attention with intervals of most enthusiastic applause. The four distinguished visitors left Friday morning for Lagrange, where another big democratic meeting was held.

WANT MRS. KRIDER ON CHILD NEGLECT CHARGE

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—That Mrs. Hazel Krider, under arrest in Indianapolis on a charge of forgery is wanted here by the local police authorities on a charge of child neglect, was the statement made this morning by Court Matron O'Donnell. Mrs. O'Donnell recalled the finding of a neglected baby at the home of a woman here where it had been left. Health authorities were notified and the babe was found to be dying of starvation. It was given attention and its grandmother at Billtown, notified. She took the infant to her home. Mrs. O'Donnell branded as false the woman's statement that she had been refused permission to see her child and said a charge is pending against her of child neglect.

BRITISH ARE DRIVEN OUT

Germans Regain Trenches Recently Lost on the Somme Front.

TEUTONS SMASH BRITISH "TANKS"

Serbians Progress in Vigorous Campaign Against Monastir.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Teutonic successes reported in today's official announcement from German army headquarters include the recapture on the Somme front in northern France of the greater part of the trenches taken by the British on Oct. 18 between Eaucourt l'Abbaye and Le Barque, three miles southwest of Bapaume.

British attacks last evening north of Courcellette and east of Le Sars were declared by Berlin to have failed. The destruction of three of the new British armored cars, or "tanks," is also reported.

Teutonic forces on the eastern front, the German war office announces, have repulsed Russian counter-attacks near Svinusky, on the Stokhod, in Volhynia; have stormed an important height on the Narayuka, southwest of Lemberg, in Galicia, capturing more than 2,000 men and eleven machine guns, and have driven the Russians from the summit of Mount Rusulvi in the southern Carpathians.

In Transylvania the Austro-German armies are continuing their attack on the Rumanian frontier but apparently without notable success. No specific mention of progress in any sector is made by Berlin.

Serbian troops on the western end of the Macedonian front are reported successfully continuing their vigorous campaign for Monastir. Through Paris today came official announcement of the capture of the village of Velejevo, within the bend of the Cerna river southeast of Monastir. The Bulgarians are said to have suffered heavy losses, including 100 men prisoners and three cannon and to have been put to rout.

The situation in Greece remains extremely confused. News dispatches from Athens, long delayed in transmission and recording the development of the situation there only up to Wednesday night, report turbulent conditions in the Greek capital. Greek reservists there are said to have taken the law into their own hands, despite the presence of strong contingents of entente marines, with the Greek authorities doing virtually nothing to control them.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The greater part of the trenches on the road between Eaucourt l'Abbaye and LeBarque, which were captured by the British on Oct. 18, were retaken yesterday by German troops in an attack, according to the official statement issued today at army headquarters.

Attempts made by British detachments to advance last night north of Courcellette and east LeSars, the statement adds, failed.

"In the last great attack against the German positions in the Somme region," the statement adds, "the British were repulsed."

MEXICAN MINING MAN TAKEN BEFORE VILLA

Was Wounded While Bandits Were Engaged in Looting His Home.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 20.—Thomas Mendez, a mining man employed by one of the companies in the Cuernavaca district, is here today to receive medical treatment for wounds inflicted by Villa bandits. Mendez said he was in Cuernavaca when Villa and Salazar entered there with 800 men on Sept. 26. He was called from his home and taken before Villa himself for examination. After being told that he could go Villa warned him if he ever worked for an American company he would be executed, Mendez said.

After returning to his home and retiring, Mendez says he was awakened by the screams of his wife and discovered that Martin Lopez, a brother of Pablo Lopez, and a band of Villa's men were looting his home. He started to run when a bandit shot him. Mendez said Villa looked unusually well and had shaved off the beard which he was reported to have worn at the attack of Chihuahua City.

JOKER AT ELKHART HAS FUN WITH THE PRESIDENT

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 20.—When President Wilson's train made a ten-minute stop here to change engines yesterday the president was greeted by a crowd of 10,000 persons and spent the time chatting and joking with those close to his platform. One man called out, "Is our next president with you?" Mr. Wilson smiled and bowed, and replied, "I hope so."

"I mean Secretary Lansing," called back the man in the crowd, evidently having in mind the fact that the secretary of state may act as president over Sunday, inasmuch as inauguration day comes on Sunday. "Oh," said President Wilson. "No, he is not here."

MAKES PLEA FOR COLISEUM

Judge Eggeman, at Great Democratic Rally, Tells of Need.

MEET TONIGHT TO CONTINUE CAMPAIGN

Complete Arrangements for Closing Work of Big Hall Boosters.

Although the speaking program at the Palace last night, when thousands heard Senators Kern and Taggart, Secretary McAdoo and Prof. Stockton Axson, was filled to the limit, the presiding officer, Judge John Eggeman, of the Allen county circuit court, took occasion to make a plea with the great mass of voters present to remember the need of a great convention hall in Fort Wayne and to vote in favor of the project at the coming general election—November 7.

The hundreds who were fortunate in securing seats in the Palace theater appreciated the force of Judge Eggeman's presentation of the need, for, at that very moment, hundreds of persons who sought entrance to the theater were barred out, because there was no more room within the big building.

Committee Session Tonight. This evening, at the Commercial club, the citizens' convention hall committee of one hundred will meet to make final arrangements for the closing days of the campaign to bring out a large vote for the coliseum project. Among the matters to be decided upon is the manner of voting and also to make some slight revision of the schedule of speaking dates at the shop meetings to be held, beginning next Monday noon.

Bricklayers' Union For It.

The citizens' convention hall committee has received from Henry D. Kendrick, secretary of Bricklayers' union, No. 2, the following letter: "It will be too late by the time of our next meeting to place the convention hall resolution before the body, as we do not meet until November 6, but as I have talked with a majority of our members in regard to this project, I can assure you of our unanimous support."

Friars Take Action. The Friars' club, by a unanimous vote, has declared in favor of the prompt erection of a municipal convention building.

Chill Over State Brings Seventeen Degree Drop in Temperature.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—The temperature dropped seventeen degrees from 7 o'clock yesterday morning to 9 o'clock this morning over the greater part of the state, officials of the weather bureau here announced. The thermometer here stood at 35 degrees at 9 o'clock today. It was getting colder, and the forecast for tonight was temperature as low as 25 degrees in some parts of the state.

Just how long the cold wave will continue is problematical, the weather bureau officials said, but if the expected fair weather comes tonight it probably will mean the cold spell will leave. The first snow of the autumn fell in central Indiana today. It followed a rain, and was driven by a high wind. Wire communications were interfered with seriously by the wind.

The weather is not unusual for the time of year, it was said. Similar weather conditions were reported in Illinois and as far north as Duluth, which reported a snow from two to six inches deep in northern Minnesota.

DEATH CLAIMS BUSINESS MAN

Isidor Seelberg Succumbs to Pneumonia After Brief Illness.

HAD BEEN AILING FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Deceased Came to This Country from Germany at Age of 21.

Isidor Seelberg, one of Fort Wayne's most prominent business men, died at 1015 o'clock Friday morning at St. Joseph's hospital where he had been a patient but one day. He was sixty-one years of age and death was due to pneumonia. The deceased lived at 827 West Wayne street.

He had been ailing for the past few weeks and ten days ago was seized with an attack of pleurisy, but his condition was not regarded as serious. Thursday afternoon, however, pneumonia developed and he was taken to the hospital in the evening. He rested fairly well during the night but Friday morning he grew gradually worse. Only a limited number of his many friends and acquaintances were aware of his illness. His death, therefore, comes as a great shock to the entire community.

The deceased was born in Steinbush, Germany, but came to America with his brother-in-law, Louis Wolf, when he was twenty-one years of age. A few years later the two went into partnership and conducted a store in Fort Wayne. In 1887, Mr. Seelberg went to Wayne, O., where he went into the clothing business and remained there until 1898. He sold out his interests in the Ohio city and came back to Fort Wayne where he opened the Seelberg store on East Berry street. For some years he has conducted this place of business with his two sons, Maurice and Edmund Seelberg.

Mr. Seelberg was very widely known and as a business man he was highly successful. He was a member of the Abduth Veshalom congregation and of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith.

FAILED BANK TO PAY 20 CENTS ON DOLLAR

Court Approves Report in Bankrupt Concern at Noblesville.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 20.—Special Judge Parr, of Lebanon, came to Noblesville yesterday afternoon and approved the report of John L. Dulin, receiver for the Hamilton Trust company, which was closed a year ago by the auditor of state. At the same time he declined further jurisdiction in the case and turned over all matters growing out of this litigation to Judge Cloe.

The report of the receiver provides for the distribution of a dividend of 20 per cent which will amount in round numbers to $40,000. This money will be paid to the depositors and other interested parties as soon as the amounts can be figured. The following is a synopsis of Dulin's report to the court: Total cash on hand, October 17, 1916, $51,425.54; total claims allowed, $200,012.33; twenty per cent of the claims allowed, $40,002.46; preferred claims pending, $27,928.41; taxes due in 1917, estimated, $2,000. There will be another dividend later, but as to the time and the amount neither the court nor the receiver will venture a guess. Judge Parr made no allowance to the attorneys or receiver for their services. These amounts will have to be adjusted by Judge Cloe at a later date.

RESERVE LAW FARMERS' AID

Puts Him on Same Plane as Business Man, Says
Comptroller.

MAKES REFERENCE TO WILSON REMARK

Currency Head Points to Fine Record of His Department.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, speaking here today before the Farmers' National Congress, described the relation of the federal reserve law to the farmer and closed with a personal statement brought out by President Wilson's recent allusion to attacks on the comptroller.

"I see that our president, in an address at Shadow Lawn," said the comptroller, "tells the country that the bankers, or certain bankers, or some special interests, are after my official scalp because I, as the comptroller of the currency, have enforced the laws. This is no surprise to me.

"I know that I have been held up as a kind of ogre, a ravenous and bloody-boned, a terror to the banking and financial interests of the country. Maybe the best answer to that may be found in the records and indisputable facts, that the national banks of the country today are stronger and in better condition than ever before, they are more numerous than when I became comptroller; are more prosperous and show a smaller proportion of failures and losses than was ever known in their history; and my office is receiving a steady stream of applications for charters for new national banks and for permission to increase the capital of the existing banks."

An Aid to Farmer.
Mr. Williams said the new federal reserve law will forbid "the grasping from using for their own advantage the necessities of their neighbors" and that it puts the farmer on the same plane as the business man.

"The farmer," he said, "is enabled to borrow according to his industry and commercial standing because his banks know how and where to get the money. It will not be possible to have the money supply locked in the great centers for speculation or gambling purposes, while the real producers and legitimate productive commerce are pinched or denied, perhaps just at the time of their most important need."

Cries of back to the farm, he said, were futile without promise of comfort and happiness and prospect.

"Put money, or opportunity to earn money on the farms and the people will come back fast enough and stay."

He also declared that interest charges had been reduced.

Congress Closes Today.
The thirty-sixth annual Farmers' National congress closed here today after being in session since Tuesday. The final business session late this afternoon was devoted to the election of officers, most of whom have served for the past year only. The custom in the organization is to give the officers two years.

The officers are: President, H. B. Stockbridge, Atlanta, Ga.; vice presidents, J. A. Devaney, Morris, Minn., and John W. Barger, Waverly, Ohio; Treasurer, D. K. Unsicker, Wright, Iowa, and secretary, J. P. Griffin, Tiptonville, Tenn. One new member of the executive committee was to be elected.

The final day's program included some of the more important addresses of the session. John Skelton Williams, United States controller of currency, spoke on the "Federal Reserve Banks and the Farmers," and G. L. Christie, of Purdue university, spoke on "Taking the College to the Farmer." Carl

You notice that we say this store is the right store for young men

What is a RIGHT store for young men?

"RIGHT" doesn't mean a store that makes price its chief claim to your attention. As a rule, young men haven't very much money to spend for clothes; and yet clothes are very important to them.

And there's the whole thing.

Any man who hasn't much money to spend, and to whom clothes are very important, MUST consider something besides price. And that's why we sell and make a specialty of selling these.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for young men

There's not a young man in this town, who amounts to anything, or who ever will amount to anything, who doesn't know, as a business proposition, that the important point in buying anything is what you get, not what you pay.

It's all a question of value; and value in clothes means style, quality of materials, tailoring, fit; the things that give service and satisfaction in clothes.

You can find plenty of lower priced clothes than Hart Schaffner & Marx make; but you'll never see any that are better value per dollar.

NOTICE—This store has on hand, now, ready to show you, more all wool, hand-tailored Suits and Overcoats than you can find in all other clothing stores in Fort Wayne. There is only one way to get rid of all these fine garments. This is the Way.

ELEPHANT BUTTE DAM DEDICATED

Elephant Butte, N. M., Oct. 20.—The Elephant Butte dam, completed recently at a cost of $5,000,000 and intended to impound the largest artificially retained body of water in the world, was dedicated here yesterday by A. A. Jones of New Mexico, personal representative of President Wilson.

Three hundred and fifty delegates to the International Irrigation congress and International Dry Farm congress were the dedication committee.

The dam, which was constructed by the United States reclamation service, contains 608,000 cubic yards of concrete and is 1,318.7 feet long at the top. An 18-foot roadway is built on top of the dam. The first work was begun in 1904.

Dry farming is the most highly organized of all agricultural methods and develops the best citizenship in the rural districts. William Jardine of Manhattan, Kan., president of the Farming congress, said in his annual address.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Hazel Krider, 21, and Clifford Goodwin, 24, of Terre Haute, were arrested last yesterday and are held charged with forging checks for sums aggregating about $1,000. When arrested they had their trunks packed and were prepared to leave the city. Goodwin, in his statements to the police, places most of the blame on the woman. His home is in Sellersburg, Ind., but since three weeks ago he had been driving a taxicab in Terre Haute. While engaged in this work he met Mrs. Krider. He said he was surprised when she offered to buy him an automobile and fit him out with fine clothes.

Shortly after they met he told the police they went to his home in Sellersburg, where he introduced Mrs. Krider as his wife. He said her first check was cashed at his home town. Coming to Indianapolis they engaged rooms at a hotel and had been living together.

Senators Taggart and Kern Given Reception at Columbia City.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 20.—Senators John W. Kern and Thomas Taggart were given a great reception here yesterday afternoon when they spoke in the Commercial club hall. The hall was much too small to accommodate the tremendous crowd and many could not even get inside. Both senators discussed the national issues and urged the election of the entire democratic ticket.

STAGE STAR USES AUTO AS HER DRESSING ROOM.

Wanda Lyons

Miss Lyons, although she has scored one of the most marvelous theatrical successes in recent years, having risen from an unknown little Salt Lake City girl to a Broadway star in three brief years, does not like to spend an unnecessary moment in the theater.

The time spent in the dressingroom making up is considered as wasted time when she could be out in her car. Prompted by this thought, she began to devise a way to avoid the losing of this time.

With the assistance of the experts, a special motor car containing a folding mirror, dressing table and clothes hooks was designed, and now the captivating little prima donna enters the car at her hotel dressed in street attire, and with the assistance of her colored maid emerges at the stage door of the theater where she is playing, made up and dressed for her first appearance before her audiences.

Not a moment is lost, and fully thirty minutes are saved from her time in the theater.

Miss Lyons is enthusiastic over her dressingroom car, and fully expects it to be adopted by many busy society women as a time saver between the afternoon daisies and the full dress evening social affairs.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

Wilson and the People

No better commentary on President Wilson's strength with the great mass of the American people and the tremendous hold he has on the regard, the esteem and the confidence of the public could be imagined than that which was illustrated anew by the journey to Chicago which he has just completed. The trip from start to finish was a continued story of fine interest and enthusiastic ovation. It mattered not at all in what state he chanced to find himself, be the hour early or late, there were cheering throngs at the railway stations, eager to get a glimpse of President Wilson, to shake his hand and to listen to such message as he was able in the few moments at hand to give them. Northern Indiana was conspicuously friendly. At Kendallville, at Ligonier, at Goshen, at Elkhart, at South Bend and at Gary the story was the same. It was an outpouring of assurance of goodwill and cordial endorsement.

Chicago, however, appears to have easily capped the climax in its demonstration for the president. The Tribune, which is earnestly supporting Mr. Hughes, carries across its front page the eight-column line, "Crowds Riot to Hear Wilson." When Mr. Wilson arrived, says the Tribune, "thousands jammed the streets at the noon hour and cheered lustily." At the night meeting, "about 15,000 crowded into the pavilion and a crowd of 10,000 was estimated to be on the outside fighting the police for admission." The Herald, more independent in character but with a distinct trend toward Mr. Hughes, proclaims in its blackest type, "Wilson Stirs Big Crowds." It says the president "received demonstrations of the sort Colonel Roosevelt used to draw in Chicago during the white house days," and that "old-timers said its like had not been seen during a national campaign since Chicago grew up from a village." Other Chicago newspapers are similarly frank in acknowledging that the ovation was the greatest ever accorded a president in Chicago.

The point of the thing is that this sort of tribute isn't paid by the people to one whom they distrust, in whom they have lost confidence, for whom they have ceased to entertain the highest regard, or one who has ceased to represent their highest ideals. They do not accord that sort of reception to one whom they are preparing to desert or for whose attitude they have either but lukewarm admiration, unfavorable criticism or downright resentment. If there has been a belief anywhere that President Wilson has lost his tremendous hold upon the hearts, the sympathies and the confidence of the people, his reception everywhere should quickly show that any such idea is wholly unfounded. The people are still with Wilson.

New testimony to the tireless labors, the high efficiency and the valuable public services of Congressman Cline was brought to the Twelfth district Thursday evening by Secretary McAdoo, Senator Kern and Senator Taggart. Each of them, in the course of addresses at the Palace theater, took occasion to attest the value of Mr. Cline's labors not alone to the Twelfth district, but the country at large, and each pointed the necessity of retaining in congress such men of experience, judgment and mental poise. The Twelfth district congressman was not present to hear the encomiums passed upon his fine record, but the manifestations of approval by the audience left no doubt but that Twelfth district voters are preparing to give him new endorsement by re-election in November.

Good citizens at Indianapolis have launched a movement to insure a clean election in that city, and are taking advance steps to see that only legal voters be allowed to cast ballots. Moreover, federal and county aid is promised unreservedly in protecting the integrity of the ballot. The effort is not only admirable, but it should be productive of good results. Indianapolis has learned by experience the advantage of taking time by the forelock in matters of this kind. There is little to be gained by working up a fine frenzy after the illegal ballots have been cast and counted. Herein the ounce of prevention axiom applies with singular fitness.

Further peaceful intent of that eminent pacifist, Colonel Roosevelt, was supplied at Emporia, Kan., where, in the course of an address for Mr. Hughes, the colonel remarked that "if Abraham Lincoln had kept us out of war, there would have been no free state of Kansas." All that seems to be lacking in Colonel Roosevelt's program for Mr. Hughes is the formal declaration of hostilities, and with Colonel Roosevelt behind pushing a bit a little formality like that shouldn't be a difficult matter if he gets the chance.

Locked up at Indianapolis after having purchased an auto, clothing and jewels to the value of about $1,000 by means of forged checks before they were caught, that Terre Haute woman and that Sellersburg man will doubtless now have plenty of time to determine whether the splurge in wealth, brilliant as it was while it lasted, was really worth while, after all.

Candidate Benson has wired Candidate Hughes to inquire why he doesn't criticize President Wilson more. And all the while Candidate Hughes is doing the very best he can with the mighty slender ground-work for doing it.

ROUGH WARNING FOR MOTORISTS.

(South Bend News-Times.)

The Los Angeles board of public works is experimenting with a new kind of railroad signal, in an effort to protect motorists from accidents at crossings. On the Mission road from Los Angeles to Pasadena, where the smooth surface is an almost irresistible temptation to "scorching," and where there have been many mishaps, the board is carefully inserting obstacles in the highway fifty feet each side of the railroad tracks. There are various kinds of obstruction—ridges across the road, channels and pits. The idea is that any motorist who fails to see or hear the regular crossing signals will have such a warning jolted into him by the "thank-you-ma'am" in the road that he will perform slow up and avoid danger.

It's rough treatment, especially for the tourist who has had no means of knowing about the obstruction. It may prove as serious as the pit it is meant to ward off. But the plan seems to have valuable possibilities in it.

SOLDIER'S DUTY.

(Indiana Daily Times.)

Gov. Phillips of Wisconsin, asks that the national guardsmen from that state now on the border shall be mustered out immediately unless their services are needed in an emergency. This demand by a state on the commander in chief of the United States military forces forcibly suggests a possible weakness in the system by which we create and maintain forty-eight little armies for the service of a nation. It might be suggested to the governor of Wisconsin that it is the plain and simple duty of the soldier to obey the orders of his superior and to wait for orders and instructions to emanate from those who are responsible. The governor of a state is commander of the national guard of that state. When the guardsmen of the state go under the command of the president of the United States, then it is up to the subordinate to wait for marching orders and to refrain from asking for orders. If a colonel in charge of a regiment of guardsmen in the field were to make a demand on Gen. Funston for the master out of his men, that colonel probably would find himself very speedily in the presence of a more or less grim and court-martial, with trouble in immediate prospect.

HOW EDISON INVENTED THE FIRST INCANDESCENT LAMP.

On Birthday of Incandescent Lighting Thomas A. Edison Tells How He Produced First Lamp.

"The first thing to do was to find out what the best material to use for a light producer," began Mr. Edison. "I soon made up my mind that of all the materials I could obtain in 1877 carbon was the most promising. Paper, jute, palm fiber, grasses, bismuth, paper coated with tar and rolled into thin sticks, charcoal, hemp—everything, in a word, was tried. Finally on October 21, 1879, I carbonized a piece of cotton sewing thread bent into a loop and sealed it in a glass globe from which the air had been pumped out. When the current was turned on, that black thread glowed for forty hours. That was really the first incandescent electric lamp. It couldn't be put on the market, of course, but it showed unmistakably that electricity could be used for incandescent lighting. I spent about $10,000 in bringing the investigation up to that point, and yet in a way, this was only the beginning. A little later we placed several hundred paper filament lamps on the market. So I began a hunt for the right kind of carbon. Men went out all over the world to collect grasses and fibers that looked promising. They brought back several hundred, and out of the lot I selected a certain kind of bamboo that grows in Japan. We made filaments out of that for nine years."

In these few words Mr. Edison tells the story of the first electric lamp. The twenty-first day of October, now known as "Edison Day," is the birthday of the electric incandescent lamp.

"No invention is perfect, and the incandescent lamp is not an exception," continued Mr. Edison. "Light without heat is the ideal, and that is still far off. The electric incandescent lamp of today has the cheapest form of filament that has ever been produced, but some day it will be cheaper and colder than it is. There is a good deal of truth in the saying that the firefly is the ideal. It is, so far as coldness goes. But its color is against it. You couldn't use a thousand-candle firefly to match colors, and you wouldn't want the insect to light up a street, because his light would be hideous greenish yellow. But still we will get reasonably near the firefly for efficiency without copying his disagreeable color. The task needs much investigation, much research of the kind we did in 1879. The research that we began then is still going on, and it always will go on. Somehow, each new discovery opens up the way to another."

"An industry is indispensable nowadays to produce an invention," he remarked. "The General Electric company has one of the largest in the world in which to develop new ideas or to improve old processes. They hire inventors now like bookkeepers. That is because the whole character of manufacturing has changed. Companies that handle a lake full of dyes at once and convert whole train loads of ore into iron and steel at a single operation have problems to consider that were not worth while bothering about fifty years ago. It pays now to save a few cents in handling a ton of material, and therefore it pays to invent a way of saving those few cents."

"You can improve, but you can't change human nature," said Edison. "It is hard, it always will be hard, to drive a new idea into the world's head. Think what it means," he continued, "to hire a new invention. Even a little improvement like sucking dirt out of a carpet with a vacuum cleaner means a revolution in housecleaning. No one likes revolution, even though they are for the best. The more important the invention, the bigger is the revolution, which means the harder your struggle to overcome prejudice. It takes a Niagara of advertising to make a man play the piano acceptably with pneumatic mechanism and a unedged roll of paper instead of a mangled roll of paper. You can imagine how hard it was to get whole cities illuminated with the electric incandescent lamp. Perhaps business men will invent some quick way of making the world see the point of a new invention. It seems to be quite beyond the powers of an ordinary inventor."

MISS TARBELL DRAWS A STRIKING PARALLEL

Wilson More Like Lincoln Than Any Other Man of Our Day, She Says.

(By Milton M. Bronner.)
New York, Oct. 18.—"The more I study Woodrow Wilson, the more I see the parallel between him and Lincoln. Wilson makes me think of Lincoln in his intense Americanism, in his entire devotion to the well-being of the average man of our country and not to any particular favored class."

Thus Miss Ida M. Tarbell began, in her study in the quiet Gramercy Park section, when I asked her whether there really was a parallel between Lincoln and Wilson. "Hardly anyone could give a more authoritative and unprejudiced answer than she. The life of Lincoln long has been one of her deepest studies. To Lincoln she has devoted some of her best and most famous books. "Most presidents," said Miss Tarbell, "no matter how peaceful their times, have serious problems, and most of them are inclined to think that no president since Lincoln has had such troubles. In the case of Wilson the parallel has more to rest on. "Both men had a pretty clear issue that they kept to the front. With Lincoln the main idea was the preservation of the union. Wilson is seeking to keep the peace, with honor. "Wilson makes up his mind what his object is; he sticks to it, and you can't get him away. That was Lincoln. He stuck to his object like a dog to a bone. "Wilson, like Lincoln, doesn't make up his mind quickly, or without deep thought. A decision with him is not a matter of impulse. Wilson takes his time. He gets all the facts. He weighs them, draws his conclusion and then hangs on that. And while he does this, his mind is open to new facts. "He has no pride of opinion. His enemies accuse him of shifting his position. An intelligent, honest man, when in a position where the facts shift, must change his position. Otherwise he would be dogmatic. "Lincoln, too, used to be accused of shifting his position, but he replied that whenever he was convinced his view was wrong, he would change. It was the true view he was after. "I think there have been few occasions in our history in which intelligence called more urgently to a man to shift his position than in Wilson's case. And this was so because for a long time every morning he was confronted by a new set of facts in a new set of circumstances. "Lincoln used to say before the war that the dispute about slavery should be settled by ballots and not bullets, so Wilson's position is that in a civilized world reasonable processes and not bullets should settle disputes. "Wilson, amid a world in arms, has been trying to preserve the little body of international law that the world had worked out. He has prevented the world from stepping back entirely from the highest point it had reached. "Lincoln felt that the world had reached a certain point as to slavery. If slavery sprang in this country, he felt, the world would be going backward in its attitude toward human beings and the democratic ideal. If the small body of international law was destroyed, Wilson felt that the world would be going back in a similar manner. "And there is another parallel, too. There was always in the north a great variety of opinion against Lincoln during the war. There were radically opposed interests united in only one thing—bitter hostility to Lincoln. "He was opposed by the rabid abolitionists because he did not move fast enough in freeing the slaves, and there were the copperheads who were against him for just the opposite reason. "At present, too, there are radically opposed interests united in only one thing—bitter hostility to Wilson. "There are the rabid pro-Allies, who think he should have made war on Germany, and the rabid pro-Germans, who think he was too severe with Germany. "Lincoln in his own party had men who were opposed to him. Thus Greeley, while abhorring slavery, so detested the idea of men killing each other that he was for peace at any price. "So, in our day, there are pacifists who oppose Wilson because, while trying to keep the country at peace, he is preparing it against aggression. They see only their ideals. They refuse to recognize the state of the world in which we live. "Just as petty abuse and gossip followed Lincoln, so similar abuse follows Wilson. That seems to be true in times of great national stress. People become so partisan that they cannot relieve their feelings unless they invent scandals and untruths. In their bitterness any peg will do on which to hang something as ugly as it is false. "Wilson's Americanism is of the kind that Lincoln's was. All his legislation has been in the interest of the common man."

DR. AND MRS. E. W. MILLER AND BRIDAL PARTY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sander, of 331 West Jefferson street, was the scene of an unusually pretty home wedding on Thursday evening. The bride, Miss Estella Charlotte Sander, an only daughter, and the groom, Dr. Emory W. Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Miller, of Plymouth, were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and Rev. J. R. Graebner, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church, officiated at the solemn ceremony. The marriage service took place by candle light, dozens and dozens of cathedral candles casting their soft light over the scene. The wedding party occupied a space between two rooms with a wide kneeling bench in front and a banking of palms and the standards of candles on either side. Smiles entwined the electric lights and doorways and white roses, ferns and other greens trimmed the rooms. The selection of the wedding day was because of its being the twenty-ninth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents. The wedding music was furnished by Mr. Claire Edwards, pianist, and Miss Luella Feiertag sang "O

Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Wanda Walbaum, as maid of honor, and by Miss Mabel Geiseking as bridesmaid, and little Louise Simminger as ring bearer and flower girl. The bride and groom exchanged wedding rings in the marriage service. Attending the groom were his brother, Mr. Wendell Miller, and Mr. Edward Roehrs. After the bride and groom had received the congratulations of their relatives an elegant wedding dinner was served. For her marriage the bride wore a beautiful evening gown of silk net hung over satin, made with court train and trimmed with simple, but charming effect with pearls and real point lace that formed the front of the bodice. The gown was exceedingly becoming to the fair beauty of the bride, whose veil of tulle further held with strands of pearls, enhanced her charming appearance. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and swansonia, with a cluster of sweet-hybrid roses on side to give a bit of the bride's favorite color, pink. The bridesmaids were in pink and blue coloring. Miss Geiseking wore a blue taffeta with a touch of pink and Miss Walburn was in a pink crepe lung over silk, with a bouquet of pink flowers, while Miss Geiseking's yellow roses that she carried made a pretty contrasting bit of color. The little flower girl was as dainty as a bit of fine china with her pink frock, shoes, ribbons and basket of pink flowers. Following the dinner a reception to friends was held, over one hundred being invited from 10 to 11 o'clock. On Friday the bride and groom went to Plymouth to visit Dr. Miller's parents for a few days, before going to Auburn, where Dr. Miller is located in the practice of his profession, that of a chiropractor. Dr. Miller and his bride will go to housekeeping in rooms over the Star office. Dr. Miller is one of Auburn's best young men and he has many friends in that city. The bride is a cultured young woman, very musical and very intelligent, and her many friends regret her leaving the city to reside. For traveling the bride wore a tailored suit of burgundy red cloth with a large violet hat of the same shade that is trimmed with an aigrette and a touch of ermine fur.

Foundations for the organization of electrical workers of Fort Wayne was laid at a meeting held Thursday evening in Harmony hall. Arthur Bennett, of New York city, general organizer of the International Association of Electrical Workers, spoke to the 350 men who were in attendance.

On account of the numerous political gatherings in the city the meeting closed early in the evening and only preliminary steps were taken towards organization. However, many made out their applications. Another meeting will be held next week at which time permanent organization will be made.

Many officials of other labor organizations of the city were also present and spoke a few minutes to the large gathering. It is only a question of a few weeks until the electrical workers will have a union, say officials.

EARLHAM MAY LOSE IN KERLIN ESTATE CASE

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Trustees of Earlham college and of Goshen cemetery, near here, beneficiaries under the will of Dr. Kerlin, one of Chicago's best known physicians, learned yesterday that while the physician was making provisions in his will to give away an estate estimated at more than $100,000, he was in danger of being ejected from the magnificent home he had built on Sheridan road, Chicago, as a memorial to his wife. Dr. Kerlin died at Chicago last Wednesday and was buried here Monday. After his wife's death Dr. Kerlin found his home lonely, so he asked Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ward, of Chicago, to share the house with him, giving them a warranty deed for the property in return for their companionship. But differences arose and when Kerlin asked for the return of the deed, Ward refused to hand back the instrument. Dr. Kerlin then took legal steps to obtain possession of his property. Ward countered with ejectment proceedings against Kerlin. The case was ready for trial when Kerlin died. Part of the fortune is to be used for the construction of a chapel in Goshen cemetery and a substantial sum has been set aside for the education of young men and women at Earlham college.

BIDDIE BYE TELLS HOW TO MAKE OVER DRESS OF SILK AND SERGE.

BY BIDDIE BYE.

Owing to Dame Fashion's recent lightning change from 'scant' to full skirts, many an economically inclined woman was obliged to put aside a dress which had seen little service.

It is time to take these things from their nails and study out ways of putting two dresses into one.

The dress illustrated today is made of silk and serge, both materials having seen service. The design is so simple any woman who can follow a pattern and run a sewing machine can put it together.

Cleaning Silk.

The silk was very much soiled. To clean, it was laid flat on a marble-topped table and sponge with a mixture of soap suds and alcohol. It was ironed under paper on the wrong side when almost dry. A paste of benzine and magnesia will take a bad grease stain from silk.

(CAUTION: Benzine, gasoline and ether must be handled cautiously, and like alcohol, they must be kept away from flame and fire.)

Cleaning Serge.

Common blue serge, if of good quality and well dyed, can be washed and ironed.

Soap bark makes the best cleansing solution for woollen goods. Put five cents' worth of soap bark in three quarts of water. After it has stood two or three hours, strain and add to the water for washing the serge.

The secret of success in handling woolen is to use water of the same temperature both for washing and rinsing and to dry the material in the same degree of heat.

["Remodeling millinery" is the subject of Biddy Bye's next article.]

NEW CHAMPION OF WESTERN RANGELAND—50-YEAR-OLD INDIAN WINS WORLD'S BRONCO BUSTING TITLE.

Pendleton, Ore., Oct. 20.—A full blooded Nez Perce Indian past fifty years old is the new champion bronco buster of the world. In competition with over a hundred of the best bucking horse riders the western rangeland has produced, Jackson Sundown of Coldspring, Idaho, nephew of the famous Chief Joseph, won the championship at Pendleton's seventh annual roundup.

Thirty thousand people saw him establish his claim as champion and Indian and few white men ever received the ovation given him as he galloped around the track in the big stadium after announcement of the judges' decision. It was the most popular verdict ever made at the round-up.

Sundown has ridden at five round-ups and has qualified for the finals in three. Last year he was given third money.

He is a splendid type of the native American, so ideal in fact that A. Phimister Proctor, famous New York sculptor, has been camped on his land for the past two months and has been using him as a model for a piece he is doing of an Indian pursuing a buffalo.

Other champions of wild west sports were made at the round-up, too. George Wier of Monument, N. M., retained the title he won a year ago in the steer roping contest by making the best total time in roping, busting and hog-tying three steers. Ed. McCarty of Cheyenne, winner in 1912, won second, and Chester Byers of Mulhall, Okla., third.

Katie Wilkes of Miles City, Mont., won the title of champion cowgirl broncho buster. Bertha Blanchett of Phoenix, Ariz., holder of the title for several years, was unable to defend it because of injuries.

CAPTAIN BYROADE IS QUEST CLUB SPEAKER

Points Out Advantages to Be Gained in Early Military Training.

There is more in military training than the elementary drills, Capt. Byroade, commandant military training, Concordia college, told members of the Quest club Friday noon at luncheon at the Commercial club. The speaker said military training meant self-confidence and that scholastic records indicated the learning was on a ten per cent. higher basis in schools where there was military training.

W. H. Scheiman, president of the club, presided. New members were announced as follows: Don Mungen, Wildwood Builders' company; C. C. Miller, Wayne Paper Goods company; J. J. Kline, Fort Wayne Electric works; E. A. Larimer, Protective Electric works; William Rohan, Wolf & Dressner, and W. G. Goll, Fort Wayne Electric works.

The Quest club will lend its support heartily through the individual members to the convention hall project. H. W. Fee, secretary of the club, will furnish the club a roster of the general committee working out the convention hall project. The plan to have a special committee from the club urging the voters the necessity of casting their ballot on the proposition was abandoned on the theory that the committee now working out the publicity campaign for the election was most capable and in a position to place the activities of the Quest club members in the places where they were most needed.

E. W. Puckett, chairman of the evening program committee, announced that C. A. Brownell, of the Ford Motor Car company, Detroit, would speak Nov. 10 from the subject, "The Eight-Hour Law as Seen from the Standpoint of the Production Manager of the Ford Motor Car Company." E. W. Price, of the National Candy company, will follow Mr. Brownell in an address the first week in December.

"Obedience is an absolute requirement of persons undergoing military training. This quality is insisted upon to the most minute degree.

"There is another quality of great service to the employer which is an integral part of military training. This is the ability to work with other men. A man who is constantly out of tune with his fellow men is hardly a profitable employee.

Nations Will Benefit.

"As nations are really groups of individuals they must benefit or suffer from the same causes as those individuals. History teaches us that this is true. A nation is strong when the individuals of that group are at their best mentally, morally and physically. The nation remains strong just so long as this condition of strength remains in its individual members. It decays with its members and will become the prey of stronger nations as soon as they learn it is safe for them to exploit the weakening. The Roman empire and the Spanish empire are both examples of this truth.

"Hence strong individuals bringing strength to the nation also are the determining factor in perpetuating the group of which they are members.

An Abnormal Situation.

"War is an abnormal situation. It is only through the arts of peace that a nation is built up, but to preserve this peace, armies are as necessary to nations as strength of character and courage to protect them from oppression at the hands of aggressive neighbors. A good army commands respect and insures fair treatment for the nation possessing it, and fair treatment is about all we have a right to ask.

"I have said a real army prevents exploitation and this is true. No nation is going to trample upon our rights when she knows she is inviting certain disaster upon herself.

"Will we ever have a war, will not the present conflagration bring eternal peace? I do not pretend to answer these questions with finality. I hope we are never called upon to defend ourselves from an avaricious neighbor and I also hope we may see eternal peace established, but I doubt very much that either condition will obtain.

"We may have war because there are certain things for which there seems to be no other cure. When that time comes I hope this country will have made the proper use of its opportunities so that we may derive the benefits of the last great advantage of military training to the nation."

Captain Byroade's Address.

Captain Byroade spoke in part as follows:

"In speaking of military training, most people think only of the elementary drills they are accustomed to see. However, this is only a very small part of military training. Real training comprises a complete development of the man mentally, morally and physically. That this sort of training has certain advantages, I am going to try and prove to you today. I believe the advantages of this training applies to the individual, to the employer and to the nation.

"There can be no question that the individual receives a great mental stimulus. We find the average young man fairly active mentally, this activity increases constantly; but the greatest progress is shown by a feeling of equality. Before long they begin to do things without being told. This develops an initiative which proves a mind in active development. This quickening of the mind is reflected in all the man's activities.

"We know this to be true, for the school boy learns more rapidly, his grades are higher and he prepares his lesson with less effort. In schools where military departments have been established, the scholarship increases about 10 per cent.

"In order that no mistakes may be made, persons entering military training are given a thorough physical examination by a competent physician and his report is considered final. In his report, the surgeon calls attention to defects and recommends certain exercises. At Concordia college there are a few boys each year who are exempted from part of the training in the fall. Usually these youngsters are returned to full duty in January, because of the benefits they have received from their first four months of training. In fact, I can prove almost every claim I have made as to the advantages of military training to the individual by taking you out to the college at any time. I am told of the wonderful difference in the boys there now and the ones who attended the institution before the introduction of the military department.

Work at Concordia College.

"I do not believe you fully appreciate the work this college is doing right here in your own town. There are in attendance now about 275 young men between the ages of 14 and 20 years. These have been there since the first week of September without any of them being sent to the college hospital. Last January I inaugurated daily marches in all kinds of weather. These trips covered a distance of from four to six miles. We continued these exercises during January and February without a case of sickness severe enough to cause a boy to lose a meal in the dining room. These boys sleep all winter in unheated rooms. In fact, there is no heating apparatus in the bed rooms. They arise at 6 a. m. and must be in bed at 10 p. m. The younger boys somewhat earlier. Between these hours their whole time is ordered. This is not all work, but a play period is inserted at the close of the afternoon. This develops a systematic orderliness which must be attained as it does not seem to be inherent in the American youth.

Desire for Success.

"Every man wants to be a success. He looks around at his fellows who are successful, with his own future in mind. When he sees other men, with no more opportunity for going to the front, he looks closer to his own affairs. This military training brings him good health with physical strength. Besides this, it has brought him the power of concentration and weakened his ambitions. These qualities should be a great help to him in his battle to succeed.

"It seems to be that an individual who has become active mentally, clean morally, whose physical welfare has been well taken care of, must bring an increased general efficiency to bear upon any vocation his natural talents may lead him to undertake. Nor are the advantages of military training confined to the individual. I believe the employer gains a decided benefit from the effects of this training upon the people whom he employs.

"Discipline is the great lack in the American character. The boys of today do not receive the home training in this quality that you received. There are few boys who have definite duties to perform at home. Often the father is away all the day, thus the boy receives none of the sterner admonishments a man brings to those who are delinquent. The mother hardly has the capacity to take the father's place in this matter. The youngster follows his own inclinations and soon resents any interference with his own desires. Discipline must be acquired. It has been defined as obedience to legitimate authority not because the thing ordered is right but because it is ordered. 'His quality and loyalty go hand in hand and they are the paramount military qualities. No breach of discipline is overlooked, therefore the young man comes to his employer with discipline attained.

"Loyalty is an inherent quality. It is not acquired although it may be developed to a degree. Disloyalty may be guarded against. We have an axiom in the army which reads 'No man is fit to command until he is taught to obey and is loyal to his superiors.' It strikes me this same axiom must apply to the industrial side of life.

"A man who has attained discipline is prompt for he will obey orders as to time in the same manner in which he obeys other directions. Loyalty to his superiors, brings ungrudging service to the task assigned. This discipline and loyalty decreases the controversies that usually arise from the absence of these qualities among the employees.

Let us give movies credit for one thing. No longer can a fellow sigh that he's all dressed up and has no place to go

GRIM REAPER SUMMONS WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN

Edward Schneider of the Commercial Club Dies at Mother's Home.

Following a few months' illness, due to complication of diseases, Edward Schneider, aged twenty-nine years, manager of the cafe at the Commercial club, died Thursday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary M. Schneider, of the McKinzie flats. He took sick several months ago, but it was not known until a few days ago that his condition was critical.

Born and reared in Fort Wayne, Mr. Schneider had resided here his entire life and was very widely known. He was educated in the St. Paul's Catholic schools and was a member of the Cathedral congregation at the time of his death. In the capacity of the manager of the Commercial cafe, which position he had held for four years, his acquaintances were hundreds.

Surviving he leaves the widow, the mother, a brother, John C. Schneider, and a sister, Miss Marie C. both of this city. The deceased was one of the most active members of both the Elks and Moose lodges.

One sister, Mrs. Caroline Zollinger, and three brothers, Jacob, Fred and Daniel Gable, also survive her. Mrs. Grotrian was a member of St. John's Lutheran church at Hoagland.

CORONER IS WITNESS BEFORE GRAND JURY

Coroner J. E. McArdle was a witness before grand jury Friday, which gave rise to the report that the jurors had taken up an investigation of the death of Ralph Stull, a boy living on Packard avenue who died from injuries received when struck by the automobile belonging to Joseph Grancy, of East Wayne street. Grancy refused to testify at the coroner's inquest, this action, it is understood, being taken upon advice of his attorney.

Further investigation was made Friday of the charges against Sheriff A. C. Gladioux. The state accountants, it was said, might be recalled in the case. It is believed that the grand jury is nearing the end of its deliberations. An early adjournment is predicted.

FORETASTE OF WINTER ALL OVER MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, Oct. 20.—A foretaste of winter was given mid-western states from the Canadian border to Texas today. The coldest spot on the domestic map was at Devil's Lake, N. D., where the mercury registered six degrees. Minnesota, in Manitoba, was two degrees colder.

Snow blanketed northern Minnesota. It fell in Indian, Illinois and Iowa and was predicted for Chicago by night. Reports from Ottumwa, Iowa, told of a sharp drop of thirty-three degrees in temperature. The entire southwest also was in the grip of last night's storm wave, temperatures almost everywhere throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and northern Texas setting new records for this early in October, according to the weather bureau reports here. Freezes are predicted for Missouri.

PURDUE OFF TO IOWA CITY.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—The Purdue football team departed for Iowa City, Iowa, today to give battle to the Hawkeyes tomorrow. Coach O'Donnell said his men were in fair condition. The team will arrive at Iowa City tonight. It is likely that the regular line-up will be used with the exception of the back field change made necessary by the injury of Allen, the punter, who probably will not be able to play. Purdue's chances of victory are considered good.

TEMPERATURE TO DROP VERY LOW IS FORECAST

Thirty-Eight Hours of Rain is Followed by Cold Wave.

Thirty-eight hours of rainfall in Fort Wayne was followed by a cold wave which promises to bring some low thermometer reading Saturday morning. The prediction is that the temperature will go as low as 24 at 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

With a wind blowing which at times reached a velocity of thirty-five and forty miles an hour, the temperature kept dropping the entire day. From 7 o'clock to 8 o'clock the temperature fell five degrees and the reading at every hour afterward showed a decline in the mercury.

For once the war can not be blamed for this existing condition. This time the hurricane which terrified the south a few days ago must take the greater part of the blame.

Reports from the various government stations in the western states bear out the fact that a heavy frost was experienced throughout the country from the Mississippi river to the western coast states and from the Canadian line down as far as the panhandle of Texas. In some of the cities blizzards of snow were seen while several of the stations reported a heavy snowfall.

Earliest Snow on Record.

The snow flurries of Friday afternoon were the earliest of any on the records kept at the government weather station. Throughout the morning a flake fell now and then, but in the afternoon at 2 o'clock it was snowing quite heavily and had to be counted more than a trace. The earliest snow heretofore fell on October 21, 1913, so that the snow today beat the record by one day.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Joint Commitee of A. C. W. Hold Meeting at First Evangelical Church.

The joint committee of the Associated Christian Workers, meeting for the current month, was held at the First Evangelical church, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There was a fine attendance on hand and members from a large number of societies were present. Even though the rain was against them the young people were glad to attend and lay plans for the remainder of the year.

Preparations for the A. C. W. Halloween party were completed and it was found that the societies were responding in fine shape. All societies north of the Pennsylvania railroad are to meet at the Congregational church, and those south of the railroad at the First Evangelical church, Tuesday evening, October 31, at 8 o'clock. They will then march to the Simpson Methodist church. There will be a fine program at the event, contests, games and a glorious time for all. Come with your society, masked, and prepared. Bring a friend and have a fine time.

Wife No. 1 Springs Sensation in Home at Wabash.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 20.—When Mrs. Joseph Miller, No. 1, came from Marion, Ind., to visit her husband, she was greeted at the Miller door by Mrs. Miller, No. 2. There were threats of bigamy proceedings and a great deal of excitement. Yesterday Mr. Miller filed suit against Mrs. Miller No. 1, whom he married six years ago in Marion. He sued out in the complaint that he believed until Monday, the day of the meeting, that she obtained a decree of divorce two years ago.

SAY ALLIES FEAR U-BOATS.

Evidence of Fact Plainly Seen by German Newspapers.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—"That the entente is fearful of the effect of German submarine operations is regarded by the German press as clearly proved by the continuous agitation on the part of the entente press in an effort to induce the taking of measures by the United States against German submarine warfare near American waters," says an Overseas News Agency announcement today.

STRIKERS GO BACK TO WORK.

Normal Conditions Resumed at Bayonne Standard Oil Plants.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Standard Oil and other plants affected by the strike which was attended by rioting and the loss of three lives resumed their accustomed activity today, when all except a few of the 12,000 men who were idle returned to their places.

NEW STORE MANAGER.

Arthur Harrod, a well known Fort Wayne young man, formerly manager of Trivers clothes shop at Lansing, Mich., has been appointed local manager of the new Trivers Fort Wayne store. Mr. Harrod has had a wide experience in the clothing business. He arrived in the city Friday to take charge of the local store.

HEAVY, HEAVY, HANGS O'ER THY HEAD!

"NEWSBOYS TREAT IS GREAT THING"—BOHN

President of Rotary Club Thinks Movement of Import Has Been Started.

"I feel that the biggest thing the Fort Wayne Rotary club has done during my administration as president is the inauguration of the plan of entertaining the newsboys of Fort Wayne with a view of starting a movement, the finish of which is unlimited in its possibilities," said Frank E. Bohn, president of the Rotary club, Friday.

"With an organization such as ours we hope to be able to make a good citizen out of practically every youngster who comes in for his share of the plan. Possibly I may be more sanguine in my expectations than some. However, I see no reason why this thing should not extend to other Rotary clubs and eventually become a national movement fostered by the International Association of Rotary clubs.

Receiving His Foundation.

"If one stops to consider for a moment, he realizes that the young boy selling papers on the street is receiving the very foundation for a business career. By virtue of the experience of his work, he is unknowingly learning the very essence of salesmanship, to what extent depending to a large degree upon the encouragement he may get at home or from his associates, or perchance from some older person concerned enough in him to show an interest in his welfare. The last instance is rare and the first two are not as frequent as they should be. Realizing, therefore, these conditions, appreciating the fact that the newsboys in the face of their business training are confronted with evil on every side, understanding that in a good many cases on account of a large family and because the parents have more than they can do to provide bread and butter for the children, the youngster does not get the attention, encouragement and training that the boy in a family of better circumstances; realizing, as I say, all these things, we feel that there is a field here for us that is unlimited in its possibilities.

TRY OUT PLAN.

"We are going to try out the plan thoroughly. I have suggested to the committee on charity and special work that if they combine practically all their time and effort to this one thing they will have done more for the community, come nearer accomplishing something really worth while and at the same time will have made better and bigger men out of all of the Fort Wayne Rotarians than any other thing they may undertake.

"So, as I say, the meeting of October 30 is just a start. Beginning that night each Rotarian becomes a 'Big Brother' of one of Fort Wayne's newsboys until that man reaches manhood."

SPEAK AT KENDALLVILLE.

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Congressman Cyrus Cline and Harry Hilgemann were speakers at an enthusiastic meeting held here last evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather more than four hundred were in attendance. Theodore Redmond presided, Congressman Cline and Mr. Hilgemann speak at Wawaka this evening.

FOR BENEFIT OF CHILDREN.

At the request of the Fort Wayne Mothers' club, the management of the Majestic theater has agreed to admit all children at the matinee performance of "Ramona," Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock for 10 cents. "Ramona" is particularly appealing and helpful to children. Parents will be charged 25 cents.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CHIEFS IN PANIC

Now Admit There is Danger of That State Going for Wilson.

Headquarters, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—The Chicago Tribune (republican) today says: "There is danger of Wilson carrying Ohio." The story in part sent by Arthur Sears Henning, Washington correspondent, under a Columbus, O., date, follows:

"That there is danger of Wilson carrying Ohio was admitted by republican leaders here for the first time tonight. Alarmed by the situation the republican managers sent R. K. Hynicka, Ohio national committeeman, to Columbus today to examine conditions and report at once what steps are necessary to hold the state in line for Hughes.

"We have a fight on our hands and we know it," admitted Hynicka in a telegram sent tonight to Charles B. Warren, republican national committeeman for Michigan.

"It is only within the last few days that the republican managers have waked up to the progress made by the democrats in rounding up votes for Wilson in this state. Peace, prosperity and the Adamson law raising the wages of interstate train operating employees are the three subjects on which the democrats have been pounding away with conspicuous success particularly in the industrial centers.

"National Committeeman Hynicka is going to stay on the job here till election day directing a campaign of education designed to convince the voters that Wilson is not responsible for keeping the country out of war with Germany. In addition, the president stands to gain tremendous support from other branches of organized labor, from workmen who hitherto voted either the republican or socialist ticket."

DEUTSCHLAND'S NEW SAILING CANCELLED

London, Oct. 20.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says that a statement has been received from Bremen which confirms the report that the Ocean Navigation company has received no news from the commercial submarine Bremen and that she is regarded as lost.

Great anxiety prevails among the families of the crew, virtually all of whom reside in Bremen, and it is expected difficulty will be experienced in obtaining crews for other commercial submarines which may undertake trans-Atlantic voyages.

According to this information the sailing of the Deutschland on another voyage across the Atlantic has been cancelled.

Lee J. Ninde Enthusiastic Over Results of City Planning Trip.

Realty boards were started on their organization in Michigan City, Hammond and New Albany as the result of the city planning tour of the Indiana Real Estate association, which closed Wednesday with a meeting at Marion. Lee J. Ninde, president of the association, speaking Friday of the result, said the new realty boards in the three cities, enthusiasm for which was aroused by the tour, will greatly aid in the effort to get a city planning commission bill at the next session of the legislature.

The tour of the realty men covered 1,000 miles and fifteen cities were visited. At Anderson Mr. Ninde said the interest was excellent. He expects the city planning measure to have almost united support of the realty men of the state by the time the legislature convenes.

BUILD CHARACTER; AID CHRISTIANITY

Its Importance is Urged by Bishop Lawrence in Address.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—Development of individual character means the development of Christianity, Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts, told delegates to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today. "A friend of mine called football the most spiritual game because it develops discipline, self-restraint and character," he said, "and all of these make for religion."

Bishop Lawrence urged modernization of Sunday schools. "We can accomplish nothing by having our children step from modern secular schools to fifteenth century Sunday schools," he said. Speaking of religion in the public schools, Bishop Lawrence said, "I hold a child can get religion in the home, on the public playground—anywhere he can get growth of character."

Rev. T. F. Gailor, bishop of Tennessee, asserted that education is the great responsibility of the church. Robert H. Gardiner, of Gardner, Mass., reviewed the work of the general board of religious education of the church.

HANLY NOW PUTS HIS TOTAL AT 1,500,000

Canton, O., Oct. 20.—Prohibition hope of more than one million dry votes nationally this year can be realized if dry harvesters will invade the promising democratic and republican field, J. Frank Hanly today told Ohio audiences that stood in the rain to hear him.

"If you people of Ohio will respond as will the people west of the Mississippi river," he said at Massillon, "we will poll 1,500,000 votes. And even with a million votes in clenched fists of American men and women we can march on congress and vote the submission of a federal amendment in November."

Irish Landrith, the vice presidential candidate declared that man who can vote and will not do it should permit his wife to vote.

DAMAGES GIVEN FOR AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harry E. Lampkin Defaults in Suit Brought by Denver C. Brown.

Damages of $750 were given Denver C. Brown in a suit for $1,000 against Harry E. Lampkin Friday morning in superior court by Judge Carl Yaple. The defendant defaulted at the hearing.

Brown alleged an auto driven by the defendant struck a car in which he was riding July 6 at the intersection of Washington and Lafayette streets. Brown alleged he was injured when his car overturned on him and that the car was damaged. Heaton & Heaton were attorneys for the plaintiff.

Cross Complain Filed.

In the case of the Farmers' Grain company against Wesley Swank for an accounting of his management of the affairs of the plaintiff company as manager during the years 1911-14, a cross complaint has been filed by Swank's attorneys, Townsend & Townsend. Swank says the plaintiff was indebted to him in sum of $120 when he quit work and that he was authorized to use his horse and buggy in the business of the plaintiff company and did use both, being entitled to $250 for furnishing both. All advances set out in the complaint have either been paid by grain or hay brought by persons to the elevator or paid for in cash at bank or note given for the same. Mr. Swank asks $380 on his cross complaint.

Because of a typographical error it was stated in Thursday's Sentinel that E. G. Moore had brought suit in superior court against Clark Fuls and L. F. Furdus for $4,000 on mechanic's lien. It should have read for $43.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE.

Cross Complaint Filed by Defendant in Meyer Divorce Case.

In the divorce suit of Hans Meyer against Dean Meyer a cross-complaint has been filed by the defendant through attorneys, Emrick & Emrick. Mrs. Meyer says her husband told her before they married that he was a single man and a jewelry salesman with a good job. Later, she says, she found that he had been married often and that she would have to support herself. She charges Meyer with telling her to go out and get money and she says she did on several occasions leave her home and solicited money of friends. On one occasion Meyer struck her, splitting her lip. It is further charged that Meyer was kept in jail in Chicago on a felonious charge and that he was saved from the penitentiary by her making restitution of the funds which he took from his employer. On another occasion she asserts her husband worked in her place and took money from sales of goods which did not belong to him. On the day he filed suit for divorce Mrs. Meyer says her husband took $10 from her.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED.

Clara Taylor has been granted a divorce from William E. Taylor in superior court. In the same court Gertrude McConnell was granted a divorce from Russell McConnell.

Henry G. Braun and Alexander E. Bolvin have filed suit in superior court against Max Groch and W. R. Holden to collect $150 on note.

FLOUR PRICES ARE HIGHEST IN 20 YEARS

Sales of Corn Meal Have Increased Threefold in Past Week.

Flour prices in Fort Wayne are the highest at the present time they have been in the past twenty years. This assertion is made by three of the local millers, who have been in the game long enough to remember back that far. There are many different grades of flour and consequently many different prices. The common price, however, is $9 a barrel.

Local dealers added twenty cents to the price Friday and state that the outlook is that the price will be advanced every week because the wheat market promises to keep going up. Just what the limit will be can not be predicted, but it is thought a safe bet the price in Fort Wayne will easily reach the present price in Chicago, which is now $10 a barrel.

A Fort Wayne miller stated that under Cleveland's administration the flour which is now retailing for nine dollars, sold for three dollars and a quarter. The local dealers state that although there was a shortage in the grain crop this year, it was not enough to warrant the present prices. They are of the opinion that some one has cornered the wheat market.

The demand for corn meal during the past week has tripled, say the local millers, and orders are coming in thick and fast and are more numerous than the orders for flour. Many farmers are selling their wheat and are taking corn meal in exchange. The price of corn meal, however, has advanced an advance of several hundred percent within the past month.

BIG MEETING HUGE SUCCESS

workers and many who could not obtain seats in the main auditorium or balconies. Large numbers could not get inside.

Reception is Held.

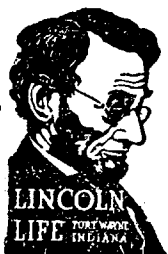

At 7 o'clock at the Hotel Anthony a reception was tendered the speakers. The Elk's band gave a concert in front of the hotel. The band later headed a parade from the hotel to the theater, the procession being composed of the members of the reception committee. While the march was in the rain the ardor of the occasion was not affected.

Preceding the speeches of the evening the DeKalb county Glee club, composed of Ves McKeehan, J. D. Brinkerhoff, Carl Weaver, all of Garrett, and Frank Baltz, of Auburn, sang. They offered campaign parodies which scored a big hit. The theater orchestra also played a program.

Judge Eggenman Presides.

Judge John W. Eggenman, of the circuit court, presided at the meeting. "It is gratifying to see this large audience which is here to listen to democratic doctrine and achievement," opened Senator Taggart. "When I see the cities in this country and those across the sea I cannot help but think what is in your hearts. And if we had not had Woodrow Wilson to steer us safely this country might have been in the same condition as war torn Europe. Looking from Maine to California I fail to see any cause for war."

"The people have confidence in President Wilson and will follow where he leads. Every phase in the democratic platform of 1912 has been carried out through the support of both branches of congress to the president. And no one has done more in the support of the president than Cyrus Cline, your congressman from the Twelfth district, and your next governor, John A. M. Aikin."

PACKARD MUSIC HOUSE

930 CALHOUN ST.

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

State Debt is Paid.

"The democratic administration has not only paid the state debt, but has laid away $2,640,000, despite an inheritance from the republicans of a debt of $2,540,000. The question of our country is the protection of American lives and honor, both of which are safe in Woodrow Wilson's hands. While I have not said much about my own candidacy, yet I would be glad to see you down at Washington any time, for I will be there. But it is more important that Woodrow Wilson be sent back to the presidency than any one man. Indiana is for Wilson and Marshall."

"No administration has been forced to meet such unforeseen difficulties in national and foreign affairs," declared Prof. Axson. "We have met the agricultural situation with the co-operation of the state and federal governments in the building of good roads and the Adamson eight-hour law was passed averting disaster. And the manner in which the party has kept its pledges is astonishing."

"The president has played an unselfish part in keeping us out of war. If the president had wanted to assure his election this time he would have declared war. The speaker then showed that if the president had declared war on Mexico the people would have been forced to rally around him because of their loyalty to the country. But by doing the opposite thing, Prof. Axson said the president showed the basis of his character."

The manner in which the president had turned his back on Wall street and the financial interests and the untiring industry with which Congressmen Cline had aided the national administration to the redemption of every promise made was praised by Senator Kern. He declared the country was now in an unexampled state of prosperity with good wages prevailing. "And if you know the president as I do he would have a majority of a half million at the polls on November 7," declared Senator Kern.

Strong Sentiment for War.

"There was a strong sentiment for war, the financial interests were backing it and the German-Americans of all people, should be glad of the policy of the president," asserted the speaker. Senator Kern said the Underwood tariff law gave a higher rate of tariff taxation than any other law. He spoke of the manner in which the income tax had placed assessments on large incomes and the unpopular Payne-Aldrich tariff law, which was repudiated in every state except Vermont and New York. The disaster that would have followed had the railway strike been declared causing loaded cars to stand on side tracks with supplies of milk, bread and other necessities and how it was averted by the passage of the Adamson law was emphatically commented on by the senator.

"Charles E. Hughes has not the generosity to concede any good thing the democratic party has done," declared Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo declared Mr. Hughes was indulging in carping criticism without saving what would have done. The election of Mr. Hughes, he said, would lead inevitably to the dominance of Theodore Roosevelt in our foreign affairs. Mr. McAdoo asserted the politicians had embarrassed the president on many occasions and that the president had stood out American above it all. Mr. McAdoo characterized President Wilson not as a republican or democratic president to the degree of partisan politics in a crisis, but an American president. The statement was greeted with great applause. Woodrow Wilson, he said, had spoken for the majesty, courage and respect of the country. "I am just as keen for war as anyone when the cause is righteous," declared Mr. McAdoo. If Mr. Hughes were elected, Mr. McAdoo said, the financial interests with properties in Mexico would bring so much pressure that war with Mexico might have to be declared.

Talks on Currency Law.

How the currency law had absolutely put a stop to the possibility of panics with the establishment of regional banks, had increased available credit, and helped make the United States a creditor nation, was discussed by the secretary of the treasury. He declared there was no indication that the country was enjoying war prosperity at the present time, nor that our prosperity was in danger when the war was over and the countries across the sea began to reorganize their institutions and industrial pursuits. The United States now has 32 per cent of the supply of the gold of the world, the speaker showed, and in another year this supply would be increased to one-half of the entire amount.

The monetary interests in New York are for a central bank, Mr. McAdoo asserted. They would not continue the currency act, in all probability, and Mr. Hughes was declared to be against the principle of the currency law despite its endorsement by many men of both parties of the country, high in the financial world. The speaker closed with an appeal that President Wilson be returned to power for another four years and showing the fatal effects of placing a new chief executive of the nation in office at a critical time with the prospect of many dark years ahead.

One of the features of the musical part of the program was a couple of vocal selections by Miss Sutherland, of Huntington, with Miss Roschbroich at the piano. Miss Sutherland's songs were timely parodies which made a decided hit.

"The Friars," says the communication accompanying the resolutions, "have occasion to use the convention hall for athletic events, as well as for entertainment purposes in which we attract many people from neighboring cities."

The Barbers' Endorse It.
Barbers' union, No. 14, has notified the citizens' convention hall committee of its unanimous vote on a resolution of endorsement of the convention hall plan. The resolutions are signed by John C. Verkmann, president, and W. A. Kelsey, secretary.

Merchants' Association.
In sending in its signed endorsement of the convention hall project, the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association gives this as the reason for its action: "The future growth of our city will be materially hampered unless this great project meets with success. It is very important that our city continue to grow, and it can do so only by continually keeping the name of Fort Wayne in the minds of the people of the United States. Nothing advertises a city as much as conventions and an adequate place in which to hold them."

The resolutions are signed by Robert Koerber, president, and Harry F. Kennerly, secretary.

FIGURES ON YEAR OF WAR.

London, Oct. 19.—(11:51 p. m.).—A Reuters dispatch from Petrograd says that the budget of 1917 submitted to the duma and council of the empire has been framed in view of the probability of the war lasting for the whole financial year. Revenue and expenditure balance at a total of 4,070,000,000 rubles, this being the first time the Russian budget has reached four billion. The excess expenditures over the revenue, amounting to 73,000,000 rubles, will be covered by credit operations. The receipts from the sale of intoxicating liquors, which in 1913 were approximately 100,000,000 rubles, now are estimated at only 50,000,000 rubles.

As soon as President Wilson arrived at the station here this morning, Mr. Bryan entered the executive's private car and the two men shook hands. The men spoke together only for a moment or two and left the cars. The appearance of Mr. Bryan caused a five minutes delay in an automobile tour of Pittsburgh arranged for the president.

When the president and Mr. Bryan met, each smiled broadly as they shook hands. Mr. Bryan said that he would ride in the president's train for a short distance in order to get into Mr. Bailey's congressional district. Before coming to Pittsburgh the president shook hands with a large crowd at Alliance, Ohio. Several other brief stops between here and Harrisburg were on the schedule during the day.

During the automobile ride in this city the president was greeted at several places by school children waving American flags. A reception committee composed of men of different parties arranged to shake hands with him on his return from the ride.

STUDYING TRACK MAINTENANCE

Pennsylvania Section Foremen Making Trip Over Western Division.

A new educational feature for the benefit of section foremen was inaugurated today by Supt. Otto Schroll and Division Engineer Guy Scott, of the Pennsylvania. It is an inspection trip over the tracks of the Western division of the road in which all of the section foremen participate and are given opportunity to exchange notes and to thoroughly study the work of keeping up the road bed and tracks to the high standard required by the company. It will be remembered that the two road supervisors, districts of the Pennsylvania immediately west of Fort Wayne, were awarded the first and second prizes for the best track of all of the lines west of Pittsburgh by General Manager McKee and party when they made an inspection of the property two weeks ago. Today all of the section foremen, about sixty in number, are making an inspection of this part of the Western division, under the direction of Supt. Otto Schroll, Division Engineer Guy Scott and Assistant Division Engineer H. T. Simpson. THREE LARGE JOBS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

Nickel Plate is Pushing Work at Osage and Coombs Streets

Three important improvement jobs in the city of Fort Wayne were started by the Nickel Plate railroad Friday. They are the raising of the Railroad tracks over Coombs street, double tracking the road from the Nickel Plate yards, for two miles, to Glasgow avenue and completing the Osage street subway.

J. G. Carland, who is superintending the work contracted by the Walsh Construction company, of Davenport, Ia., has sent out a call for workmen. All the laborers and teams that can be had will be used. The work is to move as rapidly as possible.

Twenty thousand yards of dirt will be needed for lifting the Nickel Plate tracks over Coombs street. The earth is to come from a large pit, opened up Friday, a half mile east of New Haven. A spur has been run out into the field where cars will be loaded by two giant steam shovels.

Big twenty-five yard cars will be used to transfer the dirt. The cars will be emptied by an automatic process, controlled by the engineer. All the grading work is expected to be finished in six weeks. The time needed will be largely governed by the number of workmen available for completing the subway. The job will not be finished before spring.

Concrete pouring started at Osage street, Friday. It will require two months and a half to finish the mammoth task of building the long, heavy walls on either side of the tunnel way. Concrete will be poured on every day that the weather permits. The work will be finished in January, it is hoped.

Steel for the structural work at the long subway should be here soon, railroad officials say. The metal has been ordered for some time. Railroad officials are anxious to install the steel work as soon as possible as the pilings used temporarily at the subway is causing a false grade in the tracks which makes much trouble in switching.

Only the preliminary part of laying the double track through the heart of the city is started at this time. S. K. Blair, special agent of the Nickel Plate road, explained to members of the board of works, Friday. Completing of the double tracking will follow the establishing of the new grade over Coombs street.

W. F. Watterson, district superintendent of the Nickel Plate railroad, was also in the conference with members of the works board, Mayor Hosey and city Engineer Randall, when action of the railroad was explained, Friday morning.

APPROVE RESOLUTIONS.

Action is Taken at Regular Meeting of Board of Works.

No objections to assessment rolls or improvement resolutions were offered before the board of works, Thursday night, when action was taken on many minor matters.

Petition for opening an alley between Piqua avenue and Barr street, from its present terminus to Rudisill boulevard, was referred to the city engineer with instructions to prepare plans and specifications.

Assessment rolls for paving St. Joe boulevard and for construction of a four foot protection curb along the same, from McDougal street to State street; for paving Second street, from Harrison to Cass; for grading Meridian street, from Huffman to first alley south of Putnam, and for sidewalks on both sides of Monroe street, from Lewis to Madison, were approved by the board.

The board approved resolutions for the construction of sidewalks on the east side of Webster street, from Killick to Wildwood; for sidewalks on the west side of Arlington avenue, from Burnett street to Rudisill boulevard, and for the paving of Jackson street, from Jefferson to Will.

NO REMONSTRANCE.

Resolution For Land Purchase to Be Confirmed by Park Board Monday.

No remonstrance has been presented as yet to the plan of the park board to purchase a five acre addition to Weisser park. The park board expects to confirm the resolution for purchase of the ground at their meeting on Monday.

Four thousand property owners in the southeast park district of the city will be assessed to meet the purchase. Average assessment will be $3 per lot. Lots directly across from Weisser park will be assessed $26.

Park board members say they have found but little dissent to the purchase.

LOREE RAISES QUESTION.

New York, Oct. 20.—In a speech discussing the economic effect of the war before a luncheon of the Merchants association today, L. F. MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Pennsy Records Show They Could Be Avoided by Auto Drivers.

In the first eight months of the present year thirteen people lost their lives and 104 were injured at grade crossings on the Pennsylvania railroad system, under circumstances the very nature of which proved total disregard of caution and in many cases willful running of risks.

This is shown as the result of a special inquiry, which has just been completed, for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of recklessness on the part of the public at highway crossings over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad.

A large proportion of these accidents occurred to automobilists. The drivers of twenty-three motor cars smashed their machines into the sides of trains that were actually part way over the crossings. Four lives were lost in this way and fifty-one persons were injured.

Six motorcycles, two bicycles and four horse-drawn vehicles were similarly driven into the sides of trains, causing the death of two persons and injury of fourteen. One trolley car was run against a train at a crossing, but fortunately only a single person was hurt.

Six automobiles crashed into, or through, safety gates while they were down and nine people were hurt. Five motorcycles and two horse-drawn vehicles did likewise, causing injury to ten people.

Eight accidents occurred as a result of persons attempting to crawl over trains at crossings. Two people, risking their lives in this way, fell between cars and were killed. Six others were injured.

One man jumped off an automobile while in the middle of a crossing, stumbled in front of a train and was killed. Seventeen people dodged under or around the safety gates and were struck by approaching trains. Four of them were killed and thirteen were injured.

The Pennsylvania railroad is wiping out grade crossings as fast as available resources will permit. Since 1902 the expenditures for this purpose on the lines east of Pittsburgh alone—comprising less than half the mileage of the Pennsylvania system—have exceeded $40,000,000. Many grade crossings still remain. To remove them at once, or in the very near future, is impossible, as the necessary capital could not be obtained. Before such improvements can be made by a railroad, the money to pay for them must first be earned.

It is the belief of the management of the Pennsylvania railroad system that accidents at the grade crossings which have not yet been removed, are wholly avoidable and that none would occur at all if everyone, before going over the tracks, would first "Stop, Look and Listen."

FIVE WEEKS BEFORE ART SMITH COMES

Physicians Are Not Able to Remove Splints from Leg.

Art Smith's broken leg has not healed as rapidly as physicians had hoped. While improvement has been constant, the mending is very slow. It had been planned to remove the splints last week. Art Smith had expected to come to Fort Wayne next week.

Physicians removed the splints, Wednesday, but found the leg in delicate condition. They refused Smith use of it as yet. The leg was put back in splints again. Smith will be kept in the hospital for five weeks more.

Then he is coming to Fort Wayne. He wrote his mother, Mrs. J. H. Smith, on Thursday, expressing his disappointment in being delayed in reaching Fort Wayne.

"Feeling first-rate, but they won't let me out yet," he writes. "I'll be five weeks, they say. Meanwhile business calls in San Francisco. They think I should come there direct. But I am not going. I said I was going to Fort Wayne for a few days and I will fill my engagement."

ARTHUR A. REED and Walter C. C. Anweiler have passed examination at the Fort Wayne army recruiting station. With their enlistment there have been eleven men enlisted since Captain Ryan took charge of the Fort Wayne station.

Asks Pardon of Mother as Present on Her Birthday

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18.—Georgia's most famous prisoner, Mrs. Edna Perkins Godbee, serving a life sentence for double murder, may be pardoned soon as a result of the efforts of her daughter.

"Grant my mother a pardon as a birthday gift to me," pleads the daughter, Mrs. Charles B. Griner, 23, to the prison commission. "Mother's days are numbered. She has cancer of the heart. Release her and we will go back to Kansas City, where I'll keep her the rest of her days."

Ever since Mrs. Godbee was convicted of killing her divorced husband, Judge Walter S. Godbee and his second wife, in 1912, Mrs. Griner has worked for her mother's pardon.

Mrs. Griner says her mother was insane when she committed the double crime.

TRAGEDIES FOLLOW CANADIANS OVERSEA

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY.

London, England, Oct. 20.—The Canadian in England is a long, long way from "home."

Thousands of Canadian soldiers' wives have followed their husbands to the Old Country, some boats bringing nearly 1,000 of them. Scores of these wanderers find themselves stranded then tiny tragedies follow.

The dominion government gives a grant of $20 a month, and a soldier must assign his wife half his pay ($15 a month). But when the Ottawa paymaster has notice of a wife's departure for England it takes time to transfer the allowance. Hence a poor woman may find herself alone and penniless in a strange land.

Mary Smith, a girl wife, left Quebec to be near her husband in England. She reached London and promptly sought his address at Canadian headquarters. There officials soon discovered the soldier-husband had left for France two hours before his wife's arrival.

That was the first week of the "Big Push." Today the soldier is "Missing." Mortgages Furniture to Reach Husband.

Anna Jones of Montreal, mortgaged the furniture of her little flat to reach London and her wounded husband. Weary and weak with overstrain she found him in a Canadian hospital so feeble from his heavy hurt that he is about to be invalided out of the service. He, as a soldier honorably discharged, will be sent back to Canada; the government paying his fare. But even the open-handed dominion is not responsible for the passage money of his wandering wife.

Julia Deeming, mother of two soldier sons, gave up her work in Ottawa wishing to be near her boys. She took it for granted that a government allowance could be secured without difficulty. Both boys are in England, training for the artillery. BUT their mother finds she is not entitled to any official assistance since she was not dependent upon her sons before the war.

And, when the tiny tragedy has run its course there arises still other difficulties in getting home. Nor is lack of money the worst.

Passage Papers Refused to Wife.

During a dreary hour Magistrate Horderwick, at North London, had been dealing out police court justice when a tiny, little woman stepped to the witness stand. From her quills to boot vamps she was chic, sensible, tailor-made and utterly un-English.

"A passport case," droned the clerk of the court, "this lady asks permission to return to Canada."

"I sailed for England immediately I heard my husband was wounded," testified the applicant. "The report proved false. My husband is fighting in Flanders. Being a stranger here I wish to go home at once."

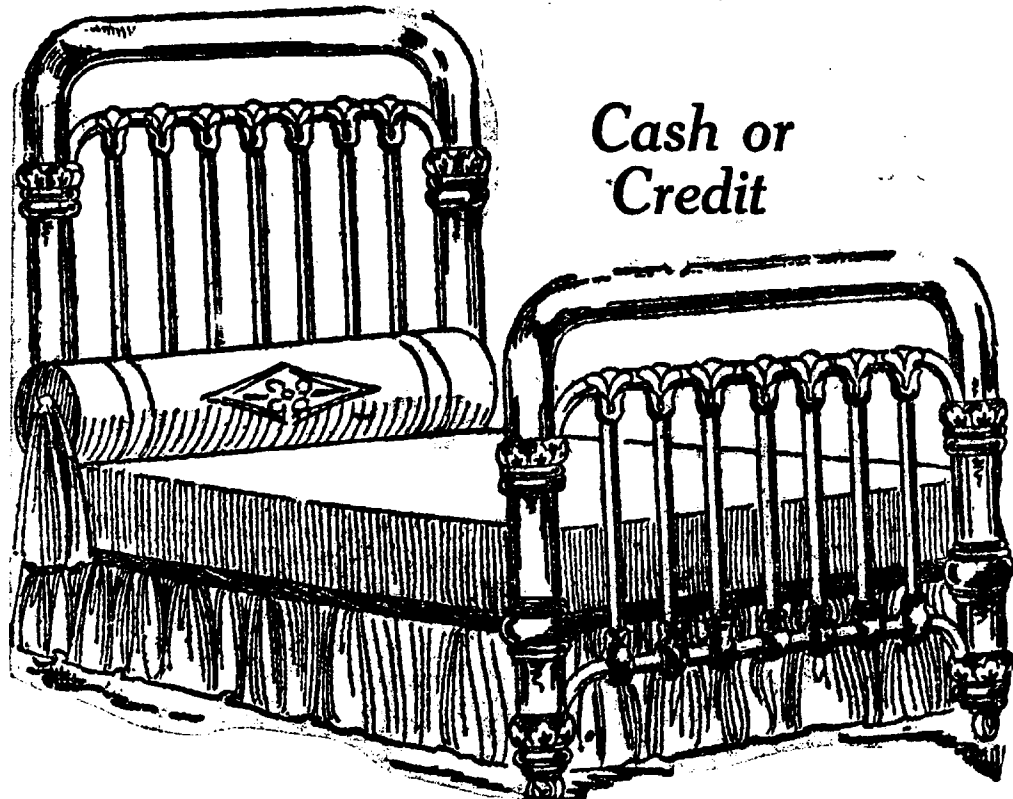

The magistrate frowned importantly. "Madam, I decline to sign documents for a stranger. You must get your friends to declare your identity."

"I have no friends on this side, sir."

The Furniture Behind The Advertisement

Some people claim what they never get. Some advertisers claim what they never give. There was a concern once that advertised as follows: "Forward $2.00 and we will send you a steel engraving of George Washington." THEY SENT A POSTAGE STAMP WITH WASHINGTON'S FACE ON IT. Needless to say, this firm is not now in existence. We know of nothing more downright stupid than spending money to advertise the fact that our store is not reliable, and that is what untruthful advertising always does. If in our advertising you see the word, "Genuine Mahogany" or "Genuine Quartered Oak," you can depend upon it that it isn't imitation. If we say that an article we are selling at $5.00 is worth $7.00 or $8.00, you can rest assured that it is worth that. "There is one thing about this store (we overheard this statement), if you read about things and buy it there, you have what you expected when it is delivered to your home." Credit is always given.

Science Unites with Fashion to Create a New Era in Bed Designing

ONE of the most important items of news published recently appears in the current Ladies' Home Journal on the news-stands. This item is a full page story of the Simmons Bed. The facts cited in the story prove that a revolution in bed manufacture has taken place, and that this revolution so vitally affects style in bedroom furnishings that no woman can afford to overlook it.

These basic points of manufacture determine the superiority of the Simmons Bed:—

Flawless enamel finish on steel—giving a surface which is practically everlasting.

Electric welding, doing away with all nuts and bolts; so avoiding all rattling.

All-steel tube, making bed one-third lighter than the former type of "iron" bed. This tube will endure forever.

Frictionless casters which assure the bed moving at a touch. Easy on rugs.

Simmons Beds are shown in all the "modern art" designs as well as in Period styles. Coloring to suit every imaginable room. Cribs, twin beds, plain beds for servants' rooms, handsome beds for guest chambers—every kind of bed a home can need is in the Simmons line.

The fact that this store has so promptly stocked these new and desirable beds proves that we present with the utmost promptness all the novel fashions and merchandise that the best makers produce.

GIVES $1,000 TOWARD SWIMMING POOL FUND

Business Girls Fall in Behind Anonymous Donor to Help Y. W. Project.

If the offer made some time ago by William E. Mossman, agreeing to install a swimming pool for the Y. W. C. A., if the institution provides a suitable place for it, is to be available, it will be necessary for sufficient money to be raised whereby the aforesaid suitable place may be secured.

There was general rejoicing and no little enthusiasm when announcement was made by Miss Nora Shreve Thursday night at the supper of the Big Sister League and the Business Woman's club, that a person whose name she was not at liberty to divulge, had agreed to donate $1,000 to be used for the construction of a building or an addition to the present building in which to install a swimming pool. An effort will be made at once to raise the required amount and thus take advantage of Mr. Mossman's liberal offer. The Business Woman's club, through Miss Given Traxler, announced that it had $50 in the treasury which would be turned over for this purpose.

The two organizations were formed into one last November and it will be known as the Business Girls' League. There will be a meeting next Friday evening to hear a report of the constitution and by-law committee.

Miss Gertrude Gogin talked to the girls on "What a Business Girls' Organization Might Do." Miss Cole talked to the girls for a short time and Miss Bill, the physical director, told them that a gym class would be formed for the new club.

CAMPAIGN MIXES UP HIGH COURT SCHEDULE

Washington, Oct. 20.—The political campaign is somewhat disarranging the schedule for argument of cases before the supreme court. Because state officials and counsel desire to remain home for the campaign and election the court is being asked to postpone argument of a number of cases set for the present period. When the court rules permit, such postponements are being granted.

DEMAND A RIGHT TO VOTE IN BAY STATE

Women of Suffrage States Carrying Unique Plea to Courts.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—A new expedition aimed at obtaining the right of suffrage for women is being tested in this state.

Women who have voted in states that have extended the suffrage to them, such as California, Colorado and Oregon, have made formal demands in various cities of Massachusetts where they are now resident that they be registered as legal voters.

The claim is advanced that, having qualified as a legal voter in one state, a woman who moves to another state has the right to vote in the place of her new residence.

In support of the claim, which is to be pressed in the courts in each instance by the International Woman's Suffrage association, it is announced that organization points to sections of the federal constitution which are alleged to cover the situation.

"Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state" (article 4, section 1); and "The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states" (article 4, section 2), are passages quoted in this connection.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 20.—While trying to dispose of several thousand dollars' worth of bonds to the Amelia State bank at Amelia, O., late yesterday, a man who was identified today as Alonzo J. Whitman was apprehended and held by government officers, who claimed that the bonds Whitman was trying to dispose of had been stolen from the bank several months ago. Whitman refused to talk until he was identified today by a representative of a detective agency.

Whitman was a state senator in Minnesota, and had been elected to the Ohio legislature in 1912. He was one of those who seconded the nomination of Governor Cleveland.

Whitman insisted that he had purchased the bonds and that he did not know that they had been stolen until his broker in New York notified him. He stated he only wanted to get back what he had paid for the bonds and that the reason went to the bank that they had been stolen from.

Cause of Constipation.

Constipation results from a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. To effect a permanent cure more water must be taken into the system. Drink a full glass of water half an hour before breakfast and about the third of a glass an hour and a half after each meal, also eat an apple or banana before breakfast and before going to bed. Make sure that your bowels move just after breakfast whether there is an inclination or not. When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets as they are mild and gentle in effect, but no medicine should be taken when operations can be induced naturally each day. To effect a permanent cure time and patience are required as bad habits are more easily formed than broken up. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

"MOVIES" TO BOOM TRADE.

Washington, Oct. 20.—As a means of acquainting the people of South America with American industry and American manufacturing methods, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce soon will begin a campaign in the larger South American cities with the exhibition of moving pictures.

Direct steamship service between this port and South America was begun when the steamship Carolyn sailed from the municipal pier at Philadelphia today with a capacity cargo. Her holds were filled to overflowing and 500 tons of automobiles for Buenos Aires were loaded to the vessel's decks. The Carolyn will make her first stop at Rio Janeiro.

Today we place on sale 300 dozen men's and young men's street and dress gloves. It's a remarkable showing. Price $1.00 to $5.00.

COMING IN FORCE TO SEE OLD TIPPECANOE

Society of War of 1812 to Make Pilgrimage on Sunday, Nov. 5.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Much interest is being shown in the pilgrimage to the Tippecanoe battle ground of the Society of the War of 1812 on Sunday, Nov. 5, next—the 105th anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe.

The United States Daughters of 1812 will join officially in this pilgrimage.

The Tippecanoe battle ground, on the banks of the Wabash nine miles north of Lafayette, Ind., is now a very beautiful park with a large auditorium and other buildings. A station on the Monon railway is at the entrance to this park.

There will be appropriate exercises including a program of music and patriotic addresses, beginning at 2 p. m. The facilities of the Monon and other railways and of the interurban will permit those who wish to go on this pilgrimage to leave home Sunday morning, attend the exercises and reach home the same night. If the day is pleasant, the exercises will be held in the open air. Otherwise in the auditorium.

The major and citizens of Lafayette and surrounding territory are giving their hearty co-operation.

Every one is invited to join in this pilgrimage and will be indeed welcome. It is especially desired that youths and children attend.

For full information of this pilgrimage, or of the requirements of membership in the Society of the War of 1812, address John M. Stahl, president, Illinois Society of the War of 1812, 3401 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., or James Edgar Brown, secretary-treasurer, Illinois Society of the War of 1812, Conway building, Chicago, Ill.

The jurisdiction of the Illinois Society of the War of 1812 covers the entire United States west of Pennsylvania and it has members and officers in Indiana, Michigan, etc., as well as Illinois.

SECRET AGENTS REPORT.

Department Gets Facts Regarding Alleged Registration Irregularities.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The secret service operatives that were instructed to investigate alleged registration irregularities in Indiana and Illinois have begun to report to the department of justice. The first reports received here are from the agents of the department who were assigned to Illinois. These agents, it is understood, began their work at East St. Louis and Danville, Ill. The department gives no intimation as to what the reports show. As far as can be learned, nothing has come to the department from the operatives assigned to Indiana. It will be the policy of the department of justice to refer the reports made by these secret service men to the United States district attorneys in Indiana and Illinois, and it will be to decide whether arrests or grand jury investigations are warranted by the reports.

Henderson Corsets Retain Their Shapeliness Until Worn Out.

Why? Because of their superior constructive features and the excellence of materials entering into their manufacture. Upon these features depends the style, fit, comfort and service of a corset.

The Clasp is guaranteed unbreakable. This is accomplished by the special features of two extra shorter steels covering the waist line and fastened to the clasp at the upper end only.

The Side Stays are double; made of the highest grade non-rustable, flexible, clock-spring steel. The bones are double and are made of the same excellent material as the side stays.

Double Stripping covers the bones and side stays with two thicknesses of cloth on each side, which prevents any possibility of the material wearing through.

We have an unusually complete and comprehensive showing of this season's styles in Henderson corsets.

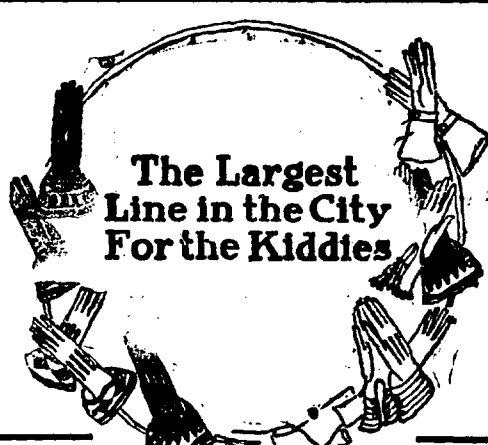

Henderson corsets merit consideration and approval, as they are a distinct revelation in style and beauty; comfort has not been sacrificed to attain such gratifying results.

These corsets are priced at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Correct fittings complimentary—Corset Shop.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday School Course, Moody Bible In-

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 22

PAUL'S DEFENSE BEFORE AGRIPPA.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 26 (vv. 1-34-35).
GOLDEN TEXT—"I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."—Acts 26:19.

It is possible to use the Bible either as a music box or a telephone. We should let it speak the words of the Lord Jesus to us and our pupils. This lesson occurred probably A. D. 59, perhaps in August, the day after last Sunday's lesson. This was the same hall where Agrippa had heard the people calling him a god (Acts 12). Paul, the center of all interest, is chained to his Roman guardians. The prisoner has been vehemently accused as one worthy of death and had appealed to Caesar, but Festus, not being well acquainted with Jewish laws and customs, could not make any definite charge against him before the Roman court. Hence he turns him over to Agrippa, who was well acquainted with matters of Jewish law.

I. Paul, the Preacher (vv. 1-23). This was one of the great occasions in the life of this great man. Paul was preaching to a king and a woman of great influence (a sermon which little changed their lives evidently), and also to the coming ages. This king and queen were wedded to their infamy. God had in mind on that day an audience in comparison with which that which Paul saw faded into oblivion. Notice his argument. (1) He begins with his own experience. In these verses there are over forty personal pronouns.

Men do not need so much light as they do need heat, and Paul was speaking out of the hot throbs of his personal experience. Paul stood before them a living miracle, an incarnate argument. We might tremble at the doctrine of the resurrection. He knew it was a marvelous thing that God should raise the dead, but that change had been wrought in him which was equivalent to the miracle of raising one from the grave.

Paul's plea was for the Roman as well as the Jew. Considering his personal testimony, he declares that he is a true Jew of the strictest sect (vv. 4-8), and as such he lived in the "hope of the promise" as predicted by Isaiah and Daniel. That promise has been fulfilled in Jesus, the crucified, who rose again from the dead, and Paul adds, "I have seen him, for which hope's sake, King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews." (2) (vv. 9-15) Paul tells the audience that he, himself, was once a zealous persecutor of the Christians, more so than those who are now persecuting him, "being exceedingly mad against them." He then relates his Damascus journey and the conversation held on the road with the risen Lord.

The gospel Paul preached was to lead men into the kingdom of God that they might receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who were fitted for that inheritance, who were the sanctified. For this cause the Jews went about to kill him.

II. Agrippa, the Doubter (vv. 24-32). Five ways are suggested as to the reception of Paul's message. The high priest's way was to hate him and oppose. Felix's way was "go thy way this time. When I have a more convenient season I will call." Festus' way (vv. 24-26) was to charge Paul with madness. Much learning (literally, many writings) was turning him mad, making him a lunatic, a dreamer, one who lived in the atmosphere of wild imaginings. Paul's reply was not harsh. "Most noble Festus" (Am. R.). "I am not mad, but speak words of soberness," words of eternal life and spirit at life (of sound sense) that were true and earnest. Paul thereupon appeals to King Agrippa to confirm his statements (v. 2-6). The crazy man is he who lives for this world rather than for eternity. The devil has cheated many a man out of eternal life by the method which Festus followed. He has also cheated many a Christian out of the larger life in the same way. Paul's appeal to Agrippa (vv. 27-29) is very suggestive.

Some people believe that the contents of the prophecies are of no present day value, and some are trying to break their force. Some declare they cannot be true, yet these prophecies are the ones that declare that "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God." The literal translation of Agrippa's answer is, "In a little thou persuadest me to be a Christian." It is said that Agrippa said this in sarcasm, but, like many another attempted jest, it revealed the real state of the heart.

Agrippa saw the cost of further consideration of the claims of Christ and was unwilling to pay the price (vv. 30-32). Thus Agrippa's soul was lost, and yet he was within one step of eternal life. Paul with great dignity took advantage of Agrippa's ambiguous expression, and said: "I would to God that whether with little or with much, not only thou but also all that hear me this day might become such as I am except (raising his fettered hands) these bonds." (Am. R.).

Paul was willing and glad to suffer anything for the sake of Jesus Christ, his Lord (II Cor. 12-10).

FIRST CHINESE WOMAN TO REGISTER.

Mrs. See Tong King Chong, accompanied by one of her children, registering as a voter of San Francisco, her native city.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—If all the enfranchised women were as enthusiastic over the privilege of the ballot as Mrs. See Tong King Chong, a native daughter of San Francisco's Chinatown, there would be little need for registration campaigns.

Mrs. Chong, who is the widow of Tong King Chong, the first senator from the Chinese colonies of the United States to the Chinese republic, achieved the distinction of being the first Chinese woman to register this year in San Francisco recently.

The privilege was long denied her through her marriage with Senator Chong, who was Chinese born. In taking advantage of the vote, Mrs. Chong is carrying out her own convictions and those of her late husband, who throughout his life was a staunch advocate of the emancipation of Chinese women.

He was the first Chinese boy to attend the San Francisco public schools, and the first Chinese to be admitted to membership in the California Bar association.

Mrs. Chong is the mother of two children, a girl, aged 6, whom she proudly calls her "native daughter," and a boy of 4, who was born during Mrs. Chong's residence at the Chinese capital, when her husband was senator.

Trustees of Indiana State Normal Provide for New Science Hall.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—The trustees of the Indiana state normal school yesterday awarded the contracts for the new science hall as follows: A. W. The building is to be of concrete and steel fire-proof construction, three stories high, with a basement. The contractor is erecting the Masonic temple, and the Warren and McLean city school buildings, and will begin the excavation work immediately. The contract calls for the completion of the building by September 1, 1917.

MISHAWAKA WOMAN PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

"Tanlac is Surely a Great
Medicine," Mrs. Higgs
Frankly Asserts.

Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 19.—Another interesting statement regarding the merits of Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine, was given on September 21 by Mrs. Irene Higgs, well known Mishawaka woman of 119½ North Main street. Mrs. Higgs found the Master Medicine very beneficial and tells of her relief in a frank, straightforward manner.

"I had liver and kidney trouble," she said. "Indigestion also bothered me. I couldn't eat very much as the food didn't agree with me and I didn't sleep well at night. Gas formations in my stomach bothered me greatly and I experienced severe pains across my back, due to the kidney trouble. I had become very weak and nervous from lack of proper nourishment.

"Several of my friends advised me to try Tanlac. It has certainly proved a great medicine for me. I can eat at all times now and the food agrees with me, as the gas formations have ceased. I sleep well at night now and the constipation has been greatly relieved. The kidney pains in my back do not bother me any more and I'm gaining strength also.

"Tanlac surely is a great medicine and I can highly recommend it to anyone."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at the four Meyer drug stores—Wayne and Calhoun streets, Calhoun and Columbia, 420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor streets.—Advertisement.

PROFESSOR BECOMES REAL BOSS OF CITY

His Management is Saving
California City Big
Sums Daily.

BY C. A. CLAY.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 20.—A university professor is showing citizens here how to get a dollar's value out of every dollar spent.

The city council of San Jose asked Prof. Thomas H. Reed to quit his job in the political science department of the University of California and put the city manager plan into effect here. He did.

In one month he showed taxpayers how to prevent a waste of $20,000 a year.

He "reined" the city treasurer. He "reined" the customs of many city officials buying supplies indiscriminately and saved $1,000 a month.

He did many things destructive to the old regime and has started a constructive program for the future.

His term began last July and since that time he has put so many new, effective ideas into practice that the citizens here are taking a renewed interest in their city government. They have learned to like the way Reed handles the reins.

As the city manager came in the mayor went out, and a little later a lot of useless, wasteful, money-burning methods went out also. Reed became boss of the city. If anything goes wrong he is responsible. The council can check him up at any time and find out what is doing. He has complete control over all the city offices, excepting that of auditor, which is elective. He has the power to "hire and fire" and is using it to place around him a corps of experts in the city departments.

When he took up the government he found no less than 18 officials exercising freely the privilege of buying supplies. It was impossible to figure out an unnumbered balance on the city's books.

Reed became purchasing agent along with his many other duties. The eighteen men who bought as they pleased were shorn of their power. Haphazard buying was abolished. Supplies are now ordered in large quantities and

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out the poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, acrid breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

This one idea saves the city $1,000 a month.

"I discovered that the city was using elegantly embossed stationery," said Reed. "By ordering a cheaper but suitable grade of paper we saved $235 on our first bill. If we had to make an impression on the purchasing agent, the paper would be the thing. But we don't. Dealers are glad enough to do business with the city, regardless of the kind of stationery it uses."

"In an order of hay we found twenty bales half-filled with mud. We sent it back and got twenty-seven bales of real hay in return. Under the old, careless way of buying the city would have paid out good money for mud."

He considered the city treasurer unnecessary in a city of 40,000 people, and for that reason abolished the office. The city's cash was placed in the First National bank at interest and the bank furnished the services of a cashier free of charge. This change netted the city $5,500 a year in salary saving and interest.

"Now we pay our bills by check just the same as any commercial house does," said Manager Reed. "It does away with a lot of red tape and saves time and money."

Next year he plans to spend several thousand dollars in excess of this year's expenditures on parks, library, police, fire and health departments and on public works. He intends to reorganize the board of health, employing a competent official, who will devote all his time to increasing the efficiency of the department.

BUT HE IS GOING TO SPEND MONEY THAT HAS BEEN SAVED BY ELIMINATION OF WASTE. The tax rate will not be increased. He will be able to benefit the taxpayers with public improvements because he has increased the buying power of the dollar.

CHEER UP! MR. B. GOAT COMES BACK TO CUT HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Don't let anybody get your goat now unless they pay at least 16 cents a pound for it!

Goat meat is being eaten, is rated as good as lamb and is a lot cheaper.

Goat meat is said to be good for stews, meat pies, boiling, roasting and chops.

The chart shows the various sections of "Billy" and how to carve him: A—Neck, for stew and meat pie; B—shoulder for boiling, baked dishes and roasts; C—back for chops, rib chops and stews; D—breast for stew only; E—loin, best end for roasts and chops; F—rump for stews; G—legs for chops, roasts and boiling.

"A city doesn't exist for the purpose of saving money, but to spend it wisely," he said. "I don't intend to cut down the number of employees, but better ones will be chosen—experts who will help cut down city waste and speed up the mechanism of city government."

"The results being obtained here prove the effectiveness of the city manager plan, which is infinitely superior to the commission form, with its five heads. There is no place for a five-headed man except in a side-show."

ARGENTINA HAS PUT BAN ON IMMIGRATION

Decree Which Closes Doors
of Country to Many is Soon in Effect.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A decree promulgated last spring further restricting immigration to the Argentine Republic will take effect October 26.

During the past two years the departure of settlers and others for Europe has been so marked that some statesmen have been alarmed over the fact that a country with such a large area and a relative sparse population could not hold its inhabitants. The government, however, has not been impressed, and by decree which becomes effective next month, many stringent conditions will hereafter surround permission of immigrants to land in the Argentine.

Any persons found suffering from organic disease, making the subject unfit for work, will be barred, as will all cripples, the latter provision supposedly being aimed as a possible invasion by wounded soldiers after the European war. Another clause of the new restriction bars all those who have been big game in the country of origin and all other persons who may be considered likely to become a public charge.

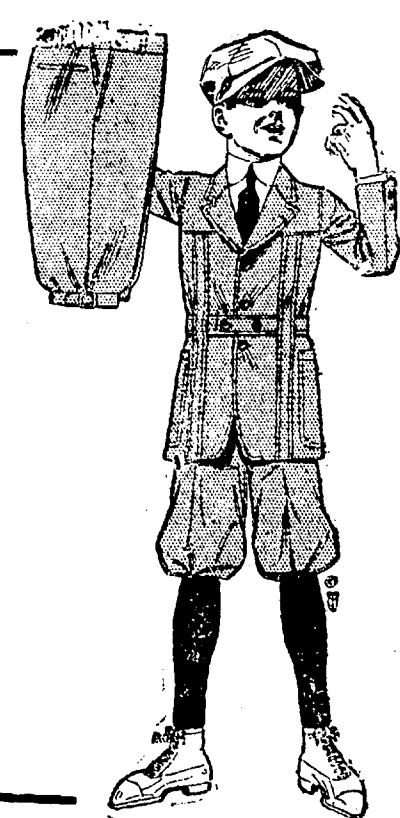

The entire responsibility of bringing undesirable to the country is placed upon the captain or owners of the vessel which brings them, and in case immigrants are rejected the vessel must return them to the port of embarkation. In shipping circles it is said that this risk of bringing possibly undesirable immigrants from European countries where registration is either defective or not practiced at all makes the entire business of immigration undesirable in the viewpoint of the steamship companies. It is provided in the regulations, however, that first-class passengers are exempt from all the penalties prescribed in the decree, a fact which suggests that future immigrants may travel safely as salon passengers.

Use Your Eyes Let Them Sell You This Regal-4-Thirty-Two

BY this we mean that the purchase of a light car should be based on comparison of the car's important features. Even a thorough reading of car literature won't give you the necessary information—a demonstration in one or two of them won't give you all the important specifications on wheelbase, style, size, power, finish, seat sizes and axles.

For this reason, we earnestly invite you and your friends to visit our salesrooms and compare this Regal-4-Thirty-Two's POWER—32 H. P. Motor (bore 3 1/2 x 4 1/4 stroke) with its three bearing crank shaft, detachable head and other mechanical features with any other light car in the $600-$700 class.

SIZE—Its long 108 inch wheelbase that gives bigger and wider seats and more leg room than most cars of 115 inch wheelbase. The rear seat is from 1 to 4 inches wider than any other car in this price class.

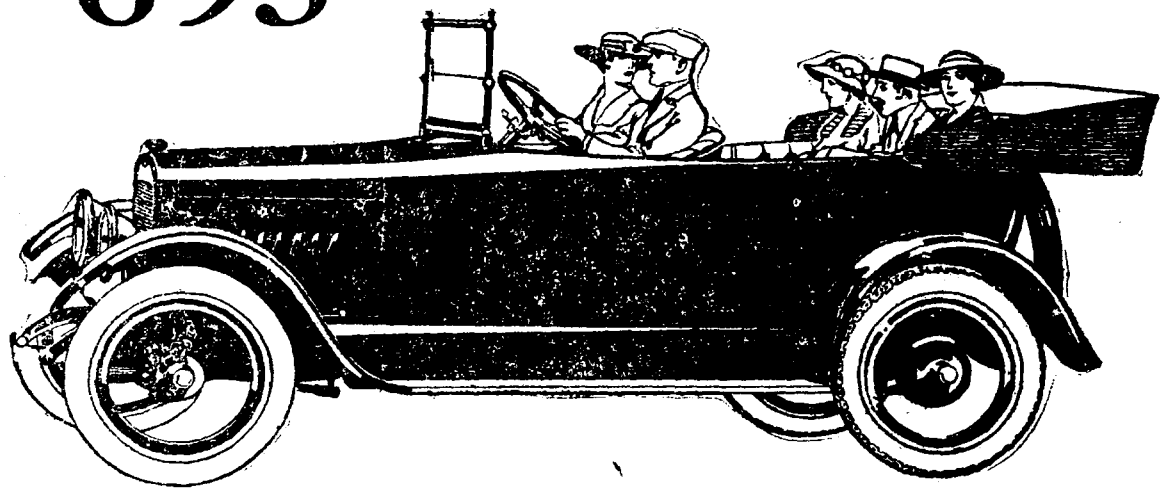

STYLE—Its cruiser-built body with high, rolling sides. The Regal is the only car selling under $1000 that uses this latest design.

REAR AXLE—Its full floating rear axle—an expensive and better axle than other types which are usually found on light cars.

GASOLINE SYSTEM—A system that includes a vacuum feed to the motor with gasoline tank suspended at rear of car. A factor of safety and the same construction adopted only by higher priced cars.

Go over these points with us, one by one, on the day you go for a demonstration. At least drop in and let your eyes tell you what a big, luxurious light car this Regal-4-Thirty-Two is.

GIRL OFFERS TO GIVE EYE SO HER BLIND
SOLDIER LOVER MAY REGAIN SIGHT.

Following the announcement from Paris by Dr. Rochon Duvigneau, noted oculist, that science had progressed so it is possible to graft a small piece of the human cornea on another cornea, a young girl has written to the Academy of Medicine offering to sacrifice one of her eyes to restore sight to her blind lover, who is a soldier. The offer was rejected.

Uric Acid-Poisoning!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called Anuric—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anuric at any drugstore and get relief from the pains and ills brought about by uric acid. Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

It is just as necessary to keep the kidneys acting properly as to keep the bowels active.

The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and an Anuric tablet. In this way it is readily dissolved with the food, picked up by the blood and finally reaches the kidneys, where it has a tonic effect in rebuilding those organs.

Step into the drugstore and ask for a 50-cent package of Anuric, or send Dr. Pierce 10c. for trial pkg. Anuric—many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

FIRE CONTROL DRILL BY PERSHING'S ARMY

Cavalry Efficiency in Month.

Field Headquarters, American Punitive Expedition in Mexico, Oct. 20.—“Fire control” drills, which, in a month's time have increased the effectiveness of cavalry regiments' fire 100 per cent., are important factors in the field maneuvers being held by the American punitive expedition.

Far from being a period of stagnation for the expeditionary troops, the hiatus during the last few months in the pursuit of Villa has been of almost incalculable benefit to them, particularly to the mounted arm. It has given commanding officers opportunities to handle larger bodies of men under conditions more nearly akin to those of war than have obtained at any time since in the past 50 years.

The maneuvers, which are varied, progressive and in accordance with well defined plans, include such simple exercises as horse training and ascent to solving of warfare problems that involve the handling of brigades. The drills, although classified among the elementary exercises, is virtually new to the cavalry, although the infantry has been working on it for several years.

Pamphlets issued by the School of Musketry Fire at Ft. Sill, Okla., have been furnished commanding officers and problems they contain in skeleton form are amplified and worked out. Exercises suggested in these pamphlets also are being tried out and suggestions for improvement, resulting from actual practice, are being noted. Recommendations by regimental officers are being studied by General J. J. Pershing and his chief of staff, Colonel De R. C. Cabell, and those considered worth while are being incorporated in tentative manuals.

Studying developments of the European war, and realizing that, under modern conditions of warfare, cavalry does most of its fighting on foot, commanders of that arm of the service are giving their troops a great deal of dismounted work, paying particular attention to attack. In this connection it is noticeable that the ringing bugle no longer sounds the charge, for every maneuver is made by signal. Save for the tramp of hoofs and the leather-softened rattle of equipment, troop movements are made silently, not a voice being raised in command.

When a problem, prepared by the commanding general or his staff, is given out, an observer accompanies each of the opposing leaders and an umpire watches the operations. After each mimic combat, a critique is held. Tactical errors observed are pointed out and suggestions made relative to better maneuvers that might have been employed.

Full advantage is being taken of the fact that there are four regiments of cavalry at headquarters camp, a circumstance without parallel in army annals for years. All the regiments being used, it also is observed, are being maneuvered at full war strength as provided under the new army reorganization bill. This affords the first opportunity American commanders have had of handling troops of this size in maneuvers.

The war game will reach a climax when the maneuvers progress to the point where every fighting man available will be marched against an imaginary enemy under conditions that almost approximate real war.

Drilled from 6 to 8 hours a day and performing duties which, if not carried out, might turn a healthy camp into a dangerous one, the expedition thus far has not stagnated.

FIGHT SEARCHLIGHT HUNTING.

Bartholomew County Game Commissioners Seeking to Enforce Law.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 20.—F. M. Ehlers and Charles Cannon, deputy fish and game commissioners, are conducting a war on searchlight hunting in Bartholomew county. They say automobile owners drive slowly until their searchlights reach a rabbit, then stop and shoot the rabbit while it is blinded by light. The deputies also say some hunters are using ferrets in hunting rabbits, and they are trying to break up this practice. The Bartholomew County Fishing and Hunting club is co-operating with the deputies in their efforts to enforce the fish and game laws in this county.

Indiana Boy, Wounded in France,
Writes to His Parents.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 20.—C. W. Cook, son of William C. Cook, 2320 West Seventh street, this city, an expert machine gun operator with the British army has written his parents from Sevres, England, that he was wounded in the foot during a recent battle on the west front in France. “We were in a pretty hot scrap September 15 and 16,” writes Cook, “but this last one was much worse. I was wounded on the 26th, and arrived at the hospital in England on the 29th. My wounds are not serious, only a couple of holes in the left foot. I am a Lewis gunner on a Lewis automatic rifle and, believe me, when I say it is no place for a minister's son to be when an attack is being pulled off.”

The resignation of the Rev. Dr. C. C. Smith, pastor of the Baptist church at Rockhouse, Ill., left the town, with a population of 2,000, without a resident pastor.

J. B. Howard, Himself, Inventor of the Florence Hot Blast Heater and the Searchlight Base burner will Give a Sidewalk Demonstration of Both Stoves Tomorrow In Front of Our East Berry Street Entrances

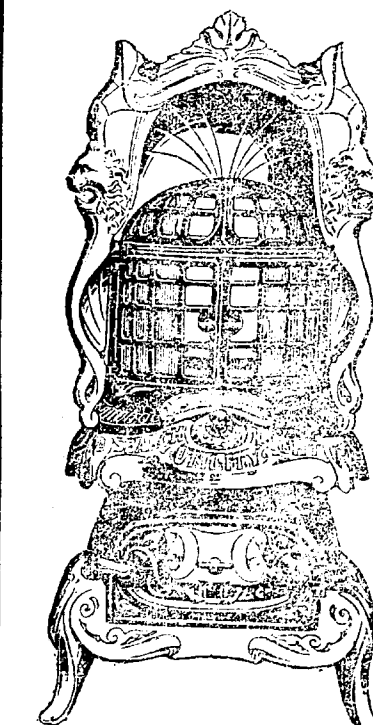

ALL FORT WAYNE IS INVITED TO WITNESS MR. HOWARD'S REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION OF HIS TWO WONDERFUL STOVES. MR. HOWARD, WHO IS THE GREATEST AUTHORITY ON COMBUSTION DEVICES IN THE COUNTRY TODAY, WILL CONDUCT THIS PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION ALONG PURELY EDUCATIVE LINES, SEEKING TO ENLIGHTEN HIS AUDITORS AS TO THE TRUE MERITS AND DEMERITS OF VARIOUS STOVES AND ILLUSTRATING IN VIVID MANNER THE BROAD DIFFERENTIATION BETWEEN THE SO-CALLED "BASE BURNERS" AND "HOT BLAST HEATERS" AND THE HIGHLY SPECIALIZED SEARCHLIGHT BASE BURNER AND FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER.

IN HIS LECTURE MR. HOWARD WILL EXPLAIN AND PROVE BY ACTUAL COMPARISON THAT THE SEARCHLIGHT BURNS EVERY INGREDIENT OF HARD COAL, SOMETHING WHICH ALL OTHER BASE BURNERS WASTE. HE WILL ALSO EXPLAIN AND PROVE BY ACTUAL TEST THAT THE FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER IS THE ONLY ABSOLUTE SMOKE, SOOT AND GASE-CONSUMING STOVE IN THE WORLD. FURTHERMORE, MR. HOWARD WILL DEMONSTRATE FULLY WHY THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF MOST BASE BURNERS AND HOT-BLAST HEATERS ARE WRONG, BEING PEURILE IMITATIONS OF THE VARIOUS J. B. HOWARD DEVICES.

MR. HOWARD, WHO IS KNOWN AS "THE STOVE WIZARD," IS A MAN OF DYNAMIC ENERGY AND GREAT PERSONAL MAGNETISM. HIS LECTURES ARE FULL OF SOUND LOGIC AND SANE REASONING AND HE NEVER FAILS TO IMPRESS HIS LISTENERS THROUGH THE FORCE OF HIS ARGUMENTS AND BY THE APPEAL OF HIS UNIQUE PERSONALITY. TO THE PERSON WHO IS CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF A STOVE THIS DEMONSTRATION WILL PROVE PROFOUNDLY INTERESTING, WHILE TO OTHERS MR. HOWARD'S LECTURE WILL PROVE MOST ENTERTAINING AND INSTRUCTIVE.

The Searchlight--The Last Word In Stove Efficiency

The SEARCHLIGHT marks the highest development of the Base Burner Stove by an inventor whose genius is acknowledged all over the world. Mr. Howard has incorporated in this stove features and various perfections which place it head and shoulders above the average Base Burner, which, in many instances, is just a stove patterned after the SEARCHLIGHT but boasting none of the wonderful SEARCHLIGHT devices, which are patented and therefore cannot be used without infringing upon the Howard patents.

The SEARCHLIGHT Will Heat 8 Rooms

The J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION is the secret of the wonderful success of the SEARCHLIGHT. It is a device installed in the base of the stove which burns every particle of Carbon Monoxide (commonly known as poison gas) and which is wasted in all the so-called base burners and in fact has never before been utilized since anthracite coal was first burned. It is without a doubt the greatest heating device ever invented and you will find it only on the SEARCHLIGHT.

The HOWARD METHOD of Combustion

In his demonstration tomorrow Mr. Howard will expose the deception practiced upon the public by the manufacturers of the so-called base burners and prove by actual test that the SEARCHLIGHT will heat three times the space that can be heated by any of these so-called base burners and do it with the same amount of fuel. He will also explain in lucid manner how the Carbon Monoxide is utilized the same as fuel by the J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION DEVICE, which is built into the SEARCHLIGHT.

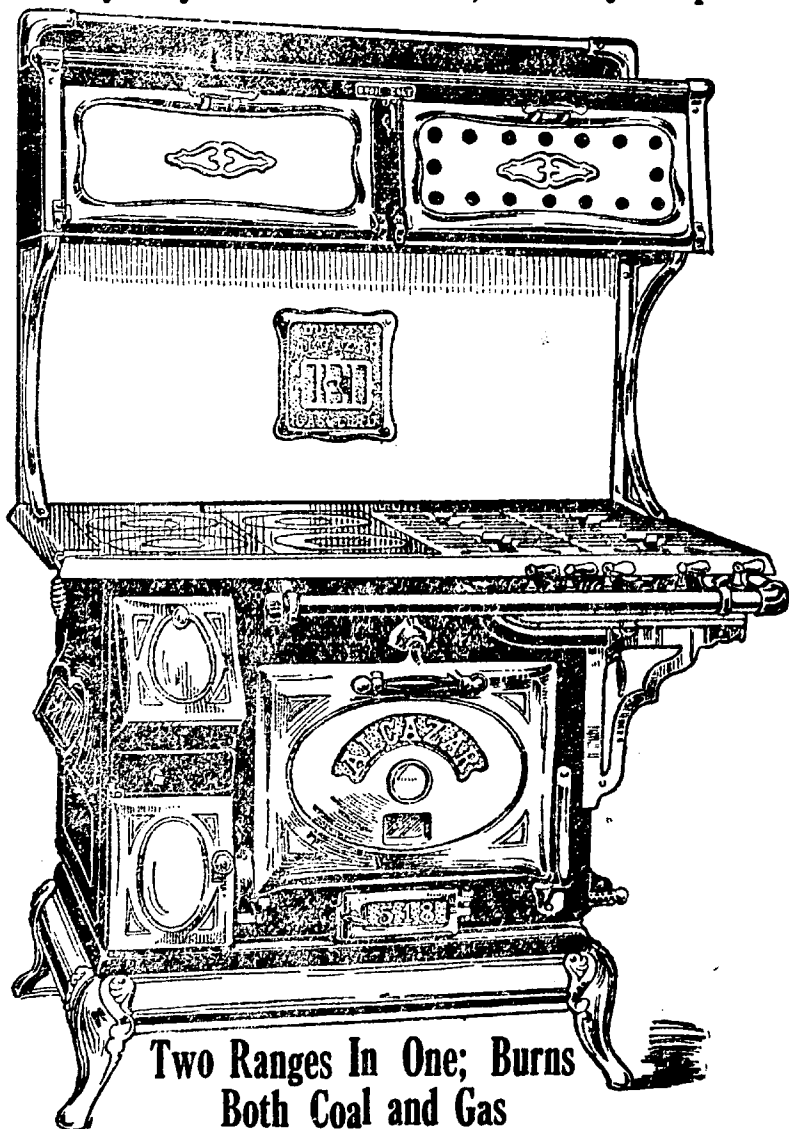

The Bitter Test of Comparison

The SEARCHLIGHT will heat any eight rooms in an ordinary house far better than a furnace or hot water boiler. Just set the combustion damper of the SEARCHLIGHT when you go to bed, and whether the weather is zero or even twenty below you will find no variation in the temperature of the house when you arise in the morning. In zero weather you fill the magazine of the SEARCHLIGHT once in twenty-four hours—in fair weather once in three or four days.

The Searchlight on Terms

Remember, you can buy one of these marvelous SEARCHLIGHT BASE BURNERS on easy terms. We urge that you come in tomorrow during the demonstration and have us explain our Credit System to you.

A Special Demonstration of the Famous Duplex-Alcazar Combination Range Will Be Given On the Interior of Our Store During the Next Three Days By Bruce E. Gollan, Factory Representative.

Two Ranges In One; Burns Both Coal and Gas

A single coal or wood range is wasteful except for Winter use. A single Gas Range is wasteful except for Summer use. To Combine the Two is ideal, and meets the demand of the Twentieth Century Home for "Comfort," "Convenience" and "Economy" all the year around.

The DUPLEX ALCAZAR is a single range, only 43 inches long, in which Gas and Coal or Wood can be used at the same time, or separately, just as desired. It is Just the Range for Your Home. There is nothing to lift out or interchange. Simply "pull or push a lever" at lower right hand side of Range and oven is ready for use for either fuel. It is as easy as turning on or off the water faucet in the kitchen.

J. B. Howard Offers $5,000

To Any Stove Dealer or Manufacturer who will produce a Stove tomorrow in the form of a Hard Coal Base Burner or so-called Base Burner that will burn all ingredients of Hard Coal, such as Carbon Monoxide (commonly known as poison gas), or will heat the same amount of space with the same amount of fuel as the SEARCHLIGHT I WILL OFFER THE SUM OF $5,000.00.

Signed J. B. HOWARD

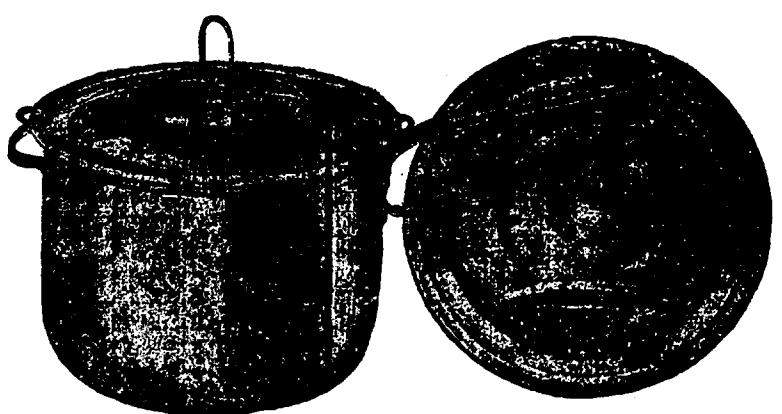

The Offer!

This drastic offer of $5,000.00 has repeatedly been made and no one has ever dared to accept the challenge. This offer has been made for four consecutive years and each time has gone unclaimed, a circumstance which proves conclusively that the SEARCHLIGHT is the greatest actor in the drama of modern stove construction.

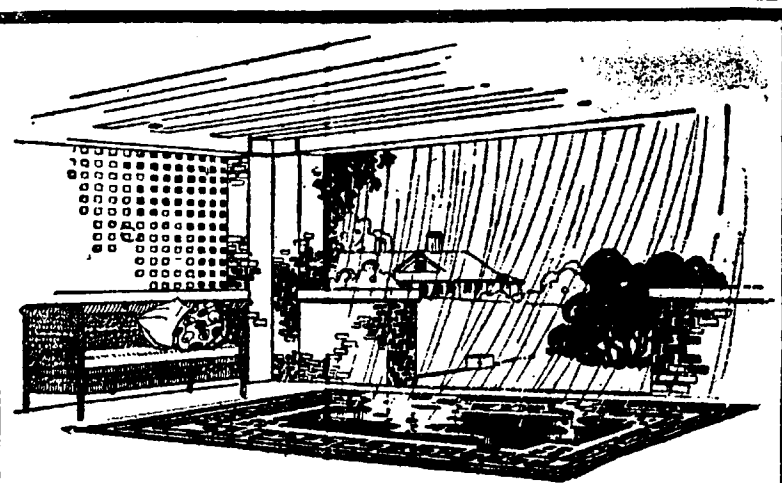

The Reason!

The reason for this offer is to convince the public that the SEARCHLIGHT BASE BURNER with the J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION embodied is the greatest heating device ever invented. Hundreds of SEARCHLIGHT owners in this city will testify to the economical and efficient results obtained from the SEARCHLIGHT under the severest conditions.

THE FLORENCE; Nemesis of Jack Frost

With wintry days coming on at a rapid pace, the thoughts naturally turn to warmth and comfort in the home. No need to worry about your heating troubles further, however, if you own a FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER. The Florence ends stove troubles forever and besides insuring you a warm "comfy" house during wintry weather it cuts a generous slice off your coal bills. Mr. Howard will explain the various features of the FLORENCE in his sidewalk demonstration tomorrow. Do not fail to hear him.

The Florence Idea Eliminates Puffing

During his demonstration Mr. Howard will explain fully and prove by an actual "live fire test" how the FLORENCE eliminates the "puffing" nuisance. If you have ever used Hot Blast Heaters of certain makes you will know that it was no uncommon experience to come home and find that the door of the stove has been "puffed open" and dirty black soot blown all over the house.

Holds Fire Perfectly Over Night

The FLORENCE will positively hold fire over night. Just fill the firepot of the stove when you go to bed and in the morning you will discover the same even temperature that existed when you retired.

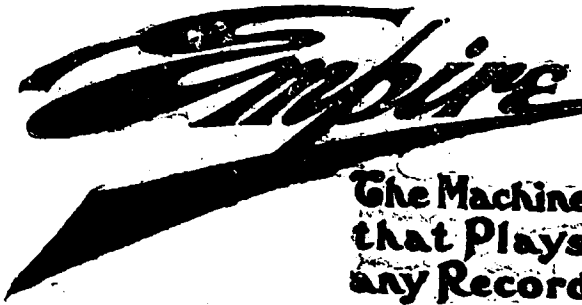

The Florence Means More Heat and Less Fuel

You can heat a five or six-room house all winter long for $10.00 with the FLORENCE and use a very cheap grade of coal. And furthermore, no matter how cheap the grade of fuel used, the FLORENCE keeps clean. This is because it can burn hard or soft coal siftings, dust, slack, coke, sawdust or rubbish. Mr. Howard proves this by actual test in his demonstration tomorrow.

A Florence On Easy Terms

Kindly keep in mind that you can buy the FLORENCE (or any other stove sold here) on the easy payment plan. Our liberal credit concessions makes it possible for you to have your stove installed right away if you want to.

ADMIT WILSON WOULD CARRY ILLINOIS NOW

Hope Only for Changes
Before Election.

BY GILSON GARDNER.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—That Illinois would go for Wilson if the election were held today is frankly admitted by the republican managers in charge of the state campaign. At the same time they claim the state ticket and express a hope that the coming three weeks may turn the tide of sentiment to Hughes.

To tell the truth I was amazed at this open admission at republican state headquarters. I would not have had the courage to claim Illinois for Wilson. There are too many influences at work on the republican side, and too great a normal republican majority, to be overcome. But when the republican managers themselves tell me it will go for Wilson I can do nothing but accept their judgment.

The state and national campaign are being separately handled. The state headquarters are in the Great Northern hotel, while the national headquarters are in the Conway building. At national headquarters western chairman Tobe Hertz is still claiming Illinois and a hundred superfluous votes in the electoral college for Hughes.

The truth is Hughes has been thrown overboard by state managers in the hope that by so lightening the ship its crew may get to shore.

The state ticket is headed by Frank O. Lowden, formerly congressman from one of the central districts of the state, and has on it Medill McCormick, the first bull moose to gig-back into the "party of his fathers." He should have said his father-in-law. Mrs. McCormick is a daughter of Mark Hanna, while McCormick's mother was a daughter of Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune. The Hanna estate and the Tribune estate are helping defray the expenses of the state campaign, while the Pullman palace car estate—Lowden married one of the three Pullman daughters—is likewise helping to underwrite the state activities.

It's a fine, rich, strong, disinterested campaign, and now that Candidate C. E. Hughes has been sewed up in a bag and fed to the whale, there is a right good prospect that "Colonel" (by courtesy) Lowden will be elected governor by a hundred (more or less) thousand majority, and that Medill McCormick, perhaps, may come to Washington to render disinterested service for the party of Lincoln, Hanna and Penrose.

The women of Illinois, it seems, are going to elect Wilson. Incidentally, Mrs. McCormick claims much credit for getting for the Illinois women the right to vote—a right which does not extend to the state ticket and members of congress. Now the women by the first exercise of that privilege may elect a democratic president, and if they are not careful to keep their pacifism away from their husbands, brothers and sons, may defeat her husband for congress.

Approximately a million Illinois women are to cast their votes for the first time for presidential electors. A few con-

Mukden, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Controversy concerning the price of fish is reported to have been the immediate cause of the conflict between Japanese and Chinese soldiers at Chengchiatun on August 13, which resulted in the death of eleven soldiers and the injury of many others.

A Japanese drug clerk who was buying a fish from a Chinese boy objected to the price asked, and gave the boy a beating. Chinese soldiers resented the attack made upon the boy by the Japanese, and handled the drug clerk roughly.

The disgruntled Japanese reported to Japanese officers that he had been assaulted by Chinese soldiers without reason. The Chinese insisted that the Japanese lieutenant gave orders for his soldiers to use force. A battle followed in which seven Japanese soldiers were killed outright, five were mortally wounded, and several others less seriously injured. Four Chinese soldiers were killed and a number wounded.

While it has not been positively established who fired the first shot, it was probably fired by a Chinese who was standing some distance from the gate, and is reported to have fired with such deadly aim that he alone probably killed most of the Japanese.

After the conflict the Japanese fled to their barracks, where they barricaded themselves, fearing a general attack from Chinese troops. The magistrate of Chengchiatun visited the Japanese commander in an effort to make amends and restore peace. He was kept as a prisoner in the Japanese barracks by the commander, who explained that he felt he was protecting his troops against any further attack by holding the magistrate. Finally the Japanese released the magistrate after he had turned his son over to them to be held as a hostage.

On August 18 the magistrate effected arrangements for the withdrawal of Chinese troops five miles from town, and peace was restored.

PURSUE RECKLESS DRIVER.

Autoists, Angered by Accidents, Unable to Catch Fast Machine.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Pursued by six automobiles, a huge touring car containing a man and two women escaped across the state line into Illinois after the machine had sideswiped the car of Richard Fehrman, a Whiting contractor, on the Jackson highway, near Dyer. Six persons, relatives of Fehrman, were injured when the auto was overturned and demolished. Both machines were forced from the road and indignant autoists attempted to catch the reckless driver, but his machine was too fast.

BIG ELM TREES FOR HARRISON HILL

Anyone interested in sylviculture or landscaping will be fully repaid for their trouble if they will stroll through Harrison Hill, the new addition located on Calhoun street, just south of Rudisill boulevard, where there have been scores of elm trees, ranging from six to ten inches set out. By transplanting these elms which are from twenty to thirty years old this addition takes on an aspect that would otherwise require from ten to twenty years to produce. It has necessitated on the part of the promoters of Harrison Hill to set out trees of this size, but as this tract was intended for a present-day proposition, and not one that would take a number of years to develop, they feel that the extra trouble was fully justified. Details regarding the lots in this addition may be secured from H. G. Vines & Schauf, North American building.—Advertisement.

SENTENCED DAY AFTER THEFT.

Man Who Stole 72 Chickens and Sold Them for $56 Sent to Reformatory.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—Awakening seventy-two chickens from a sound sleep, placing them in a spring wagon and driving away without causing a squawk or any noise loud enough to arouse their owner, who was sleeping less than 100 feet away, was the champion chicken stealing feat of Mose Budreau, of Fowler.

Judge Billings, of the Benton circuit court, sentenced Budreau to from one to fourteen years in the state reformatory. The theft was committed Sunday night.

Theodore Johnson, living three miles east of Fowler, was the victim. Budreau drove to Goodland where he sold the chickens for $56.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

RATHER TRUSTING TO LUCK AS TO "TANKS"

Army Heads Believe 1,000 Could Be Collected in Few Weeks.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—The United States army can be equipped with 1,000 of the "tanks" reported to have done so much execution on the British lines in France, in a few weeks the ordnance board believes.

"We could undoubtedly equip very quickly similar machines for use in the army, if it became necessary to do so," said Major Adam F. Casad of the ordnance bureau of the war department, discussing the possibility of the use of the tanks in our army.

This, in spite of the fact that the tractors must be collected from various parts of the country, measurements made for armor and encasements, the machines linked together as are the component parts of the great British tanks, and their mechanism so co-ordinated that the machines will work in unison.

In other words, the army could be equipped with tanks if luck could do it.

"We bought some time ago three Holt Caterpillar tractors for experimental use in Hawaii," Casad continued. "We have used them there, however, merely to furnish traction for drawing artillery."

"Later we bought five additional tractors and have been experimenting with them here in the same way. Later we placed an order for 27 more machines, to equip the artillery regiment there for hauling its guns."

"We have considered use of tractors in fighting, but have never actually armored them. They could be armored and equipped, however, in a very short time, if it was thought necessary."

There are at least 20 BIG caterpillar farm tractors in use in the United States today, according to experts of the farm management bureau of the department of agriculture. They are used most largely in the "tule" grass lands of California, flooded part of the year, but which, in dry season, make excellent farming lands.

These tractors, with their wide tread, will go anywhere in these swampy lands, and are used to pull plows. They are also used to some extent in the delta region of Louisiana.

"It is easy to understand how caterpillar type tractors can climb steep grades, push down trees, go over trenches and even push down walls of buildings," said A. P. Yerkes, expert in the bureau of farm management.

"You can practically stand a tractor on its nose, and as long as the revolving surface touches the earth it will move forward and climb out of a hole. The combined power of four of these tractors would be quite sufficient to push over any ordinary tree or similar obstacle."

Officers of the ordnance bureau think conditions similar to those on the battlefield in France would be unlikely to confront an American army defending the country against invasion, and are skeptical as to the value of the "tanks."

FARMER FLOURISHES REVOLVER.

Intoxicated Man Refuses to Allow Adair Automobile to Pass in Road.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 20.—While returning to Evansville from New Harmony, where he had been making an address yesterday afternoon, J. A. M. Adair, candidate for governor, got several thrills when a drunken farmer refused to make room for the automobile in which Adair was riding, and when the party attempted to pass flourished a revolver and threatened the lives of those in the machine. With Adair were Mayor Benjamin Bosse and Howard Ross, editor of a local paper.

Mayor Bosse pleaded with the farmer to draw aside and allow the automobile to pass, but the man, whose name was not learned, was obstinate and continued to make blood-curdling threats. Finally when those in the machine had resigned themselves to move at a walking pace behind the slowly moving wagon, the farmer suddenly pulled aside and without a word allowed the automobile to pass.

CONSTITUTION ACTS AS BAR.

Act to Allow Soldiers on Border to Vote Would Be Illegal.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Governor Ralston announced yesterday that it appears no way can be found whereby the members of the Indiana national guard on the border can vote at the coming election. The governor's attention was called to conditions a few days ago by Newton D. Gilbert, of Fort Wayne, who suggested that a special session of the legislature be called to enact a measure permitting the members of the guard to vote. Governor Ralston, yesterday replied to Mr. Gilbert in a letter in which he stated that the passage of such a law would be unconstitutional. The governor quotes a section of the constitution to justify his statements.

Eight Cities Want Athletic Events Conference Official Hammond Team to Evanston Meets Wabash Sunday

EIGHT CITIES BID FOR WINTER EVENTS

Places of Athletic Union Championships to Be Awarded Soon.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Eight cities, including Chicago, are bidding for the Central Amateur Athletic union winter championships which are to be awarded at a special meeting here next month.

This will be the first time in the history of the union that so many cities outside of Chicago have interested themselves in the events.

The only important amateur sport of the winter season in which Chicago athletic clubs will not be interested is boxing, and the only reason for this state of affairs is that the Illinois law prohibits the sport for both professionals and "Simon pures."

Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids and Milwaukee are after the fistic championships. The Illinois Athletic club, the Chicago Athletic association, and the Hamilton club, all of Chicago, want the aquatic events, but these organizations will be opposed by the Detroit Athletic club.

As to basketball, the Illinois Athletic club, the Cleveland A. C., Detroit A. C., and Cincinnati Gymnasium and Athletic club are among the bidders. St. Paul and the Mystic A. C. of Chicago are after the indoor track championships. These probably will be split, according to present plans, the junior series going to St. Paul and the seniors to Chicago.

MICHIGAN HAS THIRD CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

Ann Arbor, Oct. 20.—For the first time in the history of Michigan's athletics, the cross-country team of a rival school will appear on Ferry field on October 28. Michigan's opponents will be Syracuse university. The event will be decided on the day of the Syracuse-Michigan football game.

The sport here is comparatively new, only two varsity teams having preceded the present one. The competition has hitherto been confined to the annual eastern intercollegiate meet, in which the Wolverines finished last in 1914 and tenth in 1915.

Doepsters on football will have a chance to compare the east and west earlier this season than ordinarily when the crack Tufts team meets Jumbo Steinh's Hoosier outfit at Indianapolis Saturday.

Colgate, which is not playing in 1916 form this year, has already walloped Illinois, but better comparisons can be drawn from the team which defeated Harvard and held Princeton to a 3-0 score and Indiana, which fell before Chicago.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The Badgers practice this evening at Welser park. They will play the Wayne in the preliminary to the Friar game Sunday.

The Cavaliers will play the Bluffton Maroons at Bluffton Sunday. Final practice will be held this evening.

Illinois prize fighter makes great football run. They're usually at their best on the run.

RUN MILE A DAY TO GAIN BETTER HEALTH

Run a mile every day. That's the health prescription of D. G. M. Hammond, president of the New York Athletic club.

It looks pretty stiff for the average man, but should be good advice for young men and boys.

Athletic directors in several colleges have seen the benefits to be derived from distance running and have made cross-country running a part of the physical culture curriculum. At Cornell 250 have entered cross-country runs and other schools are falling in line.

CONFERENCE OFFICIAL TO WORK HERE SUNDAY

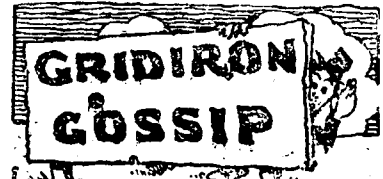

Friars Change Referees to Put a Stop to the Wrangling.

The Friar management has secured H. G. Thomas of Illinois to work as referee in Sunday's game. Thomas has handled several conference games and comes well recommended.

Mehogan, of Purdue, who has handled all the Friar games this year, is a good referee, but he has worked here too often and has lost his authority over the local players. As a result the men were ready to argue every point and a great deal of unnecessary wrangling slowed up the games.

Weather conditions have interfered with the Friars this week and not one good practice has been held. Tuesday night's workout was half-hearted and rain stopped last night's. Only Saturday afternoon remains and some hard work will probably be put in.

The visitors are coming with a well uniformed team and a good reputation. They will have numbers on their backs and these will be on the score cards.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 20.—Bob Zupke's reconstructed Illini took their last hard drill last night in preparation for the opening of the conference campaign against Ohio State tomorrow. With good luck as to his crutches, Zupke should be able to put a much stronger eleven in the field than fell before Colgate.

Potter and Chapier are prominent on the hospital list, while Hanschman, another good line man, remains intelligible. Chapier's disability has given Schaudemann a chance at center, and the Californian has been taking advantage of it. Bit Stewart doubtless will claim his old place at guard on Saturday, and it is expected Potter will be able to play the other guard position.

Ohio is billed to be a Tartar. The Illini remember the tie score last year and the Oberlin score of 123 last Saturday.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Oct. 20.—Badger football players were called upon this afternoon to run through a long rehearsal of plays designed for use in the Chicago game. Then they bucked against the reserves in scrimmage. A bad blow was dealt the chances for the back field when Elder, who starred in the South Dakota game, was knocked out with a hip injury. Medical advisers declare that he will be confined for several days. Today's practice was directed by Soucy. Coach Withington tonight is in Milwaukee, the honored guest at a gathering of Wisconsin and Harvard graduates, 500 strong, who will attend the Chicago-Wisconsin game.

INDIANA

Bloomington, Oct. 20.—For the first time since the coaching regime of Jimmy Sheldon, the old charging machine was resurrected at Indiana today and the line men were given an hour's drill in driving back an imaginary Tufts defense. Because of the rain the players were compelled to dig their toes in the soft earth in order to get a hold and make headway. Tackling was also on the program again, and at the conclusion of the rudimentary drill, the 'varsity' and scrubs lined up for a twelve minute scrimmage, which resulted 14 to 0 in favor of the regulars. Right End Buschman returned to the fold, and an improvement was noted in the line plugging of Captain McIntosh, who has been out until this week.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—Tackle Frank Mayer is due to get out of the hospital tomorrow, but he will not be in actual play for more than a week. His friends say he will be in the lineup against Illinois, but hardly before then.

The Gophers held only a short scrimmage, snow and sleet having made the field a slippery mess. A chalk talk followed a short workout and session on the cinder path. Hartwig played at guard for Gray, who is limping slightly. Ballantine, half, was tried at quarter and Tomasek, at right end. Harold Hansen, halfback, will take an examination to-

FAMOUS HALFBACK TO COACH TEAMS THROUGH THE SENTINEL.

Elmer Oliphant, famous West Point half back and Uncle Sam's greatest athlete, is going to coach football teams through The Sentinel.

Oliphant has prepared six bang-up plays, illustrated by diagrams and thoroughly explained so any team can work them out. His articles will appear in The Sentinel beginning tomorrow.

The plays are dandies. Similar plays will be used by the Army in its biggest games this year and teams using them may win their games with the same formations with which the Army will try to down the Navy in the great annual struggle.

Before Oliphant could prepare these articles for The Sentinel it was necessary for him to get permission from the commandant of the United States Military academy.

Oliphant is one of the biggest stars football has produced. Eastern critics say he and Harry Le Gore, the great Yale backfield man, will be the big stars of the present season.

Oliphant is the only man who has ever won four letters in athletics at the army school. He won his laurels in football, baseball, basketball and track. Previous to entering Uncle Sam's school, Oliphant spent four years at Purdue university and there he was the only athlete who won four athletic letters.

Oliphant's career at Purdue was remarkable. In the summer he worked in southern Indiana coal mines to pay for his schooling. Graduating three years ago, he received the appointment to West Point.

As a football player Oliphant stands head and shoulders above most backfield men of the country. He is fast and powerful; a remarkable drop kicker and punter.

Quick thinking and brainy playing combine to make him one of the greatest field strategists of the decade.

Watch for his articles and plays in The Sentinel.

Tomorrow to clean up his scholastic record. T. N. Stocum, a Chinese student, has joined the freshman squad as end or tackle. He played two years on the Minot, N. D., high school team. The South Dakota squad, twenty-five strong, will arrive tomorrow morning.

IOWA.

Iowa City, Oct. 20.—A drizzling rain converted Iowa field into a sea of mud and Coach Jones limited practice to a light conditioning workout and a long signal drill. He also delivered a lengthy lecture on the intricacies of his new plays and outlined the style of game to be used against Purdue. The "skull practice" seemed helpful to the squad. Captain Lunn and Mendenhall, end and halfback, returned to the lineup and indications are a solid front will be presented against the Boilermakers. Bowles, still in suffering from injuries, but ought to be back at tackle by Saturday. Jones announced there will be no more scrimmages before Purdue arrives.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 20.—Three touchdowns in fifteen minutes of play was the record that York's varsity was able to make in yesterday afternoon's clash with the scrubs. The second string men made free use of Michigan Aggie's formations during the battle, but the more experienced crew held them without any trouble.

No regular 'varsity' team was at work time here. Rehner, Boyd, Wieman and Zeiger all got in at one time or another, but Captain Maubetsch, Niemann and Smith were not allowed to take part at all. Smith was busy this afternoon receiving an X-ray treatment for boils on his right arm.

Tomorrow is the last day of drill before the big struggle and only light work will be indulged in. The major part of the time will be given over to signal practice and every possible care will be taken to keep the men in condition so that a solid front will be presented to the Aggies on Saturday.

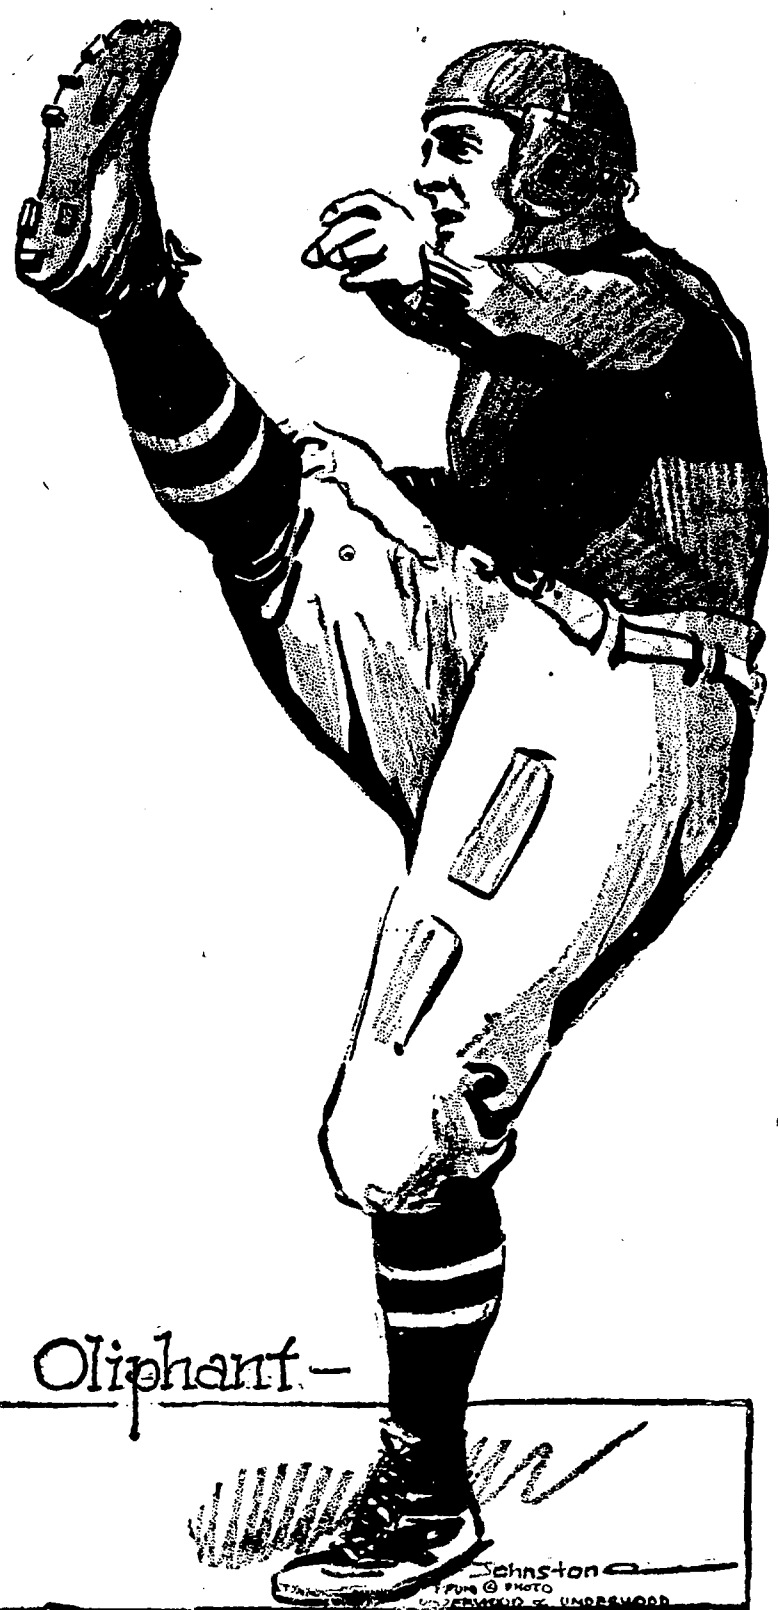

TAFT IT MADE CENTER.

Charley Taft, son of former President Taft, has been made regular center of the Yale eleven.

Taft played end and halfback last year and was playing tackle early this season. Three men trying for center, Callahan, Vorys and Smith, were injured and Taft was tried.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR ROOTERS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 20.—Students at Ohio State university are planning to charter a special train for the Ohio-Illinois football game at Urbana on October 21. A twenty piece student band will lead the Buckeye rooters. More than 200 are expected to make the trip.

HAMMOND TO PLAY SHERIDANS SUNDAY

Clabby Team Will Help Open Lafayette Professional Season.

The Clabby A. A. team, of Hammond, supported by 500 rooters, will journey to Lafayette Sunday to help the Sheridans open the professional season in that city. Both teams will have old college men with them, but there is no doubt that Frank Blocker will be the big drawing card. The Sheridan team is the representative eleven of Lafayette.

In speaking of the strong Hammond team, the Lafayette Courier has the following: "The Hammond team was downed by the Fort Wayne Friars at Fort Wayne last Sunday, the score being 9 to 0. The scores, however, were not made until Captain Blocker was removed from the game because of injuries. The Fort Wayne team is recognized by sporting writers as the greatest in the country and is hoped to beat Pine Village in the game to be staged soon."

They say Dave Sinclair may buy the Rodgers. Why doesn't Harry quit fooling with the Indians.

Someone should teach Tufts college some manners.

Better call on One Josephus. The Navy's spring a leak.

"ZUMMIE" FINDS BRIDE TAKEN AS A BIGAMIST

Detroit Broker Overtaken
by Woe Following His Marriage.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—When "Zummie" of Detroit hears of a neat package of his own letters tied up by a pink ribbon to a suit for $25.00 for breach of promise, he probably will think his cup of woe is running over. For yesterday, Mrs. Ruth Day McLean Zumein, his bride of a day, was arrested on a charge of bigamy.

"Zummie" is Arnold Zumein, a real estate operator of Detroit. This is set out in the breach of promise action started in Chicago by Miss Helene Wohlford, a cabaret dancer not lacking in recent mention in the newspapers nor in personal charm. He is accused of breaking the heart of Miss Helene Wohlford by marrying Miss McLean. Miss McLean is the daughter of Dr. Angus McLean of Detroit, who has been conspicuous in the world of surgery.

The Police Interfere.
Zumein and Miss McLean were married in Terre Haute, Ind., on Tuesday afternoon. But the mating was short of duration, for it was learned that Miss McLean, or more recently Mrs. Zumein, was arrested on charges that the Terre Haute police from Chief Marquardt of Detroit. Soon after Dr. McLean hurried to Terre Haute, obtained the release of his daughter, and returned to Detroit.

The advice to the Indiana police were in effect that Miss McLean's marriage of Sept. 17, 1915, has never been dissolved and therefore her union with Zumein. Zumein, sued for $25,000 in Chicago by the dance, and benefit of a bride in Terre Haute, could not be found in Detroit. But it was reported he was returning to his home from his wedding trip.

Helene Got Hers.
Zumein first was mentioned in connection with Miss Wohlford when the dance was known as Mrs. Helene B. Cowan. Zumein was named in a suit for divorce brought by the husband of the girl, James C. Cowan. A legal separation was handed down a few weeks ago.

Cowan, in asking a divorce from his cabaret wife, set out that she wrote him she "could not care for any man for any length of time." Also he said his wife had promised to forego the cabaret and settle down to a domestic life. But she didn't stop her dancing. Instead she kept late hours soon after she was married to Cowan, he alleged, and often came home late in the night. On one occasion, he declared, he entered a homeing elevated train to find his wife sitting in the lap of a man who was entirely strange to him.

Finally, Cowan alleged the discovery that Mr. Zumein, the Detroit broker, had presented Mrs. Helene Wohlford Cowan with diamonds, a set of expensive furs, and an automobile.

A Change of Heart.
The divorce was not contested by Mrs. Cowan, who resumed her name of Wohlford. And as Miss Wohlford she states in her suit for breach of promise she was tenderly courted by "Zummie" with promises of marriage. But then his ardor faded and he grew cold. Then she heard of his marriage to another girl. And then she brought suit.

Zumein's missives, of which Miss Wohlford offers an abundance, invariably were opened with "My Dear" and closed with a kissish "Zummie." There are references to clothes for Miss Wohlford.

CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, RUN-DOWN?

Wash Out the Bile With a Wine-glassful of Tollo Water and
Feel Fine in Half an Hour

Our present mode of living makes hard livers. The bile tubes become choked and force bile into the system, causing gas, heartburn, coated tongue, constipation, dizziness, nervousness, headache and stomach trouble.

A third of a tumblerful of TOLLO WATER in a glass of plain water before breakfast relieves your constipation in 30 minutes. The natural properties of this water stimulate the liver to greater activity without the weakening effects produced by strong drugs.

Get a 15-cent bottle and take a little for a few days. It really works wonders. TOLLO WATER is bottled at Dawson Springs, Kentucky, but it is sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

WILSON WOMEN AND FOES STAGE A RIOT

Hughes Banners Smashed in Furious Uproar at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—An attempted "silent demonstration" against President Wilson by members of the national woman's party in front of the Auditorium yesterday developed into a near riot in which the banners opposing Wilson were torn from the demonstrators and trampled, and the women were roughly handled. President Wilson was seated in an automobile a few hundred feet away when the demonstration started, but passed into the building and was not a witness to the scene that followed.

The national woman's suffrage party, favoring Hughes because of his stand for a national suffrage amendment, had decided to borrow a bit from the tactics of the democratic women, who had heckled the Hughes women's special on its coast to coast trip. They had planned to greet President Wilson with banners asking pertinent questions on his suffrage position. It was tried on yesterday when the president motored up to the Auditorium theater to speak, with the riot as a result.

The police were useless. As the president's car flashed into sight the angry word "Shame" leaped from lip to lip. There was a swift surge outward, and the thin line of women sashed in the colors of the party rumbled up like a rank of paper dolls.

Michigan avenue in front of the Congress hotel rang with screams and oaths. The "insulting" banners bobbed for a sudden, agitated moment above the crowd like a fishing fleet hit by a squall, and then sank.

They never rose. Umbrellas, canes, hands and feet ripped them to bits and smashed in the street. So vicious was the attack on the handful of women that many were knocked down and trampled. Those who attempted to defend their banners were beaten on the knuckles until their grip relaxed. Hats were torn off. Hair fell in cascades. Hairpins jumped like Mexican beans on the pavement. Walls rose, trees fell, waists parted, stays creaked, and women were wild in Michigan avenue.

Cries of "Dishwashers!" "Where's your baby?" "Down with suffragists!" and "Back to the kitchen!" were still ringing the boulevard welkin when the president serenely put forth his opening words to the women assembled in the theater.

Although men predominated in the assault on the "silent demonstration," many women also darted in to the melee and registered a few spiteful nicks on their sorely outnumbered sisters. From 15,000 to 20,000 persons packed in Michigan boulevard and Congress street witnessed the annihilation of Wilson's women opponents.

PHRASE NAUSEATING, SAYS T. R.
Cites Result if Lincoln Had 'Kept Us Out of War.'

Emporia, Kas., Oct. 20.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, speaking in a driving snowstorm here last night, told a large crowd that "Kansas, of all states, should resent that phrase, 'he kept us out of war.'" Col. Roosevelt devoted his brief talk from the rear platform of his car to an attack on the foreign policy of President Wilson.

"If Abraham Lincoln had kept us out of war there would have been no free state of Kansas," Col. Roosevelt asserted. "If our forefathers had believed in 'safety first' there would be no United States today. The phrase is nauseating to a patriot acquainted with the history of our country."

PLEADS FOR OPERATION.

Man at Richmond Urges Surgeons to Act Despite Danger.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Charles F. Wilson, 25 years old, of Wilkerson, Tenn., while suffering from the effects of a bullet in his brain which he said was fired by his sweetheart, accidentally, pleaded with surgeons last night to remove the leaden ball, realizing that the operation might mean death. The surgeons refused, and he is waiting word from relatives.

IT HOPES ANDERSON RULING WILL HOLD

Department of Justice at Sea Regarding Poll
Fraud Law.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—The department of justice is in the unusual predicament of conducting a wide-spread investigation for election conspiracy frauds without having a known valid law on which to base prosecutions even if the frauds are discovered.

These investigations are taking place throughout the middle west and in Pennsylvania and New York and Denver, Colo. It is estimated that from fifty to a hundred special agents of the department of justice are now combing the country "discovering" election frauds. Most of these are in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio, but there are a number of them in other places.

If it is found that election frauds have been perpetrated by the wholesale, as the department seems to think they have, then any prosecutions will have to be based on section 37 of the penal code, which defines and provides a penalty for a conspiracy to defraud the United States.

However, there is much doubt about whether this section takes in election frauds. Judge Brown of the federal court in Rhode Island, has ruled that it does not. Judge Anderson of Indiana, in the Terre Haute case ruled otherwise. The department, therefore, does not really know whether section 37 applies to elections or not. It hopes that the decision of Judge Brown will be overruled by the supreme court and that of Judge Anderson upheld, but it is not at all sure that this is going to be the case.

It was learned today that federal agents, working under the direction of Hinton C. Clabaugh of Chicago, have been working in Danville, Bloomington, and East St. Louis, Ill.

It is reported that the department feels that sufficient evidence of fraud

WILSON URGES FIRM STAND FOR AMERICA

Chicago's Ovation to President Eclipses Demonstration of Many Years.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—President Wilson speaking to a new citizens' meeting here, declared last night that foreign born of the United States should put their American allegiance above all others. He praised the ideals that brought new citizens to the United States and outlined his belief that in the determination of the future of the world after the present war America will play an important part.

During a strenuous twelve hours in Chicago the president addressed a collection of women as "fellow citizens," upheld the principle of the eight-hour day and urged that progressives of all parties work for a broader America.

Ovation is Tremendous. Chicago's ovation to the president was tremendous, and it outdid anything of the kind accorded public men in many years. The crowds clamoring to see and to hear Mr. Wilson were even larger and more vociferous than the throngs of 1912 in the days of the bull moose call. They threw into the shade the ovations Bryan used to get in his palmiest days as a crowd magnet.

A demonstration lasting more than five minutes greeted the president at a new citizens' meeting last night. Men stood on chairs and cheered, waving their hats. The president bowed again and again. The applause ended when a clergyman began an invocation. The preliminary speakers were constantly interrupted by shouts of "Wilson, Wilson."

Crowd Stands and Cheers.

When the president rose the crowd led by Gov. Dunne, stood and cheered uproariously. "I come here tonight to address those who have newly sworn allegiance to the United States," said the president, "but I realize that I cannot do so without speaking to my own conscience and to the conscience of the other people of the nation." He pointed out that the new citizens had chosen their new allegiance. "Within the last few months," he added, "some distinctions have been drawn. A man or a woman who becomes a citizen of the United States is not expected to give up his or her love for the country of their birth.

"But people who come to this country are expected to put their new allegiance above every other allegiance. It puts an obligation on him.

"The future of this nation depends upon the self control and loyalty of its citizens. Only by conscience and by loyalty felt in every throb of the heart can you become true citizens."

"A free self governing people is a people which does not need to be watched."

"Say It Again," is Demand.

old country here.

"The strength of a nation does not rest so much in its thinking as in its feeling. Outside the heart there is no life. You must see to it that you do not hold aloof.

"You must remember that the United States has a great part to play in the world. Can you imagine a nation more fitted to play a great part? A nation made up of the world should understand the world."

He said the United States stands for the rights of mankind everywhere.

"We are prepared to understand other nations."

He said the men lost at Vera Cruz were drawn from four different stocks.

CRANK GIVES CHASE TO WILSON'S AUTO AT PITTSBURG

Long-Bladed Knife and a Bottle of Liquid Are Found Among Tools.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—President Wilson and W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state, met here today for the first time in months. The president stopped in Pittsburg for an hour and a half on the way from Chicago to Long Branch, N. J., and Mr. Bryan came here on the way to speak in the district of Representative W. W. Bailey, of Johnstown, Pa.

In the course of his automobile ride about the city the president lost his hat, and the automobile was stopped while a secret service man recovered it.

Crank jumps on running board, with a bag of tools, jumped upon the running board of the automobile, but was knocked off by a secret service man. The man chased the president's conveyance for a block before he was arrested by local detectives.

The prisoner gave his name as Richard Callen, aged 22, a machinist of this city. On his way to the police station he told the police that he was not at all satisfied with President Wilson's conduct of the European war.

TELLS OF FRIGHTFUL DEVASTATION IN WAR

Battlefields of France Scenes of Most Terrible Destruction.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 20.—The terrible destruction wrought on the battlefields of France is described in an official communique from the Canadian war records office which has been made public by Lieut. General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia. Incidentally the communique iterates the claims of the British leaders in regard to the superiority of the allies in the air and in the artillery. In the latter respect the Canadian officers say that the allies are firing shells to the Germans.

Describing the destruction caused by the tremendous struggle the communique says: "Never has the human agency controlled such engines of destruction nor has ever war so profoundly impressed itself upon the face of nature. No plague could be more ruthless, no natural blight more devastating."

In regard to the situation in the air the communique says: "In this respect the British and French domination is almost absolute. Here all day long we watch our planes circling above our heads. Closely they come and go with the speed and alertness of birds; far off they seem to hang suspended in the sky. Occasionally a flight of five or more planes, intent upon some special mission, go over high up and disappear into the distant mist. So rarely do the German machines appear that some men who have been here for a month have not seen a single one."

Muncie Woman Says She Didn't Shoot at Doctor

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 20.—Miss Grace Harris, for whom the Indianapolis police were looking, has returned to her home here and in a statement denied she fired any shots at Dr. C. C. Hanna, at Indianapolis, last night. She said she was not near his home at the time of the shooting, but she thought she could name the woman who did fire the revolver at the physician. The local police have not taken any steps toward placing Miss Harris under custody and will not do so unless charges of some kind should be filed against her in Indianapolis, she said.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—The police today were still looking for Miss Grace Harris, of Muncie, to question her as to her whereabouts last night when a woman fired four shots through a window at

ENGINEER LOSES HIS LIFE IN RESCUE WORK

Four Bodies Thus Far Recovered from Explosion-Wrecked Mine.

Fairmont, W. Va., Oct. 20.—L. M. Jones, a mining engineer, sent to Fairmontville, near here, yesterday, in charge of a trained crew from the Pittsburg station of the bureau of mines to conduct the work of rescue at the Jamison mine, where more than a dozen men had been entombed by an explosion, was asphyxiated in the workings early today. Jones, with seven other men, had reached the bottom of the shaft where canary birds were released to test the air. All the birds were almost immediately killed and Jones, who had advanced further into the workings, also fell to the tracks. His companions, advancing to his rescue, felt the force of the gas and one by one were overcome. All quickly recovered except Jones when brought to the surface.

Four bodies of men at work in the mine have been recovered. These men, the rescue party said, had evidently been killed by gas as their bodies bore no mark of the explosion. Jones was one of the government's best rescue directors. He is the fourth engineer killed in rescue work.

John Shuster, a veteran of the civil war and a retired employe of the Pennsylvania machine shop, died at St. Joseph's hospital early Friday morning at the age of seventy years. Death was due to a fractured skull, which he suffered on Monday evening when he fell from the kitchen door.

Last Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock he started out of the back door of the kitchen. In some manner unknown to the other members of the family he fell to the sidewalk, a distance of but a few feet. Members of the family, hearing him fall, rushed to his side. He was carried into the house and a physician was summoned. His condition was not regarded as serious at that time. However, Tuesday, at midnight, he became worse and he was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Shuster, who resided at 2718 Maumee avenue, was born in Pennsylvania, but had resided in Fort Wayne for many years. He was a member of company E, 25th Indiana volunteer infantry. Last July he was put on the Pennsylvania pension list after completing many years of faithful service.

The deceased was a member of the I. O. O. F. and active in its affairs. Besides the widow he is survived by three sons: Walter, Frank and Clayton, of this city; five daughters, Mrs. Laura Kniffen, of Chicago; Mrs. Fannie Leathman and Mrs. Clara Meyers, of New Haven; Mrs. Florence Kramm, of this city; and Mrs. Lillian Bulkey, also of Fort Wayne. There are also sixteen grandchildren.

SIX THOUSAND AFFECTED.

Trouble Develops in Pennsylvania Soft Coal District.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Oct. 20.—Six thousand bituminous coal miners are affected by a strike at seven mines of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Coke company, near here. The outside men at all the mines demand an eight hour day with the same pay as given them for ten hours, while the miners at a number of the other workings ask for a readjustment of the weight scale.

Two bullets were fired through a window from a porch and imbedded themselves in the wall within a radius of a few inches. A line from the holes in the glass to the holes in the wall show that the bullets missed their mark by a fraction of an inch.

Neighbors told the police that they had seen a woman sitting on the porch for several minutes before they heard the shots.

RUN AND WALK IF YOU WOULD SHARPEN THE WITS, SAYS NEW CHAMPION.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—For better health, for brightening the eye and sharpening the wits, walking and running have the call, according to Sidney Hatch, newsboy and athlete, who has just set a new world's record for running 100 miles.

Hatch ran from Milwaukee to Chicago in 14 hours, 50 minutes and 30 seconds. The previous record was 13 hours, 33 minutes, held by Albert Corey, Frenchman.

Hatch is 30. He has reached an age when most athletes are in the has-been class. Hatch is right at his prime and a champion.

After his record-breaking feat Hatch slept twenty hours then went back to his paper route in River Forest, Ill., his home.

"Running and walking are good for one's health," Hatch said, "because you can't be a good runner or walker and dissipate or smoke or eat the wrong things. It settles down to the question of taking care of one's self. I recommend walking and running for everybody."

TURBULENT SCENES IN GREEK CAPITAL

Reservists Take Law Into Own Hands and Refuse to Aid Allies.

London, Oct. 20.—Extremely turbulent conditions in Athens on Wednesday night are reported in a dispatch from Reuters' correspondent at the Greek capital set that evening.

Greek reservists have taken the law in their own hands despite the presence of strong entente detachments of marines who are given virtually no assistance by the Greek authorities in maintaining order, the dispatch declares.

RESENTS AMERICAN ATTITUDE.

French Press Miffed by U. S. Criticism of Allies in Greece.

Paris, Oct. 19.—(0:00 p. m.)—The Journal des Debats in a long leader on the Greek situation calls attention to the press campaign against Venizelos in Spanish and other papers of Germanophile tendencies and regrets finding in the American press certain strictures concerning the action of the allies toward an "independent state."

"Our American confreres," says the paper, "have only to recall the history of their own country to dispel thoughts that the allies committed acts of violence contrary to the large principles of international relations. As Washington rebelled against the arbitrary procedure of Great Britain in order that he might found a free state, so Venizelos went to Saloniki to create a new country. As France gave with enthusiasm its armed co-operation to Washington so she may and ought to give it to Venizelos without infringing the great principles which inspire free peoples. This time, however, France and Great Britain are proceeding in accord for the same cause. We should be happy to see the United States of America faithful to the memory of their struggle for independence and recognizing with us that free Greece is found at this moment at Saloniki and no longer at Athens."

BRITISH ARE DRIVEN OUT

Germans Regain Trenches Recently Lost on the Somme Front.

TEUTONS SMASH BRITISH "TANKS"

Serbian Progress in Vigorous Campaign Against Monastir.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Teutonic successes reported in today's official announcement from German army headquarters include the recapture on the Somme front in northern France of the greater part of the trenches taken by the British on Oct. 18 between Eaucourt l'Abbaye and Le Barque, three miles southwest of Bapaume.

British attacks last evening north of Courcellette and east of Le Sars are declared by Berlin to have failed. The destruction of three of the new British armoured cars, or "tanks," is also reported.

Teutonic forces on the eastern front, the German war office announces, have repulsed Russian counter-attacks near Svinitsky, on the Stokhod, in Volhynia; have stormed an important height on the Narayuka, southwest of Lemberg, in Galicia, capturing more than 2,000 men and eleven machine guns, and have driven the Russians from the summit of Mount Rusul in the southern Carpathians.

In Transylvania the Austro-German armies are continuing their attack on the Rumanian frontier but apparently without notable success. No specific mention of progress in any sector is made by Berlin.

Serbian troops on the western end of the Macedonian front are reported successfully continuing their vigorous campaign for Monastir. Through Paris today comes official announcement of the capture of the village of Velezelo within the bend of the Cerma river, southeast of Monastir. The Bulgarians are said to have suffered heavy losses, including 100 men prisoners and three cannon and to have been put to rout.

The situation in Greece remains extremely confused. News dispatches from Athens, long delayed in transmission and recording the development of the situation there only up to Wednesday night, report turbulent conditions in the Greek capital. Greek reservists there are said to have taken the law into their own hands, despite the presence of strong contingents of entente marines, with the Greek authorities doing virtually nothing to control them.

BIG MEETING HUGE SUCCESS

Four National Figures Take Part in Program at Palace Theater.

At one of the largest rallies ever held by the democrats in Fort Wayne four national figures, Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, Prof. Stockton Axson, brother-in-law of President Wilson, and Senator Thomas Taggart and John W. Kern, made speeches at the Palace theater Thursday night before an audience that packed the theater.

Achievements of the national administration in foreign relations, finance, the Mexican situation and its enactment of the Adamson law, the rural credits law and the currency bill were all embodied in the speeches which were given rapid attention with intervals of most enthusiastic applause. The four distinguished visitors left Friday morning for Lagrange, where another big democratic meeting was held.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—That Mrs. Hazel Krider, under arrest in Indianapolis on a charge of forgery is wanted here by the local police authorities on a charge of child desertion, was the statement made this morning by Court Matron O'Donnell. Mrs. O'Donnell recalled the finding of a neglected baby at the home of a woman here where it had been left. Health authorities were notified and the babe was found to be dying of starvation. It was given attention and its grandmother at Billtown, notified. She took the infant to her home. Mrs. O'Donnell branded as false the woman's statement that she had been refused permission to see her child and said a charge is pending against her of child neglect.

MEXICAN MINING MAN TAKEN BEFORE VILLA

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 20.—Thomas Mendez, a mining man employed by one of the companies in the Chihuahua district, is here today to receive medical treatment for wounds inflicted by Villa bandits. Mendez said he was in Casi when Villa and Salazar entered there with 800 men on Sept. 26. He was called from his home and taken before Villa himself for examination. After being told that he could go Villa warned him if he ever worked for an American company he would be executed, Mendez said.

After returning to his home and retiring, Mendez says he was awakened by the screams of his wife and discovered that Martin Lopez, a brother of Pablo Lopez, and a band of Villa's men were looting his home. He started to run when a bandit shot him. Mendez said Villa looted unusually well and had shaved off the beard which he was reported to have worn at the attack of Chihuahua City.

JOKER AT ELKHART HAS FUN WITH THE PRESIDENT

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 20.—When President Wilson's train made a ten-minute stop here to change engines yesterday the president was greeted by a crowd of 10,000 persons and spent the time chatting and joking with those close to his platform.

One man called out, "Is our next president with you?"

Mr. Wilson smiled and bowed, and replied, "I hope so."

"I mean Secretary Lansing," called back the man in the crowd, evidently having in mind the fact that the secretary of state may act as president over Sunday, inasmuch as inauguration day comes on Sunday. "Oh," said President Wilson. "No, he is not here."

MAKES PLEA FOR COLISEUM

Judge Eggeman, at Great Democratic Rally, Tells of Need.

Complete Arrangements for Closing Work of Big Hall Boosters.

Although the speaking program at the Palace last night, when thousands heard Senators Kern and Taggart, Secretary McAdoo and Prof. Stockton Axson, was filled to the limit, the presiding officer, Judge John Eggeman, of the Allen county circuit court, took occasion to make a plea with the great mass of voters present to remember the need of a great convention hall in Fort Wayne and to vote in favor of the project at the coming general election—November 7.

The hundreds who were fortunate in securing seats in the Palace theater appreciated the force of Judge Eggeman's presentation of the need, for at that very moment, hundreds of persons who sought entrance to the theater were barred out because there was no more room within the big building.

Committee Session Tonight

This evening, at the Commercial club, the citizens' convention hall committee of one hundred will meet to make final arrangements for the closing days of the campaign to bring out a large vote for the coliseum project. Among the matters to be decided upon is the manner of voting and also to make some slight revision of the schedule of speaking dates at the shop meetings to be held, beginning next Monday noon.

Bricklayers' Union For It

The citizens' convention hall committee has received from Henry D. Kendrick, secretary of Bricklayers' union, No. 2, the following letter:

"It will be too late by the time of our next meeting to place the convention hall resolution before the body, as we do not meet until November 6, but as I have talked with a majority of our members in regard to this project, I can assure you of our unanimous support."

Friars Take Action

The Friars' club, by a unanimous vote, has declared in favor of the prompt erection of a municipal convention building.

Chill Over State Brings Seventeen Degree Drop in Temperature.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—The temperature dropped seventeen degrees from 7 o'clock yesterday morning to 9 o'clock this morning over the greater part of the state, officials of the weather bureau here announced. The thermometer here stood at 35 degrees at 9 o'clock today. It was getting colder, and the forecast for tonight was temperature as low as 25 degrees in some parts of the state.

Just how long the cold wave will continue is problematical, the weather bureau officials said, but if the expected fair weather comes tonight it probably will mean the cold soon will leave. The first snow of the autumn fell in central Indiana today. It followed a rain, and was driven by a high wind. Wire communications were interfered with seriously by the wind.

The weather is not unusual for the time of year, it was said.

Similar weather conditions were reported in Illinois and as far north as Duluth, which reported a snow from two to six inches deep in northern Minnesota.

DEATH CLAIMS BUSINESS MAN

Isidor Seelberg Succumbs to Pneumonia After Brief Illness.

HAD BEEN AILING FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Deceased Came to This Country from Germany at Age of 21.

Isidor Seelberg, one of Fort Wayne's most prominent business men, died at 1015 o'clock Friday morning at St. Joseph's hospital where he had been a patient but one day. He was sixty-one years of age and death was due to pneumonia. The deceased lived at 827 West Wayne street.

He had been ailing for the past few weeks and ten days ago was seized with an attack of pleurisy, but his condition was not regarded as serious. Thursday afternoon, however, pneumonia developed and he was taken to the hospital in the evening. He rested fairly well during the night but Friday morning he grew gradually worse. Only a limited number of his many friends and acquaintances were aware of his illness.

His death, therefore, comes as a great shock to the entire community.

The deceased was born in Steinbach, Germany, but came to America with his brother-in-law, Louis Wolf, when he was twenty-one years of age. A few years later the two went into partnership and conducted a store in Fort Wayne. In 1887, Mr. Seelberg went to Van Wert, O., where he went into the clothing business and remained there until 1898. He sold out his interests in the Ohio city and came back to Fort Wayne where he opened the Seelberg store on East Perry street. For some years he has conducted this place of business with his two sons, Maurice and Edmund Seelberg.

Mr. Seelberg was very widely known and as a business man he was highly successful. He was a member of the Adolphus Veshalom congregation and of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith.

FAILED BANK TO PAY 20 CENTS ON DOLLAR

Court Approves Report in Bankrupt Concern at Noblesville.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 20.—Special Judge Parr, of Lebanon, came to Noblesville yesterday afternoon and approved the report of John L. Dulin, receiver for the Hamilton Trust company, which was closed a year ago by the auditor of state. At the same time he declined further jurisdiction in the case and turned over all matters growing out of this litigation to Judge Cloc.

The report of the receiver provides for the distribution of a dividend of 20 per cent which will amount in round numbers to $40,000.

This money will be paid to the depositors and other interested parties as soon as the amounts can be figured. The following is a synopsis of Dulin's report to the court: Total cash on hand, October 17, 1916, $31,425.54; total claims allowed, $200,012.95; twenty per cent of the claims allowed, $40,002.58; preferred claims pending, $27,925.41; taxes due in 1917, estimated, $2,900. There will be another dividend later, but as to the time and the amount neither the court nor the receiver will venture a guess. Judge Parr made no allowance to the attorney or receiver for their services. These amounts will have to be adjusted by Judge Cloc at a later date.

RESERVE LAW FARMERS' AID

MAKES REFERENCE

Currency Head Points to
Department.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, speaking here today before the Farmers' National Congress, described the relation of the federal reserve law to the farmer and closed with a personal statement brought out by President Wilson's recent allusion to attacks on the comptroller.

"I see that our president, in an address at Shadow Lawn," said the comptroller, "tells the country that the bankers, or certain bankers, or some special interests, are after my official scalp because I, as the comptroller of the currency, have enforced the laws. This is no surprise to me.

"I know that I have been held up as a kind of ogre, a rawhead and bloody-bones, a terror to the banking and financial interests of the country. Maybe the best answer to that may be found in the records and indisputable facts, that the national banks of the country today are stronger and in better condition than ever before, they are more numerous than when I became comptroller; are more prosperous and show a smaller proportion of failures and losses than was ever known in their history; and my office is receiving a steady stream of applications for charters for new national banks and for permission to increase the capital of the existing banks."

An Aid to Farmer.
Mr. Williams said the new federal reserve law will forbid "the grasping from using for their own advantage the necessities of their neighbors" and that it puts the farmer on the same plane as the business man.

"The farmer," he said, "is enabled to borrow according to his industry and commercial standing because his banks know how and where to get the money. It will not be possible to have the money supply locked in the great centers for speculation and gambling purposes, while the real producers and legitimate productive commerce are pinched or denied, perhaps just at the time of their most important need."

Cries of back to the farm, he said, were futile without promise of comfort and happiness and prospect.

"Put money, or opportunity to earn money on the farms and the people will come back fast enough and stay."

He also declared that interest charges had been reduced.

Congress Closes Today.

The thirty-sixth annual Farmers' National congress closed here today after being in session since Tuesday. The final business session late this afternoon was devoted to the election of officers, most of whom have served for the past year only. The custom in the organization is to give the officers two years.

The officers are: President, H. E. Stockbridge, Atlanta, Ga.; vice presidents, J. A. Devanny, Morris, Minn., and John W. Barger, Waverley, Ohio; Treasurer, D. K. Unsicker, Wright, Iowa, and secretary, J. P. Griffin, Tip-topville, Tenn. One new member of the executive committee was to be elected.

The final day's program included some of the more important addresses of the session. John Skelton Williams, United States controller of currency, spoke on the "Federal Reserve Banks and the Farmers," and G. I. Christie, of Purdue university, spoke on "Taking the College to the Farmer." Carl

What is a RIGHT store for young men?

"RIGHT" doesn't mean a store that makes price its chief claim to your attention. As a rule, young men haven't very much money to spend for clothes; and yet clothes are very important to them.

And there's the whole thing.

Any man who hasn't much money to spend, and to whom clothes are very important, MUST consider something besides price. And that's why we sell and make a specialty of selling these.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for young men

There's not a young man in this town, who amounts to anything, or who ever will amount to anything, who doesn't know, as a business proposition, that the important point in buying anything is what you get, not what you pay.

It's all a question of value; and value in clothes means style, quality of materials, tailoring, fit; the things that give service and satisfaction in clothes.

You can find plenty of lower priced clothes than Hart Schaffner & Marx make; but you'll never see any that are better value per dollar.

NOTICE—This store has on hand, now, ready to show you, more all wool, hand-tailored Suits and Overcoats than you can find in all other clothing stores in Fort Wayne. There is only one way to get rid of all these fine garments. This is the Way.

Elephant Butte, N. M., Oct. 20.—The Elephant Butte dam, completed recently at a cost of $5,900,000 and intended to impound the largest artificially retained body of water in the world, was dedicated here yesterday by A. A. Jones of President Wilson.

Three hundred and fifty delegates to the International Irrigation congress and the dedication committee.

The dam, which was constructed by

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Hazel
Krieger, 21, and Clifford Goodwin, 24, of Terre Haute, were arrested late yesterday and are held charged with forging checks for sums aggregating about $1,000.
When arrested they had their trunks packed and were prepared to leave the city. Goodwin, in his statements to the police, places most of the blame on the woman. His home is in Sellersburg, Ind., but since three weeks ago he had been driving a taxicab in Terre Haute. While engaged in this work he met Mrs. Krieger.
He said he was surprised when she offered to buy him an automobile and fit him out with fine clothes.

Shortly after they met he told the police they went to his home in Sellersburg, where he introduced Mrs. Krieger as his wife. He said his first check was cashed at his home town. Coming to Indianapolis they engaged rooms at a hotel and had been living together.

STAGE STAR USES AUTO AS HER DRESSING ROOM.

Wanda Lyons

Miss Lyons, although she has scored one of the most marvelous theatrical successes in recent years, having risen from an unknown little Salt Lake City girl to a Broadway star in three brief years, does not like to spend an unnecessary moment in the theater.

The time spent in the dressingroom making up she considered as wasted time when she could be out in her car.
Prompted by this thought, she began to devise a way to avoid the losing of this time.

With the assistance of the experts, a special motor car containing a folding mirror, dressing table and clothes hooks was designed, and now the captivating little prima donna enters the car at her hotel dressed in street attire, and with the assistance of her colored maid emerges at the stage door of the theater where she is playing, made up and dressed for her first appearance before her audiences.

Not a moment is lost, and fully thirty minutes are saved from her time in the theater.

Miss Lyons is enthusiastic over her dressingroom car, and fully expects it to be adopted by many busy society women as a time saver between the afternoon dress and the full dress evening social affairs.

There's not a young man in this town, who amounts to anything, or who ever will amount to anything, who doesn't know, as a business proposition, that the important point in buying anything is what you get, not what you pay.

It's all a question of value; and value in clothes means style, quality of materials, tailoring, fit; the things that give service and satisfaction in clothes.

You can find plenty of lower priced clothes than Hart Schaffner & Marx make; but you'll never see any that are better value per dollar.

NOTICE—This store has on hand, now, ready to show you, more all wool, hand-tailored Suits and Overcoats than you can find in all other clothing stores in Fort Wayne. There is only one way to get rid of all these fine garments. This is the Way.

Elephant Butte DAM DEDICATED

Elephant Butte, N. M., Oct. 20.—The Elephant Butte dam, completed recently at a cost of $5,000,000 and intended to impound the largest artificially retained body of water in the world, was dedicated here yesterday by A. A. Jones of New Mexico, personal representative of President Wilson.

Three hundred and fifty delegates to the International Irrigation congress and International Dry Farm congress were the dedication committee.

The dam, which was constructed by the United States reclamation service, contains 608,000 cubic yards of concrete and is 1,313.7 feet long at the top. An 18-foot roadway is built on top of the dam. The first work was begun in 1904.

Dry farming is the most highly organized of all agricultural methods and develops the best citizenship in the rural districts, William Jardine of Manhattan, Kan., president of the Farming congress, said in his annual address.

MAN AND WOMAN HELD ON FORGERY CHARGES

Pair Cuts $1,000 Swath at Indianapolis Before Capture Comes.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Hazel Krider, 21, and Clifford Goodwin, 24, of Terre Haute, were arrested late yesterday and are held charged with forging checks for sums aggregating about $1,000. When arrested they had their trunks packed and were prepared to leave the city. Goodwin, in his statements to the police, places most of the blame on the woman. His home is in Sellersburg, Ind., but since three weeks ago he had been driving a taxicab in Terre Haute. While engaged in this work he met Mrs. Krider. He said he was surprised when she offered to buy him an automobile and fit him out with fine clothes.

Shortly after they met he told the police they went to his home in Sellersburg, where he introduced Mrs. Krider as his wife. He said her first check was cashed at his home town. Coming to Indianapolis they engaged rooms at a hotel and had been living together.

HALL TOO SMALL.
Senators Taggart and Kern Given Reception at Columbia City.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 20.—Senators John W. Kern and Thomas Taggart were given a great reception here yesterday afternoon when they spoke in the Commercial club hall. The hall was much too small to accommodate the tremendous crowd and many could not even get inside. Both senators discussed the national issues and urged the election of the entire democratic ticket.

WENT JOY RIDING IN MINISTER'S CAR

Police were hunting the touring car belonging to Rev. Arthur J. Folsom, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, for several hours Thursday night. The machine was taken early in the evening from the corner of Jefferson and Harrison streets.

It was after 10 o'clock when the car was found at the corner of Jefferson and Lafayette streets. The automobile had been run nearly fifty miles and had evidently been appropriated by joy riders.

STAGE STAR USES AUTO AS HER DRESSING ROOM.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 19.—Here's new and novel use for an automobile. Miss Wanda Lyons, the charming young prima donna of the big New York Winter Garden extravaganza, "A World of Pleasure," has had an automobile company construct for her a combination pleasure car and traveling dressing room, and if Miss Lyons is to be believed, the machine is a huge success, and its general introduction may revolutionize the motor car industry.

Miss Lyons, although she has scored one of the most marvelous theatrical successes in recent years, having risen from an unknown little Salt Lake City girl to a Broadway star in three brief years, does not like to spend an unnecessary moment in the theater.

The time spent in the dressingroom making up she considered as wasted time when she could be out in her car. Prompted by this thought, she began to devise a way to avoid the losing of this time.

With the assistance of the experts, a special motor car containing a folding mirror, dressing table and clothes hooks was designed, and now the captivating little prima donna enters the car at her hotel dressed in street attire, and with the assistance of her colored maid emerges at the stage door of the theater where she is playing, made up and dressed for her first appearance before her audiences.

Not a moment is lost, and fully thirty minutes are saved from her time in the theater.

Miss Lyons is enthusiastic over her dressingroom car, and fully expects it to be adopted by many busy society women as a time saver between the afternoon daisies and the full dress evening social affairs.

Now ready—special line of matron's hats.

Judge Us For Yourself

We want the buying public of Fort Wayne to be our judge. We place ourselves before you—and we can look you square in the eye—that we have done the square and right thing with you since we opened our store in your city. We met the competition of the clothing business in Fort Wayne face to face, placed our values before you for your criticism and to decide for yourself.

What Has Been the Result?

We met with a tremendous success, our business has grown steadily—men recognized at once our far superior values—men reciprocated not alone with their patronage, but have recommended our clothes to their neighbors and friends. Every Sherman's customer is a living advertisement for Sherman's Clothes.

We said in plain English that we will sell you at our factory price, $10, a $15 to $18 value which we have done and will continue to do—we are not located here temporarily, but have been here for years and will be here for many years to come. We stated plainly our iron clad guarantee, that our clothes must give you absolute satisfaction in every detail or your money back. We have carried out our promises to the letter.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

Hebrews 12:1-11.

1 Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,
2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.
3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.
4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.
5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:
6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.
7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?
8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.
9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?
10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.
11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

Wilson and the People

No better commentary on President Wilson's strength with the great mass of the American people and the tremendous hold he has on the regard, the esteem and the confidence of the public could be imagined than that which was illustrated anew by the journey to Chicago which he has just completed. The trip from start to finish was a continued story of fine interest and enthusiastic ovation. It mattered not at all in what state he chanced to find himself, be the hour early or late, there were cheering throngs at the railway stations, eager to get a glimpse of President Wilson, to shake his hand and to listen to such message as he was able in the few moments at hand to give them. Northern Indiana was conspicuously friendly. At Kendallville, at Ligonier, at Goshen, at Elkhart, at South Bend and at Gary the story was the same. It was an outpouring of assurance of goodwill and cordial endorsement.

Chicago, however, appears to have easily capped the climax in its demonstration for the president. The Tribune, which is earnestly supporting Mr. Hughes, carries across its front page the eight-column line, "Crowds Riot to Hear Wilson." When Mr. Wilson arrived, says the Tribune, "thousands jammed the streets at the noon hour and cheered lustily." At the night meeting, "about 15,000 crowded into the pavilion and a crowd of 10,000 was estimated to be on the outside fighting the police for admission." The Herald, more independent in character but with a distinct trend toward Mr. Hughes, proclaims in its blackest type, "Wilson Stirs Big Crowds." It says the president "received demonstrations of the sort Colonel Roosevelt used to draw in Chicago during the white house days," and that "old-timers said its like had not been seen during a national campaign since Chicago grew up from a village." Other Chicago newspapers are similarly frank in acknowledging that the ovation was the greatest ever accorded a president in Chicago.

The point of the thing is that this sort of tribute isn't paid by the people to one whom they distrust, in whom they have lost confidence, for whom they have ceased to entertain the highest regard, or one who has ceased to represent their highest ideals. They do not accord that sort of reception to one whom they are preparing to desert or for whose attitude they have either but lukewarm admiration, unfavorable criticism or downright resentment. If there has been a belief anywhere that President Wilson has lost his tremendous hold upon the hearts, the sympathies and the confidence of the people, his reception everywhere should quickly show that any such idea is wholly unfounded. The people are still with Wilson.

New testimony to the tireless labors, the high efficiency and the valuable public services of Congressman Cline was brought to the Twelfth district Thursday evening by Secretary McAdoo, Senator Kern and Senator Taggart. Each of them, in the course of addresses at the Palace theater, took occasion to attest the value of Mr. Cline's labors not alone to the Twelfth district, but the country at large, and each pointed the necessity of retaining in congress such men of experience, judgment and mental poise. The Twelfth district congressman was not present to hear the encomiums passed upon his fine record, but the manifestations of approval by the audience left no doubt but that Twelfth district voters are preparing to give him new endorsement by re-election in November.

Good citizens at Indianapolis have launched a movement to insure a clean election in that city, and are taking advance steps to see that only legal voters be allowed to cast ballots. Moreover, federal and county aid is promised unreservedly in protecting the integrity of the ballot. The effort is not only admirable, but it should be productive of good results. Indianapolis has learned by experience the advantage of taking time by the forelock in matters of this kind. There is little to be gained by working up a fine frenzy after the illegal ballots have been cast and counted. Herein the ounce of prevention axiom applies with singular fitness.

Further peaceful intent of that eminent pacifist, Colonel Roosevelt, was supplied at Emporia, Kan., where, in the course of an address for Mr. Hughes, the colonel remarked that "if Abraham Lincoln had kept us out of war, there would have been no free state of Kansas." All that seems to be lacking in Colonel Roosevelt's program for Mr. Hughes is the formal declaration of hostilities, and with Colonel Roosevelt behind pushing a bit a little formality like that shouldn't be a difficult matter if he gets the chance.

Locked up at Indianapolis after having purchased an auto, clothing and jewels to the value of about $1,000 by means of forged checks before they were caught, that Terre Haute woman and that Sellersburg man will doubtless now have plenty of time to determine whether the splurge in wealth, brilliant as it was while it lasted, was really worth while, after all.

Candidate Benson has wired Candidate Hughes to inquire why he doesn't criticize President Wilson more. And all the while Candidate Hughes is doing the very best he can with the mighty slender groundwork for doing it.

ROUGH WARNING FOR MOTORISTS.

(South Bend News-Times.)

The Los Angeles board of public works is experimenting with a new kind of railroad signal, in an effort to protect motorists from accidents at crossings. On the Mission road from Los Angeles to Pasadena, where the smooth surface is an almost irresistible temptation to "scorching," and where there have been many mishaps, the board is carefully inserting obstacles in the highway fifty feet each side of the railroad tracks. There are various kinds of obstruction—ridges across the road, channels and pits. The idea is that any motorist who fails to see or hear the regular crossing signals will have such a warning jolted into him by the "thank-you-ma'am" in the road that he will perform slow up and avoid danger.

It's rough treatment, especially for the tourist who has had no means of knowing about the obstruction. It may be that in many cases the warning may prove as serious as the peril it is meant to ward off. But the plan seems to have valuable possibilities in it.

SOLDIER'S DUTY.

(Indiana Daily Times.)

Gov. Phillips of Wisconsin, asks that the national guardsmen from that state now on the border shall be mustered out immediately unless their services are needed in an emergency. This demand by a state on the commander in chief of the United States military forces forcibly suggests a possible weakness in the system by which we create and maintain forty-eight little armies for the service of a nation. It might be suggested to the governor of Wisconsin that it is the plain and simple duty of the soldier to obey the orders of his superior and to wait for orders and instructions to emanate from those who are responsible. The governor of a state is commander of the national guard of that state. When the guardsmen of the state go under the command of the president of the United States, then it is up to the subordinate to wait for marching orders and to refrain from making for orders. If a colored man in charge of a regiment of guardsmen in the field were to make a demand on Gen. Funston for the muster out of his men, that colored man would find himself very speedily in the presence of a more or less grim and gruff court-martial, with trouble in immediate prospect.

HOW EDISON INVENTED THE FIRST INCANDESCENT LAMP.

On Birthday of Incandescent Lighting Thomas A. Edison Tells How He Produced First Lamp.

"The first thing to do was to find out what the best material to use for a light producer," began Mr. Edison. "I soon made up my mind that of all the materials I could obtain in 1877 carbon was the most promising. Paper, jute, palm fiber, grasses, tissue paper coated with tar and rolled into thin sticks, charcoal, hemp—everything, in a word, was tried. Finally on October 21, 1879, I carbonized a piece of cotton sewing thread bent into a loop and sealed it in a glass globe from which the air had been pumped out. When the current was turned on, that black thread glowed for forty hours. That was really the first incandescent electric lamp. It couldn't be put on the market, of course, but it showed unmistakably that electricity could be used for incandescent lighting. I spent about $40,000 in bringing the investigation up to that point, and yet in a way that was only the beginning. A little later we placed several hundred paper-filament lamps on the market. So I began a hunt for the right kind of carbon. Men were sent all over the world to collect grasses and flax that looked promising. They brought back several hundred, and out of the lot I selected a certain kind of bamboo that grows in Japan. We made filaments out of that for nine years."

In these few words Mr. Edison tells the story of the first electric lamp. The twenty-first day of October, now known as "Edison Day," is the birthday of the electric incandescent lamp.

"No invention is perfect, and the incandescent lamp is not an exception," continued Mr. Edison. "Light without heat is the ideal, and that is still far off. The electric incandescent lamp of today has the cheapest form of filament that has ever been produced, but some day it will be cheaper and colder than it is. There is a good deal of truth in the saying that the firefly is the ideal. It is, so far as coldness goes, but its color is against it. You couldn't use a thousand-candle firefly to watch colors, and you wouldn't want the insect to light up a street, because his light would be hideous greenish yellow. But some day we will get reasonably near the firefly for efficiency without copying his disagreeable color. The task needs much investigation, much research of the kind we did in 1879. The research that we began then is still going on, and it always will go on. Somehow, each new discovery opens up the way to another."

"A laboratory is indispensable nowadays to produce an invention," he remarked. "The General Electric company has one of the largest in the world in which to develop new ideas or to improve old processes. They hire inventors new like bookkeepers. That is because the whole character of manufacturing has changed. Companies that handle a huge full of dyes at once and convert whole train loads of ore into iron and steel at a single operation have problems to consider that were not worth while bothering about fifty years ago. It pays now to save a few cents in handling a ton of material, and therefore it pays to invent a way of saving those few cents."

"You can improve, but you can't change human nature," said Edison. "It is hard, it always will be hard, to drive a new idea into the world's head. Think what it means," he continued, "to hire a new invention. Even a little improvement like sucking dirt out of a carpet with a vacuum cleaner means a revolution in housecleaning. No one likes revolution, even though they are for the best. The more important the invention, the bigger is the revolution, which means the harder your struggle to overcome prejudice. It takes a Niagara of advertising to make a man play the piano acceptably with automatic mechanism and a snatched roll of paper in one. You can imagine how hard it was to get whole cities illuminated with the electric incandescent lamp. Perhaps business men will invent some quick way of making the world see the value of a new invention. It seems to me that here and there the powers of an ordinary inventor."

The handsome double residence of Louis Feltner, on East Lewis street, has been treated to repairs that make it more attractive than ever it did. Mr. Feltner has one of the most attractive homes on East Lewis street.

Frank H. Hall, son of Rev. A. Hall, of Convoys, has disappeared and his father thinks he is somewhere in this city. He is a tall, slender, stoop-shouldered young man, about twelve years of age. When he left home he wore a brown felt hat.

At a late hour last night Frank Fry, an apprentice in the job department of The Sentinel, while wearing his way to his home in Lakeside, was "held up" on the Columbia street bridge by two men. He was relieved of $7.50, all the money he had. As the highwaymen were about to take his watch, Frank nimbly slipped from their clutches and the way he made for home was not unlike the swift escape of an urchin from a watermelon patch, with the bulidag in the background. The robbery was reported to the police, but all efforts to apprehend the guilty parties have so far failed.

MISS TARBELL DRAWS A STRIKING PARALLEL

Wilson More Like Lincoln Than Any Other Man of Our Day, She Says.

(By Milton M. Bronner.)

New York, Oct. 18.—"The more I see of Andrew Wilson, the more I see the parallel between him and Lincoln. Wilson makes me think of Lincoln in his intense Americanism, in his entire devotion to the well-being of the average man of our country and not to any particular favored class."

Thus Miss Ida M. Tarbell began, in her study in the quiet Gramercy Park section, when I asked her whether there really was a parallel between Lincoln and any man of our time.

Hardly anyone could give a more authoritative and unprejudiced answer than she. The life of Lincoln long has been one of her dearest studies. To Lincoln she has devoted some of her best and most famous books.

"Most presidents," said Miss Tarbell, "no matter how peaceful their times, have serious problems, and most of them are inclined to think that no president since Lincoln has had such troubles. In the case of Wilson the parallel has more to do with."

"Both men had a pretty clear idea that they kept to the front. With Lincoln the main idea was the preservation of the union. Wilson is seeking to keep the peace, with honor.

"Wilson makes up his mind what his object is: he sticks to it, and you can't get him away. That was Lincoln. He stuck to his object like a dog to a bone."

"Wilson, like Lincoln, doesn't make up his mind quickly, or without deep thought. A decision with him is not a matter of impulse. Wilson takes his time. He gets all the facts. He weighs them, draws his conclusion and then hangs on that. And while he does this, his mind is open to new facts."

"He has no pride of opinion. His enemies accuse him of shifting his position. An intelligent, honest man, when in a position where the facts shift, must change his position. Otherwise he would be degenerate."

"Lincoln, too, used to be accused of shifting his position, but he replied that whenever he was convinced his view was wrong, he would change. It was the true view he was after.

"I think there have been few occasions in our history in which intelligence called more urgently to a man to shift his position than in Wilson's case. And this was so because for a long time every morning he was confronted by a new set of facts in a new set of circumstances."

"Lincoln used to say before the war that the dispute about slavery should be settled by ballots and not bullets, so Wilson's position is that in a civilized world reasonable processes and not bullets should settle disputes."

"Wilson, amid a world in arms, has been trying to preserve the little body of international law that the world had worked out. He has prevented the world from stepping back entirely from the highest point it had reached."

"Lincoln felt that the world had reached a certain point as to slavery. If slavery spread in this country, he felt, the world would be going backward in its attitude toward human beings and the democratic ideal. If the small body of international law was destroyed, Wilson felt that the world would be going back in a similar manner."

"And there is another parallel, too. There was always in the north a great variety of opinion against Lincoln during the war. There were radically opposed interests united in only one thing—bitter hostility to Lincoln."

"He was opposed by the rabid abolitionists because he did not have fast enough in freeing the slaves, and there were the copperheads who were against him for just the opposite reason."

"At present, too, there are radically opposed interests united in only one thing—bitter hostility to Wilson."

"There are the rabid pro-allies, who think he should have made war on Germany, and the rabid pro-Germans, who think he was too severe with Germany."

"Lincoln in his own party had men who were opposed to him. Thus Greeley, while abhorring slavery, so detested the idea of men killing each other that he was for peace at any price."

"So, in our day, there are pacifists who oppose Wilson because, while trying to keep the country at peace, he is preparing it against aggression. They see only their ideals. They refuse to recognize the state of the world in which we live."

"Just as petty abuse and gossip followed Lincoln, so similar abuse follows Wilson. That seems to be true in times of great national stress. People become so partisan that they cannot relieve their feelings unless they invent scandals and untruths. In their bitterness they will do anything to hang something as ugly as it is false."

"Wilson's Americanism is of the kind that Lincoln's was. All his legislation has been in the interest of the common man."

DR. AND MRS. E. W. MILLER AND BRIDAL PARTY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sander, of 331 West Jefferson street, was the scene of an unusually pretty home wedding on Thursday evening. The bride, Miss Estella Charlotte Sander, an only daughter, and the groom, Dr. Emory W. Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Miller, of Plymouth, were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and Rev. J. R. Graebner, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church, officiated at the solemn ceremony. The marriage service took place by candle light, dozens and dozens of cathedral candles casting their soft light over the scene. The wedding party occupied a space between two rooms with a white kneeling bench in front and a banking of palms and the standards of candles on either side. Smiles entwined the electrolights and doorways and white roses, ferns and other greens trimmed the rooms. The selection of the wedding day was because of its being the twenty-ninth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents. The wedding music was furnished by Mr. Claude Edwards, pianist, and Miss Inella Feiertag sang "I Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Wanda Walbaum, as maid of honor, and by Miss Mabel Geiseling as ring bearer and flower girl. The bride and groom exchanged wedding rings in the marriage service. Attending the groom were his brother, Mr. Wendell Miller, and Mr. Edward Roehrs. After the bride and groom had received the congratulations of their relatives an elegant wedding dinner was served. For her marriage the bride wore a beautiful evening gown of silk net hung over satin, made with court train and trimmed with simple, but charming effect with pearls and real point lace that formed the front of the bodice. The gown was exceedingly becoming to the fair beauty of the bride, whose veil of tulle further held with strands of pearls, enhanced her charming appearance. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and sweethearts, with a cluster of sweetheart roses on side to give a bit of the bride's favorite color, pink. The bridesmaids wore in pink and blue coloring. Miss Geiseling wore a blue taffeta with a touch of pink and Miss Walbaum was in a pink crepe hung over silk, with a bouquet of pink flowers, while Miss Geiseling's yellow roses that she carried made a pretty contrasting bit of color. The little flower child was as dainty as a bit of fine china with her pink frock, shoes, ribbons and basket of pink flowers. Following the dinner a reception to friends was held, over one hundred being invited from 10 to 11 o'clock. On Friday the bride and groom went to Plymouth to visit Dr. Miller's parents for a few days, before going to Auburn, where Dr. Miller is located in the practice of his profession, that of a chiropractor. Dr. Miller and his bride will go to housekeeping in rooms over the Star office. Dr. Miller is one of Auburn's best young men and he has many friends in that city. The bride is a cultured young woman, very musical and very intelligent, and her many friends regret her leaving the city to reside. For traveling the bride wore a tailored suit of burgundy red cloth with a large violet hat of the same shade that is trimmed with an aigrette and a touch of ermine fur.

AT THE MAJESTIC

California Pictured in "Ramona," Now Showing at Majestic.

California has been celebrated in much poetry, prose and many paintings, but it has remained for W. M. Cline of Los Angeles, to give a distinctive motion picture production to the romance and beauty of the California of the early days—days made luminous in the pages of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal novel, "Ramona." The book has been elaborately visualized and set to music and is now showing at the Majestic.

James Whitcomb Riley's Play on Monday and Tuesday.

From all the country round about are pouring in mail orders for "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," which has its performance at the Majestic Monday evening and Tuesday matinee and night. There is extraordinary interest in this new Hoosier comedy of romance fashioned by Robert McLaughlin from James Whitcomb Riley's well beloved poem. Riley was idealized throughout America; his memory is cherished with peculiar tenderness in the middle West. The play, which had his endorsement and which is given by arrangement with his publishers, the Bobbs-Merrill company, comes at the psychological moment when he is very close to the hearts of young and old, of high and low degree. His appeal was universal. A very notable cast includes Orrin Johnson as the Raggedy Man; Agnes Findlay as Orphan Annie; Frederick Burton as "Doc" Sifers; George Fox as Squire Hawkins; and Richard Barber as the young poet who came out of Boone county.

"Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" Coming to the Majestic Soon.

Coming direct from a most successful engagement of one year in New York City, George M. Cohan's American farce "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" with Frank Otis as Billy Holiday, will be presented at the Majestic theater Wednesday night, Oct. 25.

Mr. Cohan, who is invariably successful in introducing quaint comedy types into plays from his pen, has created several characters in "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" that will find immediate appeal through their very naturalness. Then, too, the dialogue is said to be in Cohan's happiest vein.

The idea for the story of "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" was suggested by George Middleton and Guy Bolton. It has to do with a most superior sort of Broadway bartender, who, finding himself in a small New England village, is forced through a series of natural events into joining a temperance movement.

Now the erstwhile drink mixer turns a "wet" into a "dry" town by the force of his mental and physical prowess is told in four swift-moving acts that make for the heartiest sort of laughter.

Webster and Wilson Give Instructions on the Stage.

Webster and Wilson, the society dancers, until recently one of the features with the Valeska Surrat revue, have worked out a novel dance idea. After exhibiting several graceful and intricate steps the couple offer to instruct any one in the audience how to dance any dance he may elect within five minutes. Four dancers responded yesterday and then the fun was on, reaching a climax when all four of the ambitious tyros landed in a heap in the middle of the stage.

Morris Golden, the yiddle with the fiddle is original from his entrance to the manner in which he "takes his bows." His forte is telling stories and dancing although he never gets away from his fiddle.

The domestic sketch, "Solitaire" presented by William Grey and Gwendoline Bates, assisted by Charles Peyton, is a laughable story of a young couple's row over a baby or a puppy and the successful peacemaking venture of the young groom's lachear brother. The Harry Girls, a fascinating team of lassies who this year are singing their own arrangement of popular song hits, are proving prime favorites. Miller and Mulford, blackface comedians, with a snappy line of sidewalk repartee, and Millie Olive, the girl juggler who juggles everything in sight from bicycle wheels to umbrellas, complete the bill.

Two performances will be given Saturday evening.

LAYS FOUNDATION FOR ORGANIZATION

Arthur Bennett, General Organizer, Speaks to Electrical Workers.

Foundations for the organization of electrical workers of Fort Wayne was laid at a meeting held Thursday evening in Harmony hall. Arthur Bennett, of New York city, general organizer of the International Association of Electrical Workers, spoke to the 250 men who were in attendance.

On account of the numerous political gatherings in the city the meeting closed early in the evening and only preliminary steps were taken towards organization. However, many made out their applications. Another meeting will be held next week at which time permanent organization will be made.

Many officials of other labor organizations of the city were also present and spoke a few minutes to the large gathering. It is only a question of a few weeks until the electrical workers will have a union, say officials.

Earlham May Lose in Kerlin Estate Case

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Trustees of Earlham college and of Goshen cemetery, near here, beneficiaries under the will of Dr. Hes Kerlin, one of Chicago's best known physicians, learned yesterday that while the physician was making provisions in his will to give away an estate estimated at more than $100,000, he was in danger of being ejected from the magnificent home he had built on Sheridan road, Chicago, as a memorial to his wife. Dr. Kerlin died at Chicago last Wednesday and was buried here Monday. After his wife's death, Dr. Kerlin found his home lonely, so he asked Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ward, of Chicago, to share the house with him, giving them a warranty deed for the property in return for their companionship. But differences arose and when Kerlin asked for the return of the deed, Ward refused to hand back the instrument. Dr. Kerlin then took legal steps to obtain possession of his property. Ward countered with ejectment proceedings against Kerlin. The case was ready for trial when Kerlin died. Part of the fortune is to be used for the construction of a chapel in Goshen cemetery and a substantial sum has been set aside for the education of young men and women at Earlham college.

BIDDIE BYE TELLS HOW TO MAKE OVER DRESS OF SILK AND SERGE.

BY BIDDIE BYE.

Owing to Dame Fashion's recent lightning change from scant to full skirts, many an economically inclined woman was obliged to put aside a dress which had seen little service.

It is time to take these things from their nails and study out ways of putting two dresses into one.

The dress illustrated today is made of silk and serge, both materials having seen service. The design is so simple any woman who can follow a pattern and run a sewing machine can put it together.

Cleaning Silk.

The silk was very much soiled. To clean, it was laid flat on a marble topped table and sponged with a mixture of soap suds and alcohol. It was ironed under paper on the wrong side when almost dry. A paste of benzine and magnesia will take a bad grease stain from silk.

CAUTION. Benzine, gasoline and ether must be handled cautiously, and like alcohol, they must be kept away from flame and fire.

Cleaning Serge.

Common blue serge, if of good quality and well dyed, can be washed and ironed.

Soap bark makes the best cleansing solution for woolen goods. Put five cents' worth of soap bark in three quarts of water. After it has stood two or three hours, strain and add to the water for washing the serge.

The secret of success in handling woolen is to use water of the same temperature both for washing and rinsing and to dry the material in the same degree of heat.

"Remodeling millinery" is the subject of Biddy Bye's next article.)

Simple combination of silk and wool suitable for a made-over dress.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 20.—The local fire department was called to the home of Archie Dean, who resides in the John Branden property on South Jackson street. The fire was caused by a defective fuse, but was soon extinguished by the firemen. The place was insured.

The Duncan vs. Hamman estate case was brought to a quick close Wednesday afternoon when right in the midst of the trial the court took the case in its own hands and instructed the jury to render a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, adding interest to the amount asked to date from the time of the decedent's death to the present date, also cost of attorney's fees. The case was the outcome of a contract given Mrs. Will Duncan, of Waterloo, by her mother for a sum of money for caring for her during her illness, which the administratrix, a sister of the plaintiff, refused to pay. It had been tried before and Mrs. Duncan given $10, which she would not accept, and this was the second trial.

NEW CHAMPION OF WESTERN RANGELAND—50-YEAR-OLD INDIAN WINS WORLD'S BRONCO BUSTING TITLE.

Pendleton, Ore., Oct. 20.—A full blooded Nez Perce Indian past fifty years old is the new champion bronco buster of the world. In competition with over a hundred of the best bucking horse riders the western rangeland has produced, Jackson Sundown of Onkosee, Idaho, nephew of the famous Chief Joseph, won the championship at Pendleton's seventh annual roundup.

Thirty thousand people saw him establish his claim as champion and Indian and few white men ever received the ovation given him as he galloped around the track in the big stadium after announcement of the judges' decision. It was the most popular verdict ever made at the round-up.

Sundown has ridden at five round-ups and has qualified for the finals in three. Last year he was given third money. He is a splendid type of the native American, so ideal in fact that A. Phinister Proctor, famous New York sculptor, has been camped on his land for the past two months and has been using him as a model for a piece he is doing of an Indian pursuing a buffalo.

Other champions of wild west sports were made at the round-up, too. George Wier of Monument, N. M., retained the title he won a year ago in the steer roping contest by making the best total time in roping, busting and hog-tying three steers. Ed. McCarty of Cheyenne, winner in 1912, won second, and Chester Byers, of Mulhall, Okla., third.

Katie Wilkes of Miles City, Mont., won the title of champion cowgirl broncho buster. Bertha Blanchett of Phoenix, Ariz., holder of the title for several years, was unable to defend it because of injuries.

CAPTAIN BYROADE IS QUEST CLUB SPEAKER

Points Out Advantages to Be Gained in Early Military Training.

There is more in military training than the elementary drills, Capt. Byroade, commanding military training, Concordia college, told members of the Quest club Friday noon at luncheon at the Commercial club. The speaker said military training meant self-confidence and that scholastic records indicated the learning was on a ten per cent. higher basis in schools where there was military training.

W. H. Schiman, president of the club, presided. New members were announced as follows: Don Munzen, Wildwood Builders company; C. C. Miller, Wayne Paper Goods company; E. A. Kline, Wayne Electric works; William R. Bohan, Wolf & Deane; and W. C. Goll, Fort Wayne Electric works.

The Quest club will lead its support heartily through the individual members to the convention hall project. J. W. Fee, secretary of the club, will furnish the club a roster of the general committee working out the convention hall project. The plan to have a special committee from the club urge on the voters the necessity of casting their ballot on the proposition was abandoned on the theory that the committee now working on the publicity campaign for the referendum was most capable and in a position to place the activities of the Quest club members in the places where they were most needed.

E. W. Puckett, chairman of the evening program committee, announced that C. A. Brownell, of the Ford Motor Car company, Detroit, would speak Nov. 10 on the subject, "The Eight-Hour Law as Seen from the Standpoint of the Production Manager of the Ford Motor Car Company." E. W. Price, of the National Candy company, will follow Mr. Brownell in an address the first week in December.

"Obedience is an absolute requirement of persons undergoing military training. This quality is insisted upon to the most minute degree. There is another quality of great service to the employer which is an integral part of military training. This is the ability to work with other men. A man who is constantly out of tune with his fellow men is hardly a profitable employee.

Nations Will Benefit. "As nations are really groups of individuals they must benefit or suffer from the same causes as those individuals. History teaches us that this is true. A nation is strong when the individuals of that group are at their best mentally, morally and physically. The nation remains strong just so long as this condition of strength remains in its individual members. It decays with its members and will become the prey of stranger nations as soon as they learn it is safe for them to exploit the weakening. The Roman empire and the Spanish empire are both examples of this truth.

Hence strong individuals bringing strength to the nation also are the determining factor in perpetuating the group of which they are members.

Let us give movies credit for one thing. No longer can a fellow sigh that he's all dressed up and has no place to go

CORONER IS WITNESS

BEFORE GRAND JURY

Coroner J. E. McArdle was a witness before grand jury Friday, which gave rise to the report that the jurors had taken up an investigation of the death of Ralph Stoll, a boy living on Packard avenue, who died from injuries received when struck by the automobile belonging to Joseph Graney, of East Wayne street. Graney refused to testify at the coroner's inquest, this action, it is understood, being taken upon advice of his attorney.

Further investigation was made Friday of the charges against Sheriff A. C. Gladioux. The state accountants, it was said, might be recalled in the case. It is believed that the grand jury is nearing the end of its deliberations. An early adjournment is predicted.

FORETASTE OF WINTER

ALL OVER MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, Oct. 20.—A foretaste of winter was given mid-western states from the Canadian border to Texas today. The coldest spot on the domestic map was at Devils Lake, N. D., where the mercury registered six degrees. Minnesota, in Manitoba, was two degrees colder.

Snow blanketed northern Minnesota, it fell in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa and was predicted for Chicago by night. Reports from Ottumwa, Iowa, told of a sharp drop of thirty-three degrees in temperature. The entire southwest also was in the grip of last night's storm wave, temperatures almost everywhere, throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and northern Texas setting new records for this early in October, according to the weather bureau reports here. Freezes are predicted for Missouri.

PURDUE OFF TO IOWA CITY.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—The Purdue football team departed for Iowa City, Iowa, today to give battle to the Hawkeyes tomorrow. Coach O'Donnell said his men were in fair condition. The team will arrive at Iowa City tonight. It is likely that the regular line-up will be used with the exception of the back field change made necessary by the injury of Allen, the punter, who probably will not be able to play. Purdue's chances of victory are considered good.

TEMPERATURE TO DROP VERY LOW IS FORECAST

Thirty-Eight Hours of Rain is Followed by Cold Wave.

Thirty-eight hours of rainfall in Fort Wayne was followed by a cold wave which promises to bring some low thermometer reading Saturday morning. The prediction is that the temperature will go as low as 24 at 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

With a wind blowing which at times reached a velocity of thirty-five and forty miles an hour, the temperature kept dropping the entire day. From 7 o'clock to 8 o'clock the temperature fell five degrees and the reading at every hour afterward showed a decline in the mercury.

For once the war can not be blamed for this existing condition. This time the hurricane which (tormented the south a few days ago) must take the greater part of the blame.

Reports from the various government stations in the western states bear out the fact that a heavy frost was experienced throughout the country from the Mississippi river to the western coast states and from the Canadian line down as far as the panhandle of Texas. In some of the cities buries of snow were seen while several of the stations reported a heavy snowfall.

Earliest Snow on Record.

The snow buries of Friday afternoon were the earliest of any on the records kept at the government weather station. Throughout the morning a flake fell now and then, but in the afternoon at 2 o'clock it was snowing quite heavily and had to be combed more than a trace. The earliest snow heretofore fell on October 21, 1913, so that the snow today beat the record by one day.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Joint Commiee of A. C. W. Hold Meeting at First Evangelical Church.

The joint committee of the Associated Christian Workers, meeting for the current month, was held at the First Evangelical church, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There was a fine attendance on hand and members from a large number of societies were present. Even though the rain was against them the young people were glad to attend and lay plans for the remainder of the year.

Preparations for the A. C. W. Halloween party were completed and it was found that the societies were responding in fine shape. All societies north of the Pennsylvania railroad are to meet at the Congregational church, and those south of the railroad at the First Evangelical church, Tuesday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock. They will then march to the Simpson Methodist church. There will be a fine program at the event, contests, games and a glorious time for all. Come with your society, masked, and prepared. Bring a friend and have a fine time.

Wife No. 1 Springs Sensation in Home at Wabash.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 20.—When Mrs. Joseph Miller, No. 1, came from Marion, Ind., to visit her husband, she was greeted at the Miller door by Mrs. Miller, No. 2. There were threats of bigamy proceedings and a great deal of excitement. Yesterday Mr. Miller filed suit against Mrs. Miller No. 1, whom he married six years ago in Marion. He sets out in the complaint that he believed until Monday, the day of the meeting, that she obtained a decree of divorce two years ago.

SAY ALLIES FEAR U-BOATS.

Evidence of Fact Plainly Seen by German Newspapers.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—That the entente is fearful of the effect of German submarine operations is regarded by the German press as clearly proved by the continuous agitation on the part of the entente press in an effort to induce the taking of measures by the United States against German submarine warfare near American waters," says an Overseas News Agency announcement today.

STRIKERS GO BACK TO WORK.

Normal Conditions Resumed at Bayonne Standard Oil Plants.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Standard Oil and other plants affected by the strike which was attended by rioting and the loss of three lives resumed their accustomed activity today, when all except a few of the 12,000 men who were idle returned to their places.

Mr. Harrod has had a wide experience in the clothing business. He arrived in the city Friday to take charge of the local store.

By a new French process aluminum can be so substantially nickel-plated that the metal can be hammered and bent without cracking.

HEAVY, HEAVY, HANGS O'ER THY HEAD!

"NEWSBOYS TREAT IS GREAT THING"—BOHN

President of Rotary Club Thinks Movement of Import Has Been Started.

"I feel that the biggest thing the Fort Wayne Rotary club has done during my administration as president is the inauguration of the plan of entertaining the newsboys of Fort Wayne with a view of starting a movement, the finish of which is unlimited in its possibilities," said Frank E. Bohn, president of the Rotary club, Friday.

"With an organization such as ours we hope to be able to make a good citizen out of practically every youngster who comes in for his share of the plan. Possibly I may be more sanguine in my expectations than some. However, I see no reason why this thing should not extend to other Rotary clubs and eventually become a national movement fostered by the International Association of Rotary clubs.

Receiving His Foundation.

"If one stops to consider for a moment, he realizes that the young boy selling papers on the street is receiving the very foundation for a business career. By virtue of the experience of his work, he is unknowingly learning the very essence of salesmanship, to what extent depending to a large degree upon the encouragement he may get at home or from his associates, or perchance from some older person concerned enough in him to show an interest in his welfare. The last instance is rare and the first two are not as frequent as they should be. Realizing, therefore, these conditions, appreciating the fact that the newsboys in the face of their business training are confronted with evil on every side, understanding that in a good many cases on account of a large family and because the parents have more than they can do to provide bread and butter for the children, the youngster does not get the attention, encouragement and training that the boy in a family of better circumstances, realizing, as I say, all these things, we feel that there is a field here for us that is unlimited in its possibilities.

Try Out Plan.

"We are going to try out the plan thoroughly. I have suggested to the committee on charity and special work that if they combine practically all their time and effort to this one thing they will have done more for the community, come nearer accomplishing something really worth while and at the same time will have made better and bigger men out of all of the Fort Wayne Rotarians than any other thing they may undertake.

So, as I say, the meeting of October 20 is just a start. Beginning that night each Rotarian becomes a "Big Brother" of one of Fort Wayne's newsboys until that man reaches manhood."

SPEAK AT KENDALLVILLE.

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Congressman Cyrus Cline and Harry Hilgemann were speakers at an enthusiastic meeting held here last evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather more than four hundred were in attendance. Theodore Redmond presided. Congressman Cline and Mr. Hilgemann speak at Wapak this evening.

FOR BENEFIT OF CHILDREN.

At the request of the Fort Wayne Mothers' club, the management of the Majestic theater has agreed to admit all children at the matinee performance of "Ramona" Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock for 10 cents. "Ramona" is particularly appealing and helpful to children. Parents will be charged 25 cents.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CHIEFS IN PANIC

Now Admit There is Danger of That State Going for Wilson.

Headquarters, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—The Chicago Tribune (republican), today says: "There is danger of Wilson carrying Ohio." The story in part sent by Arthur Sears Henning, Washington correspondent, under a Columbus, O., date follows:

"That there is danger of Wilson carrying Ohio was admitted by republican leaders here for the first time tonight. Alarmed by the situation the republican managers sent R. K. Hynicka, Ohio national committeeman, to Columbus today to examine conditions and report at once what steps are necessary to hold the state in line for Hughes.

"We have a fight on our hands and we know it," admitted Hynicka in a telegram sent tonight to Charles B. Warren, republican national committeeman for Michigan.

"It is only within the last few days that the republican managers have waked up to the progress made by the democrats in rounding up votes for Wilson in this state. Peace, prosperity and the Adamson law raising the wages of interstate train operating employees are the three subjects on which the democrats have been pounding away with conspicuous success particularly in the industrial centers.

"National Committeeman Hynicka is going to stay on the job here till election day directing a campaign of education designed to convince the voters that Wilson is not responsible for keeping the country out of war with Germany. In addition, the president stands to gain tremendous support from other branches of organized labor, from workmen who hitherto voted either the republican or socialist ticket."

DEUTSCHLAND'S NEW

SAILING CANCELLED

London, Oct. 20.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says that a statement has been received from Bremen which confirms the report that the Ocean Navigation company has received no news from the commercial submarine Bremen and that she is regarded as lost.

Great anxiety prevails among the families of the crew, virtually all of whom reside in Bremen, and it is expected difficulty will be experienced in obtaining news from other commercial submarines which may undertake trans-Atlantic voyages.

According to this information the sailing of the Deutschland on another voyage across the Atlantic has been cancelled.

JOVIANS WILL SOON GET ELECTION NEWS

Results of Balloting to Be Made Known as Convention Closes.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Results of the balloting for officers of the Jovian order are to be announced today, the final day of the organization's national convention. Henry L. Doherty, of New York, is assured of the office of Jupiter, and it is almost certain that Eli C. Bennett, of St. Louis, will be named secretary.

Chief interest centers in the outcome of the votes for congressman from the fifth Jovian district, which comprises the states of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan, the largest in point of membership. There are five candidates, J. R. Payne, of Indianapolis; A. A. Serpa, Fort Wayne; Robert Montgomery, Louisville; W. J. Trotter, Grand Rapids, and Clyde C. Miner, Springfield, O.

In the afternoon degree teams are to compete for a cash prize of $250 and a silver loving cup.

TOUR STARTS MANY

NEW REALTY BOARDS

Lee J. Ninde Enthusiastic

Over Results of City Planning Trip.

Realty boards were started on their organization in Michigan City, Hammond and New Albany as the result of the city planning tour of the Indiana Real Estate association, which closed Wednesday with a meeting at Marion. Lee J. Ninde, president of the association, speaking Friday of the result, said the new reality boards in the three cities, enthusiasm for which was aroused by the tour, will greatly aid in the effort to get a city planning commission bill at the next session of the legislature.

The tour of the reality men covered 1,000 miles and fifteen cities were visited. At Anderson Mr. Ninde said the interest was excellent. He expects the city planning measure to have almost united support of the reality men of the state by the time the legislature convenes.

IN CARPENTER SHOP.

Harry H. Hilgemann to Speak in the West End This Evening.

Because of weather conditions the democratic meeting, which was to have been held in a tent at Rimmon avenue and High street this evening, will be conducted in Kover's carpenter shop on Rimmon avenue. Harry H. Hilgemann, Avery M. Graves and A. C. Newman will be the principle speakers. John Khinger will preside.

ALL NOW BACK IN CELLS.

Six Sing Sing Convicts Who Escaped Have Been Recaptured.

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The six Sing Sing convicts who succeeded in escaping from the prison yesterday with the aid of an automobile truck, were returned to their cells today. The last two to be captured, William Anson and Alfred Steinhauer, were found near Elmford.

BUILD CHARACTER; AID CHRISTIANITY

Its Importance is Urged by Bishop Lawrence in Address.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—Development of individual character means the development of Christianity, Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts, told delegates to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today. "A friend of mine called football the most spiritual game because it develops discipline, self-restraint and character," he said, "and all of these make for religion."

Bishop Lawrence urged modernization of Sunday schools. "We can accomplish nothing by having our children step from modern secular schools to fifteenth century Sunday schools," he said. Speaking of religion in the public schools, Bishop Lawrence said, "I hold a child can get religion in the home, on the public playground—anywhere he can get growth of character."

Rev. T. F. Culler, bishop of Tennessee, asserted that education is the great responsibility of the church. Robert H. Gardiner, of Gardner, Mass., reviewed the work of the general board of religious education of the church.

HANLY NOW PUTS HIS TOTAL AT 1,500,000

Canton, O., Oct. 20.—Prohibition hope of more than one million dry votes nationally this year can be realized if dry harvesters will invade the promising democratic and republican field, J. Frank Hanly today told Ohio audiences that stood in the rain to hear him.

"If you people of Ohio will respond as will the people west of the Mississippi river," he said at Massillon, "we will poll 1,500,000 votes. And even with a million votes in clenched fists of American men and women we can march on congress and vote the submission of a federal amendment in November."

Ira Landrith, the vice presidential candidate declared that man who can vote and will not do it should permit his wife to vote.

TWO MORE AERO SQUADRONS.

Aviation Section of Army to Be Tripled in Size.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Authorization was given today by Lieut. Col. Snider, chief of the aviation section of the army, signal corps, for the complete equipment of two additional aero squadrons for the regular army. When the material, costing about $800,000 for each squadron, has been delivered at San Antonio, Tex., the regular army flying service will have been tripled. Orders for enlistment of 1,391 for the new squadrons have gone out and selection of officers is being considered.

ALL BUT TWO FIREMEN SAVED.

Little Loss of Life Attends Sinking of Cunarder Aulania.

New York, Oct. 20.—The Cunard line company announced word had been received that all but two firemen of the Aulania, which was sunk yesterday by a mine in the English channel, had been saved. The message read: "All passengers saved."

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Alphonse Robbe, 503 Edgewater avenue, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital suffering from a slight stroke of paralysis. Mr. Robbe is said to be the oldest soft drink manufacturer in the city, being by Rev. S. L. Bruer, at the Lutheran parsonage.

DAMAGES GIVEN FOR AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harry E. Lampkin Defaults in Suit Brought by Denver C. Brown.

Damages of $750 were given Denver C. Brown in a suit for $1,000 against Harry E. Lampkin Friday morning in superior court, by Judge Carl Yapple. The defendant defaulted at the hearing.

Brown alleged an auto driven by the defendant struck a car in which he was riding July 6 at the intersection of Washington and Lafayette streets. Brown alleged he was injured when his car overturned on him and that the car was damaged. Heaton & Heaton were attorneys for the plaintiff.

Cross Complaint Filed.

In the case of the Farmers' Grain company against Wesley Swank for an accounting of his management of the affairs of the plaintiff company as manager during the years 1911-14, a cross complaint has been filed by Swank's attorneys, Townsend & Townsend. Swank says the plaintiff was indebted to him in sum of $120 when he quit work and that he was authorized to use his horse and buggy in the business of the plaintiff company and did use both, being entitled to $240 for furnishing both. All advances set out in the complaint have either been paid by grain or hay brought by persons to the elevator or paid for in cash at bank or note given for the same. Mr. Swank asks $380 on his cross complaint.

Because of a typographical error it was stated in Thursday's Sentinel that E. U. Moore had brought suit in superior court against Clark Fultz and L. F. Curdes for $4,500 on mechanic's lien. It should have read for $45.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE.

Cross Complaint Filed by Defendant in Meyer Divorce Case.

In the divorce suit of Hans Meyer against Dean Meyer a cross-complaint has been filed by the defendant through attorneys, Emrick & Emrick. Mrs. Meyer says her husband told her before they married that he was a single man and a jewelry salesman with a good job. Later, she says, she found that he had been married often and that she would have to support herself. She charges Meyer with telling her to go out and get money and she says she did on several occasions leave her home and solicit money of friends. On one occasion Meyer, she says, struck her, splitting her lip. It is further charged that Meyer was kept in jail in Chicago on a felonious charge and that he was saved from the penitentiary by her making restitution of the funds which he took from his employer. On another occasion she asserts her husband worked in her place and took money from sales of goods which did not belong to him. On the day he filed suit for divorce Mrs. Meyer says her husband took $10 from her.

Hillside, Mich., Oct. 20.—Adolph W. Puff and Miss Malinda A. Parker, both of Fort Wayne, were married here yesterday by Rev. S. L. Bruer, at the Lutheran parsonage.

To Our Friends, The Readers of the Sentinel:

Answering numerous inquiries from our friends, THE SENTINEL desires to state, that, notwithstanding the great raise in price of white paper and all other material entering into the making of a first-class newspaper, THE SENTINEL will be delivered to your door every evening for the same price as heretofore, TEN CENTS per week.

The price on all newsstands and on the streets will be Two cents per copy every day.

Orders for the delivery of the paper received over Telephone 173 will receive prompt attention. Orders received up to 3:15 p. m. will be delivered the same day.

FLOUR PRICES ARE HIGHEST IN 20 YEARS

Sales of Corn Meal Have Increased Threefold in Past Week.

Flour prices in Fort Wayne are the highest at the present time they have been in the past twenty years. This assertion is made by three of the local millers, who have been in the game long enough to remember back that far. There are many different grades of flour and consequently many different prices. The common price, however, is $9 a barrel.

Local dealers added twenty cents to the price Friday and state that the outlook is that the price will be advanced every week because the wheat market promises to keep going up. Just what the limit will be can not be predicted, but it is thought a safe bet the price in Fort Wayne will easily reach the present price in Chicago, which is now $10 a barrel.

A Fort Wayne miller stated that under Cleveland's administration the flour which is now retailing for nine dollars, sold for three dollars and a quarter. The local dealers state that although there was a shortage in the grain crop this year, it was not enough to warrant the present prices. They are of the opinion that some one has cornered the wheat market.

The demand for corn meal during the past week has tripled, say the local millers, and orders are coming in thick and fast and are more numerous than the orders for flour. Many farmers are selling their wheat and are taking corn meal in exchange. The price of corn meal, however, has also made an advance of several hundred percent within the past month.

BIG MEETING

HUGE SUCCESS

workers and many who could not obtain seats in the main auditorium or balconies. Large numbers could not get inside.

Reception is Held.

At 7 o'clock at the Hotel Anthony a reception was tendered the speakers. The Elk's band gave a concert in front of the hotel. The band later headed a parade from the hotel to the theater, the procession being composed of the members of the reception committee. While the march was in the rain the ardor of the occasion was not affected.

Preceding the speeches of the evening the DeKalb county Glee club, composed of Ves McKean, J. D. Brinkerhoff, Carl Weaver, all of Garrett, and Frank Boltz, of Auburn, sang. They offered campaign parodies which scored a big hit. The theater orchestra also played a program.

Judge Eggeman Presides.
Judge John W. Eggeman, of the circuit court, presided at the meeting. "It is gratifying to see this large audience which is here to listen to democratic doctrine and achievement," opened Senator Taggart. "When I see the cities in this country and think across the sea I cannot help but think what is in your hearts. And if we had not had Woodrow Wilson to steer us safely this country might have been in the same condition as war torn Europe. Looking from Maine to California I fail to see any cause for war."

"The people have confidence in President Wilson and will follow where he leads. Every pledge in the democratic platform of 1912 has been carried out through the support of both branches of congress to the president. And no one has done more in the support of the president than Cyrus Cline, your congressman from the Twelfth district, and your next governor, John A. M. Adams."

State Debt is Paid.

"The democratic administration has not only paid the state debt, but has laid away $2,640,000, despite an inheritance from the republicans of a debt of $2,540,000. The question of our country is the protection of American lives and honor, both of which are safe in Woodrow Wilson's hands. While I have not said much about my own candidacy, yet I would be glad to see you down at Washington any time, for I will be there. But it is more important that Woodrow Wilson be sent back to the presidency than any one man. In dianna is for Wilson and Marshall."

"No administration has been forced to meet such unforeseen difficulties in national and foreign affairs," declared Prof. Axson. "We have met the agricultural situation with the co-operation of the state and federal governments in the building of good roads and the Adamson eight-hour law was passed averting disaster. And the manner in which the party has kept its pledges is astonishing."

"The president has played an unselish part in keeping us out of war. If the president had wanted to assure his election this time he would have declared war." The speaker then showed that if the president had declared war on Mexico the people would have been forced to rally around him because of their loyalty to the country. But by doing the opposite thing, Prof. Axson said the president showed the basis of his character.

The manner in which the president had turned his back on Wall street and the financial interests and the nurturing industry with which Congressman Cline had added the national administration to the redemption of every promise made was praised by Senator Kern. He declared the country was now in an unexampled state of prosperity with good wages prevailing. "And if you knew the president as I do he would have a majority of a half million at the polls on November 7," declared Senator Kern.

Strong Sentiment for War.
"There was a strong sentiment for war: the financial interests were backing it and the German-Americans of all people should be glad of the policy of the president," asserted the speaker. Senator Kern said the Underwood tariff law gave a higher rate of tariff taxation than any other law. He spoke of the manner in which the income tax had placed assessments on large incomes and the unpopular Payne-Aldrich tariff law, which was repudiated in every state except Vermont and New York. The disaster that would have followed had the railway strike been declared, and the fact that the president had sent out the army to stand on side-tracks with supplies of milk, bread and other necessities and how it was averted by the passage of the Adamson law was sympathetically commented on by the speaker.

"Charles E. Hughes has not the generosity to concede any good thing the democratic party has done," declared Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo declared Mr. Hughes was indulging in carping criticism without saying what would have done. The election of Mr. Hughes, he said, would lead inevitably to the dominance of Theodore Roosevelt in our foreign affairs. Mr. McAdoo asserted the politicians had embarrassed the president on many occasions and that the president had stood out American above it all. Mr. McAdoo characterized President Wilson not as a republican or democratic president to the degree of partisan politics in a crisis, but an American president. The statement was greeted with great applause. Woodrow Wilson, he said, had spoken for the majesty, courage and respect of the country. "I am just as keen for war as anyone when the cause is righteous," declared Mr. McAdoo. If Mr. Hughes were elected, Mr. McAdoo said, the financial interests with properties in Mexico would bring so much pressure that war with Mexico might have to be declared.

Talks on Currency Law.

How the currency law had absolutely put a stop to the possibility of panics with the establishment of regional banks, had increased available credit, and helped make the United States a creditor nation, was discussed by the secretary of the treasury. He declared there was no indication that the country was enjoying war prosperity at the present time, nor that our prosperity was in danger when the war was over and the countries across the sea began to reorganize their institutions and industrial pursuits. The United States now has 32 per cent of the supply of the gold of the world, the speaker showed, and in another year this supply would be increased to one-half of the entire amount.

The money interests in New York are for a central bank, Mr. McAdoo asserted. They would not continue the currency act, in all probability, and Mr. Hughes was declared to be against the principle of the currency law despite its endorsement by many men of both parties of the country, high in the financial world. The speaker closed with an appeal that President Wilson be returned to power for another four years and showing the fatal effects of placing a new chief executive of the nation in office at a critical time with the prospect of many dark years ahead.

One of the features of the musical part of the program was a couple of vocal selections by Miss Sutherland, of Huntington, with Miss Rosebrough at the piano. Miss Sutherland's songs were timely parodies which made a decided hit.

MAKES PLEA FOR COLISEUM

The resolutions are signed by Carl J. Suedhoff, president, and Fred D. Miller, secretary. "The Priests," says the communication accompanying the resolutions, "have occasion to use the convention hall for athletic events, as well as for entertainment purposes in which we attract many people from neighboring cities."

The Barbers Endorse It.
Barbers' union, No. 14, has notified the citizens' convention hall committee of its unanimous vote on a resolution of endorsement of the convention hall plan. The resolutions are signed by John C. Werkman, president, and W. A. Kelsey, secretary.

Merchants' Association.
In sending in its signed endorsement of the convention hall project, the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association gives this as the reason for its action: "The future growth of our city will be materially improved unless this great project meets with success. It is very important that our city continue to grow, and it can do so only by continually keeping the name of Fort Wayne in the minds of the people of the United States. Nothing advertisement as much as conventions and an adequate place in which to hold them."

The resolutions are signed by Robert Koerber, president, and Harry K. Kennedy, secretary.

FIGURES ON YEAR OF WAR.

London, Oct. 19.—(11:51 p. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that the budget of 1917 submitted to the duma and council of the empire has been framed in view of the probability of the war lasting for the whole financial year. Revenue and expenditure balance at a total of 4,070,000,000 rubles, this being the first time the Russian budget has reached four billion. The excess expenditures over the real revenue, amounting to 73,000,000 rubles will be covered by credit operations. The receipts from the sale of intoxicating liquors, which in 1913 were approximately 100,000,000 rubles, now are estimated at only 30,000,000 rubles.

chisms. The prisoner is held by the police for obstruction.

As soon as President Wilson arrived at the station here this morning, Mr. Bryan entered the executive's private car and the two men shook hands.

The men spoke together only for a moment or two and left the cars. The appearance of Mr. Bryan caused a five-minute delay in an automobile tour of Pittsburgh arranged for the president. When the president and Mr. Bryan met each smiled broadly as they shook hands. Mr. Bryan said that he would ride in the president's train for a short distance in order to get into Mr. Bailey's congressional district. Before coming to Pittsburgh the president shook hands with a large crowd at Alliance, Ohio. Several other brief stops between here and Harrisburg were on the schedule during the day.

During the automobile ride in this city the president was greeted at several places by school children waving American flags. A reception committee composed of men of different parties arranged to shake hands with him on his return from the ride.

STUDYING TRACK MAINTENANCE

Pennsylvania Section Foremen Making Trip Over Western Division.

A new educational feature for the benefit of section foremen was inaugurated today by Supt. Otto Schroll and Division Engineer Guy Scott, of the Pennsylvania. It is an inspection trip over the tracks of the Western division of the road in which all of the section foremen participate and are given opportunity to exchange notes and to thoroughly study the work of keeping up the road bed and tracks to the high standard required by the company. It will be remembered that the two road supervisory districts of the Pennsylvania immediately west of Fort Wayne were awarded the first and second prizes for the best track of all of the lines west of Pittsburgh by General Manager McKen and party when they made an inspection of the property two weeks ago. Today all of the section foremen, about sixty in number, are making an inspection of this part of the Western division, under the direction of Supt. Otto Schroll, Division Engineer Guy Scott and Assistant Division Engineer H. T. Simpson. Tomorrow the section foremen on the road between this city and Crestline will make a similar trip with the division officials. There are about sixty foremen on that part of the division also.

THREE LARGE JOBS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

Nickel Plate is Pushing Work at Osage and Coombs Streets

Three important improvement jobs in the city of Fort Wayne were started by the Nickel Plate railroad Friday. They are the raising of the railroad tracks over Coombs street, double tracking the road from the Nickel Plate yards, for two miles, to Glasgow avenue and completing the Osage street subway.

J. G. Garland, who is superintending the work contracted by the Wabash Construction company, of Dayton, Ind., has sent out a call for workmen. All the laborers and teams that can be had will be used. The work is to move as rapidly as possible.

Twenty thousand yards of dirt will be needed for lifting the Nickel Plate tracks over Coombs street. The earth is to come from a large pit, opened up Friday, a half mile east of New Haven. A spur has been run out into the field where cars will be loaded by two giant steam shovels.

Big twenty-five yard cars will be used to transfer the dirt. The cars will be emptied by an automatic process, controlled by the engineer. All the grading work is expected to be finished in six weeks. The time needed will be largely governed by the number of workmen available for completing the subway. The job will not be finished before spring.

Concrete pouring started at Osage street, Friday. It will require two months and a half to finish the mammoth task of building the long, heavy walls on either side of the tunnel way. Concrete will be poured on every day that the weather permits. The work will be finished in January, it is hoped.

Steel for the structural work at the long subway should be here soon, railroad officials say. The metal has been ordered for some time. Railroad officials are anxious to install the steel work as soon as possible as the pilings used temporarily at the subway is causing a false grade in the tracks which makes much trouble in switching.

Only the preliminary part of laying the double track through the heart of the city is started at this time, S. K. Blair, special agent of the Nickel Plate road, explained to members of the board of works, Friday. Completing of the double tracking will follow the establishing of the new grade over Coombs street.

W. F. Watterson, district superintendent of the Nickel Plate railroad, was also in the conference with members of the works board, Mayor Hoesy and City Engineer Randall, when action of the railroad was explained, Friday morning.

APPROVE RESOLUTIONS. Action is Taken at Regular Meeting of Board of Works.

No objections to assessment rolls or improvement resolutions were offered before the board of works, Thursday night, when action was taken on many minor matters.

Petition for opening an alley between Piqua avenue and Barr street, from its present terminus to Russell boulevard, was referred to the city engineer with instructions to prepare plans and specifications.

Assessment rolls for paving St. Joe boulevard and for construction of a four foot protection curb along the same, from McHugh street to State street, for paving Second street from Harrison to Cass; for grading Meridian street, from Hudson to first alley south of Putnam, and for sidewalks on both sides of Monroe street, from Lewis to Madison, were approved by the board.

The board approved resolutions for the construction of sidewalks on the east side of Webster street, from Kilbuck to Willard; for sidewalks on the west side of Arlington avenue, from Burnett street to Russell boulevard, and for the paving of Jackson street, from Jefferson to Will.

NO REMONSTRANCE. Resolution For Land Purchase to Be Confirmed by Park Board Monday.

MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Pennsy Records Show They Could Be Avoided by Auto Drivers.

In the first eight months of the present year thirteen people lost their lives and 104 were injured at grade crossings on the Pennsylvania railroad system, under circumstances the very nature of which proved total disregard of caution and in many cases willful running of risks.

This is shown as the result of a special inquiry, which has just been completed, for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of recklessness on the part of the public at highway crossings over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad.

A large proportion of these accidents occurred to automobilists. The drivers of twenty-three motor cars smashed their machines into the sides of trains that were actually part way over the crossings. Four lives were lost in this way and fifty-one persons were injured.

Six motorcycles, two bicycles and four horse-drawn vehicles were similarly driven into the sides of trains, causing the death of two persons and injury of fourteen. One trolley car was run against a train at a crossing, but fortunately only a single person was hurt.

Six automobiles crashed into, or through, safety gates while they were down and nine people were hurt. Five motorcycles and two horse-drawn vehicles did likewise, causing injury to ten people.

Eight accidents occurred as a result of persons attempting to crawl over trains at crossings. Two people, risking their lives in this way, fell between cars and were killed. Six others were injured.

One man jumped off an automobile while in the middle of a crossing, stumbled in front of a train and was killed. Seventeen people dodged under or around the safety gates and were struck by approaching trains. Four of them were killed and thirteen were injured.

The Pennsylvania railroad is wiping out grade crossings as fast as available resources will permit. Since 1902 the expenditures for this purpose on the lines east of Pittsburgh alone comprising less than half the mileage of the Pennsylvania system have exceeded $40,000,000. Many grade crossings still remain. To remove them at once, or in the very near future, is impossible, as the necessary capital could not be obtained. Before such improvements can be made by a railroad, the money to pay for them must first be earned.

It is the belief of the management of the Pennsylvania railroad system that accidents at the grade crossings which have not yet been removed, are wholly avoidable and that none would occur at all if everyone, before going over the tracks, would first "Stop, Look and Listen."

FIVE WEEKS BEFORE ART SMITH COMES

Physicians Are Not Able to Remove Splints from Leg.

Art Smith's broken leg has not healed as rapidly as physicians had hoped. While improvement has been constant, the mending is very slow. It had been planned to remove the splints last week. Art Smith had expected to come to Fort Wayne next week.

Physicians removed the splints, Wednesday, but found the leg in delicate condition. They refused Smith use of it as yet. The leg was put back in splints again. Smith will be kept in the hospital for five weeks more.

Then he is coming to Fort Wayne. He wrote his mother, Mrs. J. H. Smith, on Thursday, expressing his disappointment in being delayed in reaching Fort Wayne.

"Feeling first-rate, but they won't let me out yet," he writes. "Will be five weeks, they say. Meanwhile business calls in San Francisco. They think I should come there direct. But I am not going. I said I was going to Fort Wayne for a few days and I will fill my engagement."

FLOUR PRICES ARE HIGHEST IN 20 YEARS

Sales of Corn Meal Have Increased Threefold in Past Week.

Flour prices in Fort Wayne are the highest at the present time they have been in the past twenty years. This assertion is made by three of the local millers, who have been in the game long enough to remember back that far. There are many different grades of flour and consequently many different prices. The common price, however, is $9 a barrel.

Local dealers added twenty cents to the price Friday and state that the outlook is that the price will be advanced every week because the wheat market promises to keep going up. Just what the limit will be can not be predicted, but it is thought a safe bet the price in Fort Wayne will easily reach the present price in Chicago, which is now $10 a barrel.

A Fort Wayne miller stated that under Cleveland's administration the flour which is now retailing for nine dollars, sold for three dollars and a quarter. The local dealers state that although there was a shortage in the grain crop this year, it was not enough to warrant the present prices. They are of the opinion that some one has cornered the wheat market.

The demand for corn meal during the past week has tripled, say the local millers, and orders are coming in thick and fast and are more numerous than the orders for flour. Many farmers are selling their wheat and are taking corn meal in exchange. The price of corn meal, however, has also made an advance of several hundred percent within the past month.

BIG MEETING HUGE SUCCESS

workers and many who could not obtain seats in the main auditorium or balconies. Large numbers could not get inside.

Reception is Held.

At 7 o'clock at the Hotel Anthony a reception was tendered the speakers. The Elk's band gave a concert in front of the hotel. The band later headed a parade from the hotel to the theater, the procession being composed of the members of the reception committee. While the march was in the rain the ardor of the occasion was not affected.

Preceding the speeches of the evening the DeKalb county Glen club, composed of Ves McKeanan, J. D. Brinkerhoff, Carl Weaver, all of Garrett, and Frank Bultz, of Auburn, sang. They offered campaign parodies which scored a big hit. The theater orchestra also played a program.

Judge Eggenman Presides.
Judge John V. Eggenman, of the circuit court, presided at the meeting. "It is gratifying to see this large audience which is here to listen to democratic doctrine and achievement," opened Senator Taggart. "When I see the cities in this country and those across the sea I cannot help but think what is in your hearts. And if we had not had Woodrow Wilson to steer us safely this country might have been in the same condition as war torn Europe. Looking from Maine to California I fail to see any cause for war."

"The people have confidence in President Wilson and will follow where he leads. Every pledge in the democratic platform of 1912 has been carried out through the support of both branches of congress to the president. And no one has done more in the support of the president than Cyrus Cline, your congressman from the Twelfth district, and your next governor, John A. McAdoo."

PACKARD MUSIC HOUSE

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

State Debt is Paid.

"The democratic administration has not only paid the state debt, but has laid away $2,940,000, despite an inheritance from the republicans of a debt of $2,540,000. The question of our country is the protection of American lives and honor, both of which are safe in Woodrow Wilson's hands. While I have not said much about my own candidacy, yet I would be glad to see you down at Washington any time, for I will be there. But it is more important that Woodrow Wilson be sent back to the presidency than any one man. Indiana is for Wilson and Marshall."

"No administration has been forced to meet such unforeseen difficulties in national and foreign affairs," declared Prof. Axson. "We have met the agricultural situation with the co-operation of the state and federal governments in the building of good roads and the Adams eight-hour law was passed averting disaster. And the manner in which the party has kept its pledges is astonishing."

"The president has played an unselfish part in keeping us out of war. If the president had wanted to assure his election this time he would have declared war." The speaker then showed that if the president had declared war on Mexico the people would have been forced to rally around him because of their loyalty to the country. But by doing the opposite thing, Prof. Axson said the president showed the basis of his character.

The manner in which the president had turned his back on Wall street and the financial interests and the untiring industry with which Congressman Cline had aided the national administration to the redemption of every promise made was praised by Senator Kern. He declared the country was now in an unexampled state of prosperity with good wages prevailing.

"And if you knew the president as I do he would have a majority of a half million at the polls on November 7," declared Senator Kern.

Strong Sentiment for War.
"There was a strong sentiment for war; the financial interests were backing it and the German-Americans of all people, should be glad of the policy of the president," asserted the speaker. Senator Kern said the Underwood tariff law gave a higher rate of tariff taxation than any other law. He spoke of the manner in which the income tax had placed assessments on large incomes and the unpopular Payne-Aldrich tariff law, which was repudiated in every state except Vermont and New York. The disaster that would have followed had the railway strike been declared, causing loaded cars to stand on sidetracks with supplies of milk, bread and other necessities and how it was averted by the passage of the Adamson law was emphatically commented on by the senator.

"Charles E. Hughes has not the generosity to concede any good thing the democratic party has done," declared Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo declared Mr. Hughes was indulging in carping criticism without saying what would have done. The election of Mr. Hughes, he said, would lead inevitably to the dominance of Theodore Roosevelt in our foreign affairs. Mr. McAdoo asserted the politicians had embarrassed the president on many occasions and that the president had stood out American above it all. Mr. McAdoo characterized President Wilson not as a republican or democratic president to the degree of partisan politics in a crisis, but an American president. The statement was greeted with great applause. Woodrow Wilson, he said, had spoken for the majesty, courage and respect of the country. "I am just as keen for war as anyone when the cause is righteous," declared Mr. McAdoo. If Mr. Hughes were elected, Mr. McAdoo said, the financial interests with properties in Mexico would bring so much pressure that war with Mexico might have to be declared.

Talks on Currency Law.

How the currency law had absolutely put a stop to the possibility of panics with the establishment of regional banks, had increased available credit, and helped make the United States a creditor nation, was discussed by the secretary of the treasury. He declared there was no indication that the country was enjoying war prosperity at the present time, nor that our prosperity was in danger when the war was over and the countries across the sea began to reorganize their institutions and industrial pursuits. The United States now has 32 per cent of the supply of the gold of the world, the speaker showed, and in another year this supply would be increased to one-half of the entire amount.

The money interests in New York are for a central bank, Mr. McAdoo asserted. They would not continue the currency act, in all probability, and Mr. Hughes was declared to be against the principle of the currency law despite its endorsement by many men of both parties of the country, high in the financial world. The speaker closed with an appeal that President Wilson be returned to power for another four years and showing the fatal effects of placing a new chief executive of the nation in office at a critical time with the prospect of many dark years ahead.

One of the features of the musical part of the program was a couple of vocal selections by Miss Sutherland, of Huntington, with Miss Rosborough at the piano. Miss Sutherland's songs were timely parodies which made a decided hit.

ing. The resolutions are signed by Carl J. Suedhoff, president, and Fred D. Miller, secretary. "The Friars," says the communication accompanying the resolutions, "have occasion to use the convention hall for athletic events, as well as for entertainment purposes in which we attract many people from neighboring cities."

The Barbers Endorse It.
Barbers' union, No. 14, has notified the citizens' convention hall committee of its unanimous vote on a resolution of endorsement of the convention hall plan. The resolutions are signed by John C. Workman, president, and W. A. Kelsey, secretary.

In sending in its signed endorsement of the convention hall project, the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association gives this as the reason for its action: "The future growth of our city will be materially hampered unless this great project meets with success. It is very important that our city continue to grow, and it can do so only by continually keeping the name of Fort Wayne in the minds of the people of the United States. Nothing advertised as a city as much as conventions and an adequate place in which to hold them."

The resolutions are signed by Robert Koerber, president, and Harry P. Kennedy, secretary.

FIGURES ON YEAR OF WAR.

London, Oct. 19.—(11:51 p. m.).—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that the budget of 1917 submitted to the duma and council of the empire has been framed in view of the probability of the war lasting for the whole financial year. Revenue and expenditure balance at a total of 4,075,000,000 rubles, this being the first time the Russian budget has reached four billion. The excess expenditures over the real revenue, amounting to 73,000,000 rubles will be covered by credit operations. The receipts from the sale of intoxicating liquors, which in 1915 were approximately 100,000,000 rubles, now are estimated at only 30,000,000 rubles.

As soon as President Wilson arrived at the station here this morning, Mr. Bryan entered the executive's private car and the two men shook hands.

The men spoke together only for a moment or two and left the cars. The appearance of Mr. Bryan caused a five minutes delay in an automobile tour of Pittsburgh arranged for the president.

When the president and Mr. Bryan met each smiled broadly as they shook hands. Mr. Bryan said that he would ride in the president's train for a short

During the automobile ride in this city the president was greeted at several places by school children waving American flags. A reception committee composed of men of different parties arranged to shake hands with him on his return from the ride.

STUDYING TRACK MAINTENANCE

Pennsylvania Section Foremen Making Trip Over Western Division.

A new educational feature for the benefit of section foremen was inaugurated today by Supt. Otto Schroll and Division Engineer Guy Scott, of the Pennsylvania. It is an inspection trip over the tracks of the Western division of the road in which all of the section foremen participate and are given opportunity to exchange notes and to thoroughly study the work of keeping up the road bed and tracks to the high standard required by the company. It will be remembered that the two road supervisors districts of the Pennsylvania immediately west of Fort Wayne were awarded the first and second prizes for the best track of all of the lines west of Pittsburgh by General Manager McKee and party when they made an inspection of the property two weeks ago. Today all of the section foremen, about sixty in number, are making an inspection of this part of the Western division, under the direction of Supt. Otto Schroll, Division Engineer Guy Scott and Assistant Division Engineer H. T. Symptom. Tomorrow the section foremen on the road between this city and Crestline will make a similar trip with the division officials. There are about sixty foremen on that part of the division also.

ELECTRICIANS TO BOWL.

The polishers and the grinders at the finishing department of the General Electric works will have a game of bowling "for blood," as one of the players said, at the Star alleys tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. For some time there has been a dispute as to which department had the best bowlers and now it is to be settled by a game, the losers putting up for big odds later. George Dahle is captain of the polishers' team and with him are Cash Lutz, C. Henrick, Fred Freuchter and Fred Merhand. The grinders' team is composed of Jake Thoma, captain; Arthur Gordon, E. Nelson, F. Reed and Art Mennebach. The latter does not belong to the grinding department, but because of a lack of bowling experts in that department, the polishers allowed their opponents to use Mr. Mennebach, who is a player.

MRS. A. G. DAVIS DEAD.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. A. G. Davis, which resulted from heart disease at her home in Jamestown, N. Y., several days ago. She was the wife of a former resident of Fort Wayne. A. C. Davis was connected with the motor power department of the Pennsylvania, first as electrical engineer and later as assistant motive power engineer of the Northwest system. When he left here about ten years ago, it was to take the position of master mechanic of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh division, with headquarters at Wellsville, which office he held about eighteen months. He is now one of the proprietors of the Novelty works at Jamestown, N. Y.

SPECIAL CAR FOR FORT WAYNE.

Beginning today the Pennsylvania inaugurated a parlor car service between this city and Chicago, especially for its Fort Wayne patrons. The car westbound is attached to the Manhattan limited, leaving the city at 10:10 in the mornings, and eastbound it is attached to the Pennsylvania limited, No. 2, which arrives in the city at 9 o'clock in the evening. Every day from fifteen to twenty-five Fort Wayne people go to Chicago on the Manhattan limited and with a parlor car especially for their use it is believed the business will be greatly increased.

ELECTRICAL TRANSMISSION PERFECT.

J. J. Wood, factory manager for the General Electric company, has perfected the electrical transmission apparatus for the Owen Magnetic Automobile company and the motor and controller were given a final test in a trial run about the city this week. The apparatus simplifies the operation of the gears on an automobile, all being controlled by the steering wheel and buttons attached thereto. The local plant has a contract to supply many thousand motors and controllers.

EXAMINED PENSION APPLICANTS.

Dr. R. F. Price, of Terre Haute; Dr. J. H. Talbot, of Indianapolis, and Dr. S. M. Humphries, of Columbus, Ohio, composed an examining board which met here yesterday to look into the applications of Pennsylvania employees who seek admission to the pension system on the disability clause. They did not make known their decision in the cases, nor did they give out the names of the applicants.

WIND STOPPED WORK.

Because of the high wind which prevailed today, work on the General Electric buildings on Wall street was suspended. At times the wind was so strong that men could not stand erect on the high buildings.

DR. J. M. KELL'S RECOVERS.

Dr. J. M. Kells, medical examiner at Columbus for the Pennsylvania Relief association, is again able to be at his office and to look after the duties. Dr. Kells was taken sick last April and for a while it was believed the attack was going to be fatal. He lived in Fort Wayne several years and has many friends here, who will rejoice over his recovery.

V. Steiner, an assembler in the dynamo department of the General Electric works, had the index finger of his right hand crushed yesterday by a misdirected blow with a hammer. He will be off duty several days as a result of the accident.

The Nickel Plate has received delivery on ten new yard engines, part of an order given early in the year. The new engines are much larger and more powerful than those formerly used on the Nickel Plate. Five of the engines have been sent to the Chicago yards and five are in use at Buffalo.

THREE LARGE JOBS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

Nickel Plate is Pushing Work at Osage and Coombs Streets

Three important improvement jobs in the city of Fort Wayne were started by the Nickel Plate railroad Friday. They are the raising of the railroad tracks over Coombs street, double tracking the road from the Nickel Plate yards, for two miles, to Glasgow avenue and completing the Osage street subway.

J. G. Carland, who is superintending the work contracted by the Watch Construction company, of Duvernoy, Ind., has sent out a call for workmen. All the laborers and teams that can be had will be used. The work is to move as rapidly as possible.

Twenty thousand yards of dirt will be needed for lifting the Nickel Plate tracks over Coombs street. The earth is to come from a large pit, opened up Friday, a half mile east of New Haven. A spur has been run out into the field where cars will be loaded by two giant steam shovels.

Big twenty-five yard cars will be used to transfer the dirt. The cars will be emptied by an automatic process, controlled by the engineer. All the grading work is expected to be finished in six weeks. The time needed will be largely governed by the number of workmen available for completing the subway. The job will not be finished before spring.

Concrete pouring started at Osage street, Friday. It will require two months and a half to finish the mammoth task of building the long, heavy walls on either side of the tunnel way. Concrete will be poured on every day that the weather permits. The work will be finished in January, it is hoped.

Steel for the structural work at the long subway should be here soon, railroad officials say. The metal has been ordered for some time. Railroad officials are anxious to install the steel work as soon as possible as the pilings used temporarily at the subway is causing a false ground in the tracks which makes much trouble in switching.

Only the preliminary part of laying the track through the heart of the city is started at this time, S. K. Blair, special agent of the Nickel Plate road, explained to members of the board of works, Friday. Completing of the double tracking will follow the establishing of the new grade over Coombs street.

W. F. Watterson, district superintendent of the Nickel Plate railroad, was also in the conference with members of the works board, Mayor Hoesey and City Engineer Randall, when action of the railroad was explained, Friday morning.

APPROVE RESOLUTIONS.

Action is Taken at Regular Meeting of Board of Works.

No objections to assessment rolls or improvement resolutions were offered before the board of works, Thursday night, when action was taken on many minor matters.

Petition for opening an alley between Piquette avenue and Burr street, from its present terminus to Rudisill boulevard, was referred to the city engineer with instructions to prepare plans and specifications.

Assessment rolls for paving St. Joe boulevard and for construction of a four foot protection curb along the same, from McDougal street to State street; for paving Second street, from Harrison to Cass; for grading Meridian street, from Hurlman to first alley south of Putnam, and for sidewalks on both sides of Monroe street, from Lewis to Madison, were approved by the board.

The board approved resolutions for the construction of sidewalks on the east side of Webster street, from Killea to Wildwood; for sidewalks on the west side of Arlington avenue, from Burnett street to Rudisill boulevard, and for the paving of Jackson street, from Jefferson to Wilt.

NO REMONSTRANCE.

Resolution For Land Purchase to Be Confirmed by Park Board Monday.

No remonstrance has been presented as yet to the plan of the park board to purchase a five acre addition to Weisser park. The park board expects to confirm the resolution for purchase of the ground at their meeting on Monday.

Four thousand property owners in the southeast park district of the city will be assessed to meet the purchase. Average assessment will be $3 per lot. Lots directly across from Weisser park will be assessed $36.

Park board members say they have found but little dissent to the purchase.

LOREE RAISES QUESTION.

New York, Oct. 20.—In a speech discussing the economic effects of the war before a luncheon of the Merchants association today, L. F. MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Pennsy Records Show They Could Be Avoided by Auto Drivers.

In the first eight months of the present year thirteen people lost their lives and 104 were injured at grade crossings on the Pennsylvania railroad system, under circumstances the very nature of which proved total disregard of caution and in many cases willful running of risks.

This is shown as the result of a special inquiry, which has just been completed, for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of recklessness on the part of the public at highway crossings over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad.

A large proportion of these accidents occurred to automobilists. The drivers of twenty-three motor cars smashed their machines into the sides of trains that were actually part way over the crossings. Four lives were lost in this way and fifty-one persons were injured.

Six motorcycles, two bicycles and four horse-drawn vehicles were similarly driven into the sides of trains, causing the death of two persons and injury of fourteen. One trolley car was run against a train at a crossing, but fortunately only a single person was hurt.

Six automobiles crashed into, or through, safety gates while they were down and nine people were hurt. Five motorcycles and two horse-drawn vehicles did likewise, causing injury to ten people.

Eight accidents occurred as a result of persons attempting to crawl over trains at crossings. Two people, risking their lives in this way, fell between cars and were killed. Six others were injured.

One man jumped off an automobile while in the middle of a crossing, stumbled in front of a train and was killed. Seventeen people dodged under or around the safety gates and were struck by approaching trains. Four of them were killed and thirteen were injured.

The Pennsylvania railroad is wiping out grade crossings as fast as available resources will permit. Since 1902 the expenditures for this purpose on the lines east of Pittsburgh alone—comprising less than half the mileage of the Pennsylvania system—have exceeded $40,000,000. Many grade crossings still remain. To remove them at once, or in the very near future, is impossible, as the necessary capital could not be obtained. Before such improvements can be made by a railroad, the money to pay for them must first be earned.

It is the belief of the management of the Pennsylvania railroad system that accidents at the grade crossings which have not yet been removed, are wholly avoidable and that none would occur at all if everyone, before going over the tracks, would first "Stop, Look and Listen."

FIVE WEEKS BEFORE ART SMITH COMES

Physicians Are Not Able to Remove Splints from Leg.

Art Smith's broken leg has not healed as rapidly as physicians had hoped. While improvement has been constant, the mending is very slow. It had been planned to remove the splints last week. Art Smith had expected to come to Fort Wayne next week.

Physicians removed the splints, Wednesday, but found the leg in delicate condition. They refused Smith use of it as yet. The leg was put back in splints again. Smith will be kept in the hospital for five weeks more.

Then he is coming to Fort Wayne. He wrote his mother, Mrs. J. H. Smith, on Thursday, expressing his disappointment in being delayed in reaching Fort Wayne.

"Feeling first-rate, but they won't let me out yet," he writes. "Will be five weeks, they say. Meanwhile business calls in San Francisco. They think I should come there direct. But I am not going. I said I was going to Fort Wayne for a few days and I will fill my engagement."

ACCEPTED AT ARMY STATION.

Charles A. Reed and Walter C. C. Anweiler have passed examination at the Fort Wayne army recruiting station. With their enlistment there have been eleven men enlisted since Captain Ryan took charge of the Fort Wayne station.

ANYHOW HE GAVE MR. BRIAND FINE CHANGE

Socialist Deputy Does Not Appear to Be Taken Seriously.

Paris, Oct. 8.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Pierre Brizon, the socialist deputy who recently called upon Premier Briand "to stop the war," and gave the premier occasion to deliver in the chamber one of the most eloquent speeches of his career, is not taken seriously in France, but some portions of the address he delivered in opposing the war credits are interesting. He is one of the three dissident social deputies who met a number of German socialists during the war in conference in Switzerland. In the course of his attempt in the chamber to arrive at a calculation of what the war costs, he said:

"How many men shall we have lost at the end of the war? I have said that it will last another year still, at least with the policy of Monsieur Briand. Supposing that, at the end of the war, France has a million and a half of men killed. Going back to our calculation of the value of their work and taking an average of 33 years of effective labor for each man, we reach the sum of 100,000 francs for each individual. Multiply 100,000 by a million and a half and you obtain 150 million francs as the economic value of the Frenchmen who will have been killed during the war.

"Thus we have the three figures: 50 billions and more public expenditures at the present time; in a year more 30 billions more, making a total of 80 billions for public expenditures. Let us estimate five billions for the repatriation of war damages, making 85 billions, to which we must add our old debt, that we are too likely to forget these days, of 30 billions, which makes 115 billions. There is the gulf that is to be filled in actual cash, which, added to the 120 billions of economic loss, brings the cost of the war up to 315 to 320 billions of francs."

"War is business," cried Monsieur Briand at this point, provoking exclamations from all parts of the chamber. "Yes, in the capitalist period in which we have lived for a century past, Wars, colonial wars, and the present war is nothing but business.

"Now business is treated in a business way, intelligently, prudently, with clear eyesight upon the future. Instead of giving the blood of his country, if Monsieur Briand could obtain the result that we wish to attain—victory, according to you, or national independence that we all of us want—by negotiation or through intermediaries, we can, and we ought, to negotiate. Before having brought to negotiate. Before having any peaceful solution is impossible, we have not the right to continue to throw, without counting, the people's billions into the abyss and masses of men under the drum-fire of death."

HUGHES ENDS THIRD TRIP OF CAMPAIGN

Republican Nominee Takes Brief Rest Before Starting Another.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Charles E. Hughes, homeward bound, passed Utica today concluding his third presidential campaign trip. Mr. Hughes was due to arrive in New York at 2 p. m. today. The nominee expected to remain in New York or vicinity possibly at Mount Clair, N. J., for several days before starting his fourth trip next week. The itinerary of this trip has not been made public but it is understood that tentative plans provide for his visiting New England and Ohio again. The campaign will close with a meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York, Saturday night, Nov. 4.

On his present trip Mr. Hughes has campaigned in ten states, four of them Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri, being along the northern fringe of territory normally democratic. Mr. Hughes delivered thirty-nine speeches on his present trip.

Replies to McAdoo.

At Youngstown last night, Mr. Hughes, reiterating that he meant what he said in Louisville the other night about the course he would have followed with reference to the Lusitania, replied to a recent utterance of Secretary McAdoo with the declaration that apparently it seemed impossible to the administration that one could mean what he said.

"Now rises the secretary of the treasury to complain that this was not a statement of what I would have done had the sinking occurred," Mr. Hughes said, after reiterating that he would have stated his position "unequivocally" in advance of the sinking.

"I was under the impression that when I said what I would have stated in advance as to what I would do, everyone would know that I stated what, in fact, I would have done in the described event. The secretary's remarks show in an illuminating way this administration's conception of the value of words."

"It apparently seems impossible to this administration that one can mean what he says. That is its difficulty. With it a threat of action does not seem to mean anything but words. My position is somewhat different. 'I mean what I say and because this would have been well known and we should already had a reputation for firm and correct policies, I repeat that the Lusitania would not have been sunk.'"

BLAME PUT ON RAILWAY.

Coroner Returns Finding in Recent Detroit Accident.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 20.—A coroner's jury late yesterday held the Grand Trunk railway responsible for the grade crossing accident on the night of Oct. 1, in which ten persons were killed and more than two scores injured. A cross-town car, loaded with passengers, was struck by a freight train on the Forest avenue crossing. The jury held that the railroad company was negligent in employing an incompetent gatekeeper. The gates, which were in charge of Valentin Scabinski, a cripple, were not lowered when the freight train approached, according to testimony given at the inquest.

Employees of the street car company charged that Scabinski was asleep when the accident occurred.

REASON WAS NOT GOOD.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Mental anguish alleged to have resulted when her husband, Charles M. Scott, a farmer of Washington township, joined a religious sect, is not sufficient cause for divorce, according to a ruling made by Judge W. W. Thornton, of the superior court, when he denied a divorce to Mrs. Blanche L. Scott.

The testimony was to the effect that Scott joined the sect and as the result of consequent actions caused his wife great worry. The question was whether this constituted cruel and inhuman treatment, and the court held it was not. Mrs. Scott asked for $2,500 alimony and the custody of their two children.

FORT WAYNE'S CONVENTION HALL TO COST ABOUT THE SAME AS OMAHA'S.

The committees who are gathering information concerning convention halls, auditoriums and coliseums in other cities are much pleased with Omaha's splendid auditorium. This building is 132 by 264 feet in size, and seats about 5,000 people. It has an arena 86 by 160 feet in size. W. A. Ellis, the secretary, writes: "During the past six months, it has made a revenue over expenditures of over $5,000, due largely to the fact that it has been in use most of the time either for roller skating, conventions, grand opera, municipal concerts, wrestling matches, etc." The building cost $200,000.

Asks Pardon of Mother as Present on Her Birthday

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18.—Georgia's most famous prisoner, Mrs. Edna Perkins Godbee, serving a life sentence for double murder, may be pardoned soon as a result of the efforts of her daughter.

"Grant my mother a pardon as a birthday gift to me," pleads the daughter, Mrs. Charles B. Griner, 23, to the prison commission. "Mother's days are numbered. She has cancer of the heart. Release her and we will go back to Kansas (city, where I'll keep her the rest of her days).

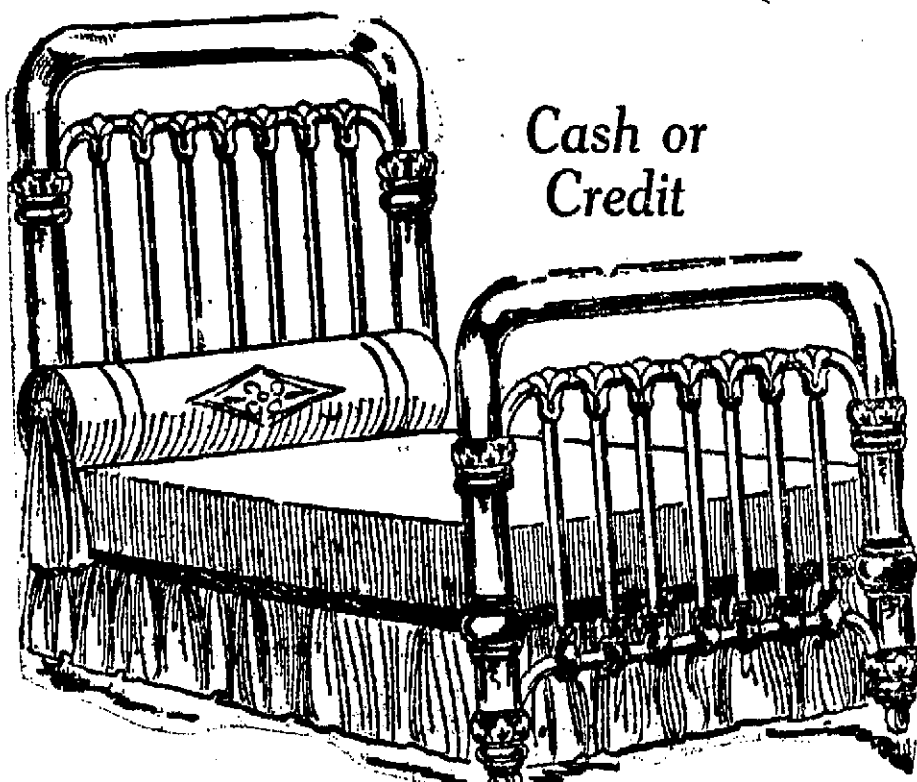

Ever since Mrs. Godbee was convicted of killing her divorced husband, Judge Walter S. Godbee and his second wife, in 1914, Mrs. Griner has worked for her mother's pardon.

Mrs. Griner says her mother was insane when she committed the double crime.

The Furniture Behind The Advertisement

Some people claim what they never get. Some advertisers claim what they never give. There was a concern once that advertised as follows: "Forward $2.00 and we will send you a steel engraving of George Washington." THEY SENT A POSTAGE STAMP WITH WASHINGTON'S FACE ON IT. Needless to say, this firm is not now in existence. We know of nothing more downright stupid than spending money to advertise the fact that our store is not reliable, and that is what untruthful advertising always does. If in our advertising you see the word, "Genuine Mahogany" or "Genuine Quartered Oak," you can depend upon it that it isn't imitation. If we say that an article we are selling at $5.00 is worth $7.00 or $8.00, you can rest assured that it is worth that. "There is one thing about this store (we overheard this statement), if you read about things and buy it there, you have what you expected when it is delivered to your home." Credit is always given.

TRAGEDIES FOLLOW CANADIANS OVERSEA

Many Girl Wives of Soldiers Find Selves Stranded in Strange Land.

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY.
London, England, Oct. 20.—The Canadian in England is a long, long way from "home."

Thousands of Canadian soldiers' wives have followed their husbands to the Old Country, some boats bringing nearly 1,000 of them. Scores of these wanderers find themselves stranded then tiny tragedies follow.

The dominion government gives a grant of $20 a month, and a soldier must assign his wife half his pay ($15 a month). But when the Ottawa paymaster has notice of a wife's departure for England it takes time to transfer the allowance. Hence a poor woman may find herself alone and penniless in a strange land.

Mary Smith, a girl wife, left Quebec to be near her husband in England. She reached London and promptly sought his address at Canadian headquarters. There officials soon discovered the soldier-husband had left for France two hours before his wife's arrival.

That was the first week of the "Big Push." Today the soldier is "Missing," Mortgages Furniture to Reach Husband.

Anna Jones of Montreal, mortgaged the furniture of her little flat to reach London and her wounded husband. Weary and weak with overstrain she found him in a Canadian hospital so feeble from his heavy hurt that he is about to be invalided out of the service. He, as a soldier honorably discharged, will be sent back to Canada, the government paying his fare. But even the open-handed dominion is not responsible for the passage money of his wandering wife.

Julia Deeming, mother of two soldier sons, gave up her work in Ottawa wishing to be near her boys. She took it for granted that a government allowance could be secured without difficulty. Both boys are in England, training for the artillery. BUT their mother finds she is not entitled to any official assistance since she was not dependent upon her sons before the war.

And, when the tiny tragedy hits in its course there arises still other difficulties in getting home. Nor is lack of money the worst.

Passage Papers Refused to Wife.

During a dreary hour Magistrate Hedderwick, at North London, had been dealing out police court justice when a tiny, little woman stepped to the witness stand. From hat quills to boot camps she was chic, sensible, tailor-made and utterly un-English.

"A passport case," drowned the clerk of the court, "this lady asks permission to return to Canada."

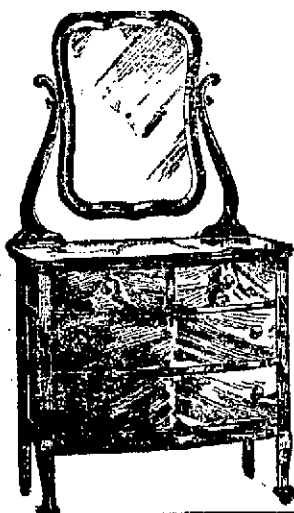

"I sailed for England immediately I heard my husband was wounded," testified the applicant. "The report proved false. My husband is fighting in Flanders. Being a stranger here I wish to go home at once."

The magistrate frowned importantly. "Madam, I decline to sign documents for a stranger. You must get your friends to declare your identity."

"I have no friends on this side, sir."

A Bed-Davenport like this has almost become a household necessity because of its convenience. In the daytime it is not only a beautiful piece of furniture, but one that will add to the comfort of any room that it might be placed in. At night, by a single operation, which any child can perform, it is converted in an instant into a bed that is as comfortable as any you have ever slept in.

The Howard Heater $13.85

Such wonderful claims have been made for the Howard Overdraft Base-Heater that we could hardly believe that any stove could be so efficient, and consequently we would not advertise them until we had investigated them thoroughly. So we bought several stoves, set them up and for two years—summer and winter—we burned these stoves in over thirty different rooms, in homes, barns, stores and everywhere, burning hard coal, soft coal, lignite, coke, wood and slack. The test proved conclusively that the manufacturers were very conservative in their claims for this stove, and it also enabled us to make the guarantee that these stoves will consume 50 per cent less fuel than any other stove on the market, regardless of the make or price.

"Unfortunately I did not attend church here."

"Indeed, well, I take a very serious view of my duty in these cases. I do not know you come from Canada, therefore I cannot sign your application to return."

Willing to Hide in Stoke Hole.

The little woman visibly braced herself to meet the dilemma. "Then I guess I must find a way home," she exclaimed, tone and phrase patently "colonial." "If need be, I shall slide into a stokehole and lie low till the ship reaches mid-ocean."

At the rear of the sordid room a khaki-clad Maine woodsman laughed suddenly. When he rose, his six-foot-two of bone and brawn towered above the puny, pallid Londoners.

"Your honor," he addressed the court with western directness. "There ain't a doubt but this lady hails from the Dominion. Who don't you look in her hat, at her boots, on her wedding ring? If they ain't marked Montreal I'll bet on the Isthmus of Panama, principally for the transportation of lumber."

Science Unites with Fashion to Create a New Era in Bed Designing

ONE of the most important items of news published recently appears in the current Ladies' Home Journal on the news-stands. This item is a full page story of the Simmons Bed. The facts cited in the story prove that a revolution in bed manufacture has taken place, and that this revolution so vitally affects style in bedroom furnishings that no woman can afford to overlook it.

These basic points of manufacture determine the superiority of the Simmons Bed:—

Flawless enamel finish on steel—giving a surface which is practically everlasting.
Electric welding, doing away with all nuts and bolts; so avoiding all rattling.

Simmons Beds are shown in all the "modern art" designs as well as in Period styles. Coloring to suit every imaginable room. Cribs, twin beds, plain beds for servants' rooms, handsome beds for guest chambers—every kind of bed a home can need is in the Simmons line.

All-steel tube, making bed one-third lighter than the former type of "iron" bed. This tube will endure forever.
Frictionless casters which assure the bed moving at a touch. Easy on rugs.

The fact that this store has so promptly stocked these new and desirable beds proves that we present with the utmost promptness all the novel fashions and merchandise that the best makers produce.

We urge you to see this large and interesting display now.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—When B. H. Dalheimer, president of the Master Bakers' association of Chicago observed shortly after the opening of the board of trade today that wheat had advanced 2 1/2 cents more, December at the moment selling at $1.71 1/2, he said: "That settles it; something must be done or there will be seven-cent bread in Chicago."
Mr. Dalheimer and a committee failed in an attempt to bring the subject to the attention of President Wilson. "We will take the question of the domestic situation is relieved up with our congressmen and arrange that way to bring it before Mr. Wilson," said Mr. Dalheimer.

KITE "WHEAT PRICE"

SOARING UP SOME MORE

Two Cents is Added and Millers Predict a Two Dollar Mark.

Up, up it goes, with nothing in sight to stop it. Kite "Wheat Price," which attained dizzy heights Thursday and came within 2 cents of the record for this community in years, is still soaring and Friday added the required 2 cents to reach the record price of two years ago.

The local millers are of the opinion that it will be several months before wheat will again turn back and reach normal price again. They predict that it will go to the two dollar mark and higher before spring. One grain dealer said: "It would not surprise me in the least to see wheat selling for $2.50 to $2.75 a bushel by the first of next year."

Flour prices added 20 cents on a barrel today, with a promise that a rise in price of wheat for Saturday would send it up a little more. Other grain prices remained steady, although it is stated that corn prices are ready for a big boost.

All other markets were extremely quiet when compared with the sensation in wheat circles. The egg market is strong with a promise of higher prices. The poultry market remains unchanged and so does the live stock market. All markets reported light receipts Friday and buying was inactive.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wheat rushes to buy gave the wheat market today another ascent. Opening prices here, which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, with December at $1.69 1/2 and May at $1.68 1/2, were followed by decided further gains which carried the market in some cases more than 3c above yesterday's finish.

The close which was unsettled with December $1.69 1/2 and May at $1.68 1/2, was 1/2 off to 1/2 up compared with yesterday's finish.

Corn jumped upward even faster at times than wheat. After opening 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher the market climbed rapidly, but soon reacted more than half way from the extreme advance.

The close was steady at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 net advance.

Big trading was witnessed in oats as well as in other cereals. Provisions rose sharply with grain.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.
New York, Oct. 20.—General and substantial recoveries from yesterday's late reversal were registered in today's early dealings, the rise embracing issues of all descriptions, particularly industrials, equipments, shipping shares and various rails. U. S. Steel gained 2 points with 1 to 3 for General Electric, Republic Steel, Pressed Steel Car, Industrial, Alcohol and American Woolen. Reading and Union Pacific led the investment rails to advances of a point, with similar gains for Wabash preferred A and Rock Island. Paper and sugar issues also improved materially.

Fully 600,000 shares changed hands in the forenoon, the market assuming wider proportions, with steel, however, eclipsing all other issues by its contribution of almost one-quarter of the whole. Steel made an extreme advance of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 with one or more points for independent industrials of the same classes, 3 to 4 points for American and Baldwin Locomotive, Marine preferred, Westinghouse and the less prominent issues and specialties. Motors averaged 1 point advance with numerous unclassified stocks and copper rose briskly at midday. Missouri Pacific and Minneapolis and St. Louis were additions to the list of strong and active minor rails. Bonds were irregular.

HAS GIVEN SOME AID TO 400,000 SAILORS

American Seaman's Friend Society's Work is an Extensive One.

New York, Oct. 19.—More than 400,000 sailors from practically every corner of the world have been served in some capacity during the eighty-eighth year of the American Seaman's Friend society according to its annual report just made public. The largest part of the institution's work was done in the port of New York but affiliated organizations were active in Gloucester, Mass., Norfolk and Newport News, Va., New Orleans, Galveston, Rio de Janeiro and Stockholm, Sweden.

The report of the society reveals that there has been called for a considerable increase in facilities of the society. During the past year gifts, including legacies, amounted to $32,611 which sum had to be widely divided among the many departments of the work.

During the year 181,000 seamen were registered at the New York headquarters of the society. More than $25,000 was handled for these men, and 41,598 sailors were lodged at the society's home over night at an average cost of thirty cents. Free beds were provided for about two thousand men and free meals for more than one thousand.

A novel feature of the society's work is the furnishing of free loan libraries to ships at sea, and during the year 176 new libraries were sent out. This increases the total number of libraries distributed by the society to 27,313, which

ONE of the most important items of news published recently appears in the current Ladies' Home Journal on the news-stands. This item is a full page story of the Simmons Bed. The facts cited in the story prove that a revolution in bed manufacture has taken place, and that this revolution so vitally affects style in bedroom furnishings that no woman can afford to overlook it.

These basic points of manufacture determine the superiority of the Simmons Bed:—

Flawless enamel finish on steel—giving a surface which is practically everlasting.
Electric welding, doing away with all nuts and bolts; so avoiding all rattling.

Simmons Beds are shown in all the "modern art" designs as well as in Period styles. Coloring to suit every imaginable room. Cribs, twin beds, plain beds for servants' rooms, handsome beds for guest chambers—every kind of bed a home can need is in the Simmons line.

All-steel tube, making bed one-third lighter than the former type of "iron" bed. This tube will endure forever.
Frictionless casters which assure the bed moving at a touch. Easy on rugs.

The fact that this store has so promptly stocked these new and desirable beds proves that we present with the utmost promptness all the novel fashions and merchandise that the best makers produce.

We urge you to see this large and interesting display now.

SAYS THAT SETTLES IT; BREAD HIGHER

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—When R. H. Dalheimer, president of the Master Bakers' association of Chicago observed shortly after the opening of the board of trade today that wheat had advanced 2 1/2 cents more, December at the moment selling at $1.11 1/2, he said: "That settles it; something must be done or there will be seven-cent bread in Chicago."

Mr. Dalheimer and a committee failed in an attempt to bring the subject to the attention of President Wilson.

KITE "WHEAT PRICE" SOARING UP SOME MORE

Two Cents is Added and
Dollar Mark.

Up, up it goes, with nothing in sight to stop it. Kite "Wheat Price," which attained dizzy heights Thursday and came within 2 cents of the record for this community in years, is still soaring, and Friday added the required 2 cents to reach the record price of two years ago.

The local millers are of the opinion that it will be several months before wheat will again turn back and reach normal price again. They predict that it will go to the two dollar mark and higher before spring. One grain dealer said: "It would not surprise me in the least to see wheat selling for $2.50 to $2.75 a bushel by the first of next year."

Flour prices added 20 cents on a barrel today, with a promise that a rise in price of wheat for Saturday would send it up a little more. Other grain prices remained steady, although it is stated that corn prices are ready for a big boost.

All other markets were extremely quiet when compared with the sensation in wheat circles. The egg market is strong with a promise of higher prices. The poultry market remains unchanged and so does the live stock market. All markets reported light receipts Friday and buying was inactive.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wild rushes to buy gave the wheat market today another ascent. Opening prices here, which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/2% higher, with December at $1.69 1/2 and May at $1.69 1/2, were followed by decided further gains which carried the market in some cases more than 30 above yesterday's finish.

The close which was unsettled with December $1.69 1/2 and May at $1.69 1/2, was 1/2 off to 1/2 up compared with yesterday's finish.

Corn jumped upward even faster at times than wheat. After opening 1/2 to 1 1/2% higher the market climbed rapidly, but soon reacted more than half way from the extreme advance.

The close was steady at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2% net advance.

Big trading was witnessed in oats as well as in other cereals. Provisions rose sharply with grain.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 20.—General and substantial recoveries from yesterday's late reversal were registered in today's early dealings, the rise embracing issues of all descriptions, particularly industrials, equipments, shipping shares and various rails. U. S. Steel gained 2 points with 1 to 2 for General Electric, Republic Steel, Pressed Steel Car, Industrial Alcohol and American Woolen. Reading and Union Pacific led the investment rails to advances of a point, with similar gains for Wabash preferred A and Rock Island. Paper and sugar issues also improved materially.

Fully 600,000 shares changed hands in the forenoon, the market assuming wider proportions, with steel, however, eclipsing all other issues by its contribution of almost one-quarter of the whole. Steel made an extreme advance of 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 with one or more points for independent industrials of the same classes, 3 to 4 points for American and Baldwin Locomotive, Marine preferred, Westinghouse and the less prominent issues and specialties. Motors averaged 1 point advance with numerous unclassified stocks and copper rose briskly at midday. Missouri Pacific and Minneapolis and St. Louis were additions to the list of strong and active minor rails. Bonds were irregular.

HAS GIVEN SOME AID

American Seaman's Friend

Society's Work is an Extensive One.

New York, Oct. 19.—More than 400,000 sailors from practically every corner of the world have been served in some capacity during the eighty-eighth year of the American Seaman's Friend society according to its annual report just made public. The largest part of the institution's work was done in the port of New York but affiliated organizations were active in Gloucester, Mass., Norfolk and Newport News, Va., New Orleans, Galveston, Rio de Janeiro and Stockholm, Sweden.

The report of the society reveals that war times have called for a considerable increase in facilities of the society. During the past year gifts, including legacies, amounted to $82,611 which sum had to be widely divided among the many departments of the work.

During the year 181,000 seamen were registered at the New York headquarters of the society. More than $25,000 was handled for these men, and 41,593 sailors were lodged at the society's home over night at an average cost of thirty cents. Free beds were provided for about two thousand men and free meals for more than one thousand.

A novel feature of the society's work is the furnishing of free loan libraries to ships at sea, and during the year 176 new libraries were sent out. This increases the total number of libraries distributed by the society to 27,413, which

Business Girls Fall in Behind Anonymous Donor to Help Y. W. Project.

If the offer made some time ago by William E. Mossman, agreeing to install a swimming pool for the Y. W. C. A., if the institution provides a suitable place for it, is to be available, it will be necessary for sufficient money to be raised whereby the aforesaid suitable place may be secured.

There was general rejoicing and no little enthusiasm when announcement was made by Miss Nora Shreve Thursday night at the supper of the Big Sister league and the Business Woman's club, that a person whose name she was not at liberty to divulge, had agreed to donate $1,000 to be used for the construction of a building or an addition to the present building in which to install a swimming pool. An effort will be made at once to raise the required amount and thus take advantage of Mr. Mossman's liberal offer. The Business Woman's club, through Miss Owen Traxler, announced that it had $500 in the treasury which would be turned over for this purpose.

The two organizations were formed into one last evening and it will be known as the Business Girls' league. There will be a meeting next Friday evening to hear a report of the constitution and by-law committee.

Miss Gertrude Hopkin talked to the girls on "What a Business Girls' Organization Might Do." Miss Cole talked to the girls for a short time and Miss Bill, the physical director, told them that a gym class would be formed for the new club.

Third Session Monday. The third session of the Community Training school for Sunday school workers will be held at the First Baptist church Monday evening at 7:45. Although work has been going on very successfully, the directors will still take enrollments and give the newcomers a chance to catch up. The school is conducted under the auspices of the interdenominational Sunday school association and is open to every Sunday school worker. The object is to train teachers for more efficient work.

Revival at Trinity M. E. church is taking on the activities of a real revival. Several conversions have already taken place. Dr. Shaw, of Taylor university, will conduct the meeting Saturday night and the three meetings of Sunday. Rev. Shoemaker, pastor of the church, is a strong evangelistic preacher and is right in his element while conducting a revival.

Give Penny Supper. Classes No. 12 and 15 of the Trinity English Lutheran Sunday school will give a penny supper in the Sunday school rooms Saturday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Law Partners Become Priests. Quit Successful Practice to Take Up Work as Clergyman.

Paul Claire, Wis., Oct. 20.—Legal circles were surprised by the announcement today that both members of the Chipewaga Falls law firm of J. R. Murphy and J. Howard Brown, one of the most successful law firms in the two cities, would close their practice and enter the priesthood.

It was learned from friends that they would depart November 1 to enter the orders of the Holy Ghost Fathers, noted for its scholarly clergy. These fathers have their provincial novitiate at Norwalk, Conn.

Mr. Murphy has been city attorney six years. Both are graduates of the University of Wisconsin law school.

SON BIRTHDAY PRESENT. Wife Surprises Guest of Honor at Party She Arranged.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Benjamin Strood arranged a birthday party for her husband last night and invited a large number of his friends. During the course of the merry-making Mrs. Strood gave birth to a son.

London, Oct. 20.—The house of commons last evening passed the second reading of the Rhodes estate bill, which would exclude Germans henceforth from enjoying scholarships at Oxford university under the Cecil Rhodes trust fund.

HAS NOT BEEN CONSIDERED. Washington Gives No Attention to Venizelos Government.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Recognition of the Venizelos provisional government in Greece has not yet been considered by the United States, according to state department officials. They point out that the letter of the American consul at Saloniki to the provisional government's foreign minister expressing hope of cordial relations was purely a matter of form and could not be considered as recognition by the United States.

CONGREGATION B'NAI JACOB HOLDS INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS.

BENJAMIN WARTELL, President.

HARRY FRIEDMAN, Vice President.

The installation of officers of the congregation B'nei Jacob was held at the synagogue Thursday evening with impressive ceremony.

Rabbi Saul Schorr officiated at the service and Benjamin Wartell and Harry Friedman, president and vice president, respectively, took their chairs. Speeches were made by Mr. Wartell. They were greeted with great applause.

After the service a delightful banquet was served. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

The claim is advanced that, having qualified as a legal voter in one state, a woman who moves to another state has the right to vote in the place of her new residence.

Support of the claim, which is to be pressed in the courts in each instance by the International Woman's Suffrage association, it is announced that organization points to sections of the federal constitution which are alleged to cover the situation:

"Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state" (article 4, section 1); and "The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states" (article 4, section 2), are passages quoted in this connection.

CAMPAIGN MIXES UP HIGH COURT SCHEDULE

Washington, Oct. 20.—The political campaign is somewhat disarranging the schedule for argument of cases before the supreme court. Because state officials and counsel desire to remain home for the campaign and election the court is being asked to postpone argument of a number of cases set for the pre-election period. When the court rules permit, such postponements are being granted.

At the request of Oregon's attorney general the court today temporarily postponed rearrangement of the case testing constitutionality of the Oregon minimum wage law for women, the first of its kind to come before the supreme court. He stated that counsel desired to remain in Oregon for political activities.

RECRUITING IS HALTED. Bridges Stops Work at South Bend After War Department Message.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—Franklin L. Bridges, adjutant general of the Indiana national guard, said today that the organization of a part of a new company of the guard at South Bend had been stopped because of a telegram received from the central department of the war department informing him that "it was not intended to recruit further for national guard in federal service either by guard officers or federal officers."

BACKED BY SUFFRAGISTS. Unique Wedding Bill Is Put Forward in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—A bill that will make the parents of a child born out of wedlock husband and wife as soon as the child is born will be backed by the Illinois Equal Suffrage association. Such a measure was proposed at the convention of the association here today by Dr. Lucy Waite, of Chicago, who announced she would introduce the bill in the next general assembly.

DEMAND A RIGHT TO VOTE IN BAY STATE

Women of Suffrage States Carrying Unique Plea to Courts.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—A new expedition aimed at obtaining the right of suffrage for women is being tested in this state.

Women who have voted in states that have extended the suffrage to them, such as California, Colorado and Oregon, have made formal demands in various cities of Massachusetts where they are now residents that they be registered as legal voters.

The claim is advanced that, having qualified as a legal voter in one state, a woman who moves to another state has the right to vote in the place of her new residence.

Support of the claim, which is to be pressed in the courts in each instance by the International Woman's Suffrage association, it is announced that organization points to sections of the federal constitution which are alleged to cover the situation:

"Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state" (article 4, section 1); and "The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states" (article 4, section 2), are passages quoted in this connection.

HE MERELY WANTED TO GET MONEY BACK

Minnesota Man Arrested Offering Stolen Bonds to Ohio Bank.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 20.—While trying to dispose of several thousand dollars worth of bonds to the Amelia State bank at Amelia, O., late yesterday, a man who was identified today as Alonzo J. Whitman was apprehended and held by government officers who claimed that the bonds Whitman was trying to dispose of had been stolen from the bank several months ago. Whitman refused to talk until he was identified today by a representative of a detective agency.

"I was a state senator in Minnesota," said Whitman, "having been elected from Duluth, and in 1892 I was one of those who seconded the nomination of Grover Cleveland."

Whitman insisted that he had purchased the bonds and that he did not know that they had been stolen until his broker in New York notified him. He stated he only wanted to get back what he had paid for the bonds and for that reason went to the bank that they had been stolen from.

Cause of Constipation.

Constipation results from a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. To effect a permanent cure more water must be taken into the system. Drink a full glass of water half an hour before breakfast and about the third of a glass an hour and a half after each meal, also eat an apple or banana before breakfast and before going to bed. Make sure that your bowels move just after breakfast whether there is an inclination or not. When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets as they are mild and gentle in effect, but no medicine should be taken when operations can be induced naturally each day. To effect a permanent cure time and patience are required as bad habits are more easily formed than broken up. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

The United States Daughters of 1812 will join officially in this pilgrimage.

The Tippecanoe battle ground, on the banks of the Wabash nine miles north of Lafayette, Ind., is now a very beautiful park with a large auditorium and other buildings. A station on the Monon railway is at the entrance to this park.

There will be appropriate exercises including a program of music and patriotic addresses, beginning at 2 p. m.

The facilities of the Monon and other railways and of the interurban will permit those who wish to go on this pilgrimage to leave home Sunday morning, attend the exercises and reach home the same night. If the day is pleasant, the exercises will be held in the open air. Otherwise in the auditorium. The mayor and citizens of Lafayette and surrounding territory are giving their hearty co-operation.

Every one is invited to join in this pilgrimage and will be indeed welcome. It is especially desired that youths and children attend.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Much interest is being shown in the Tippecanoe battle ground of the Society of the War of 1812 on Sunday, Nov. 5, next—the 105th anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe.

For full information of this pilgrimage, or of the requirements of membership in the Society of the War of 1812, address John M. GIVES $1,000 TOWARD SWIMMING POOL FUND

Business Girls Fall in Behind Anonymous Donor to Help Y. W. Project.

If the offer made some time ago by William E. Mossman, agreeing to install a swimming pool for the Y. W. C. A., if the institution provides a suitable place for it, is to be available, it will be necessary for sufficient money to be raised whereby the aforesaid suitable place may be secured.

There was general rejoicing and no little enthusiasm when announcement was made by Miss Nora Shreve Thursday night at the supper of the Big Sister league and the Business Woman's club, that a person whose name she was not at liberty to divulge, had agreed to donate $1,000 to be used for the construction of a building in which to install a swimming pool. An effort will be made at once to raise the required amount and thus take advantage of Mr. Mossman's liberal offer. The Business Woman's club, through Miss Gwen Traxler, announced that it had $50 in the treasury which would be turned over for this purpose.

The two organizations were formed into one last evening and it will be known as the Business Girls' league. There will be a meeting next Friday evening to hear a report of the constitution and by-law committee.

Miss Gertrude Goggin talked to the girls on "What a Business Girls' Organization Might Do." Miss Cole talked to the girls for a short time and Miss Bill, the physical director, told them that a gym class would be formed for the new club.

HAS NOT BEEN CONSIDERED.

Washington Gives No Attention to Venizelos Government.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Recognition of the Venizelos provisional government in Greece has not yet been considered by the United States, according to state department officials. They point out that the letter of the American consul at Saloniki to the provisional government's foreign minister expressing hope of cordial relations was purely a matter of form and could not be considered as a recognition by the United States.

HE MERELY WANTED TO GET MONEY BACK

Minnesota Man Arrested Offering Stolen Bonds to Ohio Bank.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 20.—While trying to dispose of several thousand dollars worth of bonds to the Amelita State bank at Amelita, O., late yesterday, a man who was identified today as Alonzo J. Whitman was apprehended and held by government officers who claimed that the bonds were stolen from the bank several months ago. Whitman refused to talk until he was identified today by a representative of a detective agency.

"I was a state senator in Minnesota," said Whitman, "having been elected from Duluth, and in 1892 I was one of those who seconded the nomination of Grover Cleveland."

Whitman insisted that he had purchased the bonds and that he did not know that they had been stolen until his broker in New York notified him. He insisted he only wanted to get back what he had paid for the bonds and for that reason went to the bank that they had been stolen from.

RECRUITING OFFICERS RETURN TO THE BORDER

Lieutenant W. Howard Miller and all other recruiting officers who were recalled to Fort Benjamin Harrison last Monday, left the state's mobilization grounds Friday morning, bound for Llano Grande, Texas. The party which returned to the Mexican border consisted of six commissioned officers, twelve non-commissioned officers, six privates and a few recruits.

The regular enlisted men and officers were sent back from the border six weeks ago to do recruiting work in Indiana for the National guard. The results were very poor in the estimation of the war department and as a result all the officers were ordered recalled. The men were instructed to report at Fort Harrison. Lieut. Miller of Fort Wayne, wrote to his parents in this city telling them of his departure for the border for the second time.

Cause of Constipation.

Constipation results from a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. To effect a permanent cure more water must be taken into the system. Drink a full glass of water half an hour before breakfast and about the third of a glass also eat an apple or banana before breakfast and before going to bed. Make sure that your bowels move just after breakfast whether there is an inclination or not. When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets as they are mild and gentle in effect, but no medicine should be taken when operations can be induced naturally each day. To effect a permanent cure time and patience are required as bad habits are more easily formed than broken up. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

COMING IN FORCE TO SEE OLD TIPPECANOE

Society of War of 1812 to Make Pilgrimage on Sunday, Nov. 5.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Much interest is being shown in the pilgrimage to the Tippecanoe battle ground of the Society of the War of 1812 on Sunday, Nov. 5, next—the 105th anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe.

The United States Daughters of 1812 will join officially in this pilgrimage.

The Tippecanoe battle ground, on the banks of the Wabash nine miles north of Lafayette, Ind., is now a very beautiful park with a large auditorium and other buildings. A station on the Monon railway is at the entrance to this park.

There will be appropriate exercises including a program of music and patriotic addresses, beginning at 2 p. m.

The facilities of the Monon and other railways and of the interurban will permit those who wish to go on this pilgrimage to leave home Sunday morning, attend the exercises and reach home the same night. If the day is pleasant, the exercises will be held in the open air. Otherwise in the auditorium. The mayor and citizens of Lafayette and surrounding territory are giving their hearty co-operation.

Every one is invited to join in this pilgrimage and will be indeed welcome. It is especially desired that youths and children attend.

For full information of this pilgrimage, or of the requirements of membership in the Society of the War of 1812, address John M. Stahl, president, Illinois Society of the War of 1812, 3401 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., or James Edgar Brown, secretary-treasurer, Illinois Society of the War of 1812, Conway building, Chicago, Ill.

The jurisdiction of the Illinois Society of the War of 1812 covers the entire United States west of Pennsylvania and it has members and officers in Indiana, Michigan, etc., as well as Illinois.

Henderson Corsets Retain Their Shapeliness Until Worn Out.

Why? Because of their superior constructive features and the excellence of materials entering into their manufacture. Upon these features depends the style, fit, comfort and service of a corset.

The Clasp is guaranteed unbreakable. This is accomplished by the special features of two extra shorter steels covering the waist line and fastened to the clasp at the upper end only.

The Side Stays are double; made of the highest grade non-rustable, flexible, clock-spring steel. The bones are double and are made of the same excellent material as the side stays.

Double Stripping covers the bones and side stays with two thicknesses of cloth on each side, which prevents any possibility of the material wearing through.

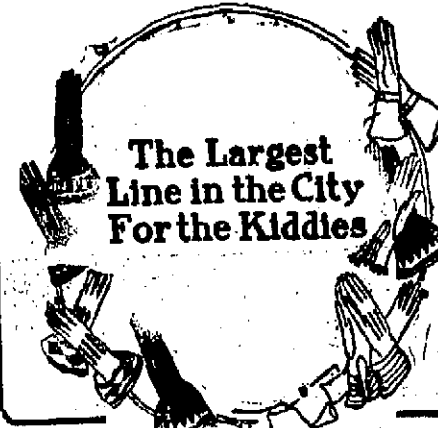

We have an unusually complete and comprehensive showing of this season's styles in Henderson corsets.

Henderson corsets merit consideration and approval, as they are a distinct revelation in style and beauty; comfort has not been sacrificed to attain such gratifying results.

These corsets are priced at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Correct fittings complimentary—Corset Shop.

MEETS DEATH AT RAILROAD CROSSING

George Moore, of Auburn Junction, Killed When Fast Train Hits Rig in Which He Was Riding.

Butler, Ind., Oct. 20.—Thursday evening at 6 o'clock as George Moore and son Ross, of Auburn Junction, were crossing the New York Central track, at Arford's crossing, three miles east of Butler they were struck by fast mail train No. 35, and George Moore received injuries which caused his death a short time afterwards. His right limb was so badly crushed that he died to death. The son escaped with a badly cut head and face, but was able to run to a farm house for aid. Physicians were rushed to the scene of the accident, but nothing could be done to save the elder Mr. Moore. G. Moore is the proprietor of a general store at Auburn Junction and he and his son were returning home from Toledo, O., where they had taken a load of produce the day before.

SAYS $79.21 IS DUE HIM.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 20.—Through his attorneys, Joseph Peepers has brought suit in circuit court against Roy Hartman and Shirley Hartman, asking $79.21, which he alleges is due him. The complaint says that October 8 last, he and Shirley Hartman were partners in a meat market on North Main street. It is alleged that Peepers was to sell his interest to Roy Hartman and that each selected a man to make an invoice. After the deduction of the indebtedness it is alleged the assets of the partnership amounted to $139.43. Roy Hartman paid half of this sum for Peepers' interest, the latter avers, but instead of giving the money to him gave it to Shirley Hartman to be paid to Peepers. The plaintiff says he has made a demand for the money, but claims that the defendants refuse to pay it.

MAIL CARRIER BURNED.

Keystone, Ind., Oct. 20.—Arthur Brubaker, rural route mail carrier from the Keystone postoffice is nursing a painfully burned right hand and arm and his right leg is burned some as the result of the motor in his Ford car setting fire to gasoline while the gas tank was being filled at the Twibell hardware store. Mr. Brubaker had been to the postoffice and had his mail in the car ready to start on his daily rounds. Before leaving Keystone he drove to the hardware store filling station to get gasoline in his tank. He left the motor running and gas was being pumped into the car when in some way some of the fluid run down on the outside of the fuel pipe to the engine. It was soon ignited, and when Mr. Brubaker saw the flame, he jerked the hose from the tank in the car, and gasoline was sprayed over his clothes and in the front of the machine. It caught from the flame coming from the engine, and in an instant he was enveloped in flames. His clothing caught fire and when men nearby tried to help him, he went directly away from them, but in the scramble several coats were thrown over him and the fire smothered.

WILSON AT KENDALLVILLE.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 20.—Three thousand people greeted President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson when their train, en route to Chicago, stopped here for a few minutes at 8:45 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was half an hour late but the big crowd waited patiently through a slow, drizzling rain, anxious to see the much-talked-of executive, and the "first lady of the land." When the train stopped and Mr. Wilson stepped out on the rear platform he was given a grand ovation. The cheers were soon checked with calls for "be quiet" from the crowd, "let's have a speech." With a cheery "Good morning," the president stood for a moment, almost shy and apparently hesitating. There was an expectant air over all. Then Mr. Wilson, using his left hand, proceeded to shake hands with all nearest the coach. Men, women and children pushed forward for the opportunity of grasping his hand.

NO SIGN OF OIL.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 20.—The Smoky Row Oil company, which was organized to drill three test wells in the vicinity of Vera Cruz, west of this city, today plugged their third "dry hole," and efforts to strike oil in that locality will be abandoned for the present, at least. All hopes of striking oil in this third well, drilled on the John Brennan farm, were abandoned Tuesday evening, after the drill had penetrated to a total depth of about 1,140 feet. This is considerably deeper than most of the producing oil wells in the Wells county field were drilled. Hope of finding oil in this third well was virtually abandoned several days ago, after the drill had pierced to a depth of 1,100 feet without striking sand. And after when the drill went into the sand there was not the least showing for oil.

SHOOT AT CHICKEN THEIVES.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 20.—Lew Gerard, living one mile and a half west and one mile north of Poneto, fired several shots at chicken thieves, who were discovered raiding his coops last midnight, but they escaped. Two men drove their wagon near the Gerard home and the noise they made awakened Gerard. He grabbed a shotgun and fired at them and then after notifying neighbors by telephone he started in pursuit of the outfit. They turned north at the crossroads west of his house and the trail was lost. Whether the men succeeded in getting any chickens from the Gerard place was not known by the owner this morning.

CITIZENS INDIGNANT.

Leesburg, Ind., Oct. 20.—Considerable wrought up over the number of accidents which have occurred in the past where the main street of this city crosses the Winona Interurban, near the station, the town board of Leesburg has decided to take the matter up with the state public service commission. According to the Leesburg Journal the matter has been brought to the attention of the officials of the line many times and each time they have given their promise to give the public protection, but so far they have declined to take any action. The board has instructed Clerk Wallace to take the matter up with the commission in order that the company may be forced to take action.

KILLS DAUGHTER; THEN SUICIDES.

Portland, Oct. 20.—In a state of temporary insanity brought on by failure of crops and financial troubles, Playford Wilkinson, a former Jay county man, killed his 10-year-old daughter, Gladys, burned the family home and killed himself, by shooting, the first of this week at the family home near Rawley, North Dakota. For two years the products of Mr. Wilkinson's farm were almost a total failure, the financial troubles so preying on his mind that in one of these attacks of temporary melancholia his suicide and the life of his daughter was taken.

TRAVEL IN AUTO.

Huntington, Oct. 20.—The gypsy outfit "de luxe" visited Huntington Thursday morning. This family, seemingly traveling alone instead of with several other families, was equipped with two automobiles, an Overland and a Studebaker. The Overland was not changed much from the touring car, but the Studebaker contained the bedding and clothing, all of the loudest colors, and the back of the front seat was missing, showing that it is used for sleeping purposes. "Father" drove the Overland, which bore a California number, and "mother" drove the Studebaker. The various descendants rode where they pleased, either with "father" or "mother." The family did not stop long in Huntington, merely inquiring the way to a neighboring town.

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 20.—Howard Markley, formerly of this city, has been brought back from Richmond to answer to two charges, one alleging the issuing of a fraudulent check and the other alleging embezzlement. C. M. Miller filed the former charge and the embezzlement charge was filed by Rusk J. Stone, a representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, of Fort Wayne, who alleges that Markley, while acting as agent for the company, collected a premium of $48.19 on July 9, 1915, and appropriated the money to his own use. Bond in each case is fixed at $500.

ASK FOR NEW SCHOOL.

Piercetown, Ind., Oct. 20.—The advisory board of Washington township met Thursday afternoon for the purpose of considering the proposition of taking steps to erect a new school building in the town of Piercetown. The matter has been before the advisory board for some time, however, after the appropriation had been made further action was given up when legal proceedings were threatened when the residents of the town failed to agree upon the site.

FAIR HAS BALANCE.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 20.—Charles W. Decker, secretary of the Bluffton Street Fair association, has completed a detailed report showing the 1916 fair to have been the best ever held in the city. The report shows a balance of $722.19 on hand and the payment of $596.05 in notes, a deficit from the 1915 fair. Besides this pens for 300 heads of hogs and many trotters and banners were purchased and they are in storage.

DESERTED WIFE 32 TIMES.

Auburn, Oct. 20.—That during their married life her husband has left her on thirty-two different occasions and afterward each time has begged to be received back in her good graces, is the statement of Mrs. Nancy J. Topper of Butler, the latest DeKalb county resident to apply for a divorce in the DeKalb circuit court.

DEATH NEAR MONROE.

Monroe, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Ida Mertz Roth, wife of John Roth, 22 years old, residing on the Henry Vogelsong farm near here, is dead, the result of an attack of appendicitis. The deceased had undergone four operations within the past few years.

MARRIED IN CHICAGO.

LEFT THE CITY WHEN HIS VENTURE FAILED

Hotel Waiter Forfeited $100 Cash Bond and is Missing.

Panic struck the business scheme of Walter Anderson, 34, colored waiter at the Anthony hotel. So cruel were the Nemesis which sometimes follow those who deal in high finance that they placed Anderson in jail and robbed him of all the money he had. He has left the city of his blasted venture.

Anderson tried to get dining-room slips like those used at the Anthony hotel printed for his own use. He could have carried the slips and marked them to suit himself and have turned in a less amount of money to the hotel.

It was a glowing scheme and Anderson invested $21 in having slips printed. But when the bundle arrived in Fort Wayne it was torn open and the name Anthony hotel showed. The hotel was notified. Anderson was arrested when he came for the slips. He was held in jail Tuesday night on a defrauding charge.

Wednesday he put up $100 cash bond for appearance in court Friday. He was nearly all the money he had. He has left town, police say. His name was called three times in court Friday and the money declared forfeited to the city.

His Face Was No Good.

Harry Keefe, plumber, 1023 Maumee avenue, was fined $10 and sentenced to sixty days at work on the county roads because his wife testified that he has not provided for her and their four children, that he will not work but two weeks in a month and is drunk three times a week.

"Is his credit good at the grocery?" Kerr asked the wife. "No, his face is no good no place in town," the wife said.

She also claimed that he was back six months on the rent and that her parents, who live on Grand avenue, furnished her with food.

Basharra Fined. Albert Basharra, clothing clerk, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to forty days at the state farm on a charge of assault on an 11-year-old boy. Basharra claimed he never saw the boy who told of being approached by the Italian youth.

Fiddle Thief Held.

John Hayes, who stole a violin from the Washburn depot last Saturday will be held until October 25. He is under $100 bond. Owner of the violin cannot be found. It is claimed that the man from whom Hayes took the instrument was also intoxicated.

Other Police Court Cases. William Ward, teamster, charged with assault on a girl, was granted indefinite continuance on his case. He will be held until November 2 under $50 bond at which time the case will be dismissed.

Fred Abijt was fined $1 and costs for striking Peter Vassil, a fellow workman.

Disposition of cases of public intoxication were James Watkins, $5 fine and twenty days in jail; Dan Farrel, $1; Charles Miller, held under $25 bond until Saturday; Frank Langer, Charles Randall, Fred Klevenko, William Crawford, Emil Keuhn, released.

MISHAWAKA WOMAN PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

"Tanlac is Surely a Great
Medicine," Mrs. Higgs
Frankly Asserts.

Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 19.—Another interesting statement regarding the merits of Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine, was given on September 21 by Mrs. Irene Higgs, well known Mishawaka woman of 1191 1/2 North Main street. Mrs. Higgs found the Master Medicine very beneficial and tells of her relief in a frank, straightforward manner.

"I had liver and kidney trouble," she said. "Indigestion also bothered me. I couldn't eat very much as the food didn't agree with me and I didn't sleep well at night. Gas formations in my stomach bothered me greatly and I experienced severe pains across my back, due to the kidney trouble. I had become very weak and nervous from lack of proper nourishment."

"Several of my friends advised me to try Tanlac. It has certainly proven a great medicine for me. I can eat at all times now and the food agrees with me, as the gas formations have ceased. I sleep well at night now and the constipation has been greatly relieved. The kidney pains in my back do not bother me any more and I'm gaining strength also."

"Tanalac surely is a great medicine and I can highly recommend it to anyone."

Tanalac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanalac is now being specially introduced and explained in Fort Wayne at the four Meyer drug stores—Wayne and Johnson streets, Calhoun and Columbia, 420 Calhoun and Broadway and Taylor streets.—Advertisement.

PROFESSOR BECOMES REAL BOSS OF CITY

California City Big
Sums Daily.

BY C. A. CLAY.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 20.—A university professor is showing citizens here how to get a dollar's value out of every dollar spent.

The city council of San Jose asked Prof. Thomas H. Reed to quit his job in the political science department of the University of California and put the city manager plan into effect here. He did.

In one month he showed taxpayers how to prevent a waste of $20,000 a year.

He "fired" the city treasurer. He "canned" the custom of many city officials buying supplies indiscriminately and saved $1,000 a month.

He did many things destructive to the old regime and has started a constructive program for the future.

His term began last July and since that time he has put so many new, effective ideas into practice that the citizens here are taking a renewed interest in their city government. They have learned to like the way Reed handles the reins.

As the city manager came in the mayor went out, and a little later a lot of needless, wasteful, money-burning methods went out also. Reed became boss of the city. If anything goes wrong he is responsible. The council can check him up at any time and find out what is doing. He has complete control over all the city offices, excepting that of auditor, which is elective. He has the power to "hire and fire" and is using it to place around him a corps of experts in the city departments.

When he took up the government he found no less than 18 officials exercising freely the privilege of buying supplies. It was impossible to figure out an unencumbered balance on the city's books.

Reed became purchasing agent along with his many other duties. The eighteen men who bought as they pleased were shorn of their power. Haphazard buying was abolished. Supplies are now ordered in large quantities and

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out the poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, hot tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

Millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

This one idea saves the city $1,000 a month.

"I discovered that the city was using elegantly embossed stationery," said Reed. "By ordering a cheaper but suitable grade of paper we saved $235 on our first bill. If we had to make an impression of our importance embossed paper would be the thing. But we don't. Dealers are glad enough to do business with the city, regardless of the kind of stationery it uses."

"In an order of hay we found twenty bales half-filled with mud. We sent it back and got twenty-seven bales of real hay in return. The city would have paid out money for mud."

He considered the city treasurer unnecessary in a city of 40,000 people, and for that reason abolished the office. The city's cash was placed in the First National bank at interest and the bank furnished the services of a cashier free of charge. This change netted the city $5,500 a year in salary saving and interest.

"Now we pay our bills by check just the same as any commercial house does," said Manager Reed. "It does away with a lot of red tape and saves time and money."

Next year he plans to spend several thousands dollars in excess of this year's expenditures on parks, library, police, fire and health departments and on public works. He intends to reorganize the board of health, employing a competent official, who will devote all his time to increasing the efficiency of the department.

BUT HE IS GOING TO SPEND MONEY THAT HAS BEEN SAVED BY ELIMINATION OF WASTE. The tax rate will not be increased. He will be able to benefit the taxpayers with public improvements because he has increased the buying power of the dollar.

CHEER UP! MR. B. GOAT COMES BACK TO CUT HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Don't let anybody get your goat nowadays unless they pay at least 16 cents a pound for it!

Goat meat is being eaten, is rated as good as lamb and is a lot cheaper. Goat meat is said to be good for stews, meat pies, boiling, roasting and chops.

The chart shows the various sections of "Billy" and how to carve him: A—Neck, for stew and meat pie; B—Shoulder for boiling, baked dishes and roasts; C—back for chops, ribs chops and steaks; D—breast for stew only; E—Rump, best end for roasts and chops; F—hind end for stews; G—legs for chops, roasts and boiling.

"A city doesn't exist for the purpose of saving money, but to spend it wisely," he said. "I don't intend to cut down the number of employees, but better ones will be chosen—experts who will help cut down city waste and speed up the mechanism of city government."

The results being obtained here prove the effectiveness of the city manager plan, which is infinitely superior to the commission form, with its five heads. There is no place for a five-headed man except in a side-show."

ARGENTINA HAS PUT BAN ON IMMIGRATION

Decree Which Closes Doors
of Country to Many is Soon in Effect.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A decree promulgated last spring further restricting immigration to the Argentine Republic will take effect October 26.

In the past two years the departure of settlers and others for Europe has been so marked that some statesmen have been alarmed over the fact that a country with such a large area and a relative sparse population could not hold its inhabitants. The government, however, has not been impressed, and by decree which becomes effective next month, many stringent conditions will hereafter surround permission of immigrants to land in the Argentine.

Any persons found suffering from organic disease, making the subject unfit for work, will be barred, as will all criminals, the latter provision supposedly being aimed as a possible invasion by wounded soldiers after the European war. Another clause of the new restriction bars all those who have been brought in the country of origin and all other persons who may be considered likely to become a public charge.

The entire responsibility of bringing immigrants to the country is placed upon the captain or owners of the vessel which brings them, and in case immigrants are rejected the vessel must return them to the port of embarkation. In shipping circles it is said that this risk of bringing possibly undesirable immigrants from European countries where registration is either defective or not practiced at all makes the entire business of immigration undesirable in the viewpoint of the steamship companies. It is provided in the regulations, however, that first-class passengers are exempt from all the penalties prescribed in the decree, a fact which suggests that in future immigrants may travel safely as salon passengers.

Use Your Eyes Let Them Sell You This Regal-4-Thirty-Two

BY this we mean that the purchase of a light car should be based on comparison of the car's important features. Even a thorough reading of car literature won't give you the necessary information—a demonstration in one or two of them won't give you all the important specifications on wheelbase, style, size, power, finish, seat sizes and axles.

For this reason, we earnestly invite you and your friends to visit our salesrooms and compare this Regal-4-Thirty-Two's

POWER—32 H. P. Motor (bore 3½x4½ stroke) with its three bearing crank shaft, detachable head and other mechanical features with any other light car in the $600-$700 class.

SIZE—Its long 108 inch wheelbase that gives bigger and wider seats and more leg room than most cars of 115 inch wheelbase. The rear seat is from 1 to 4 inches wider than any other car in this price class.

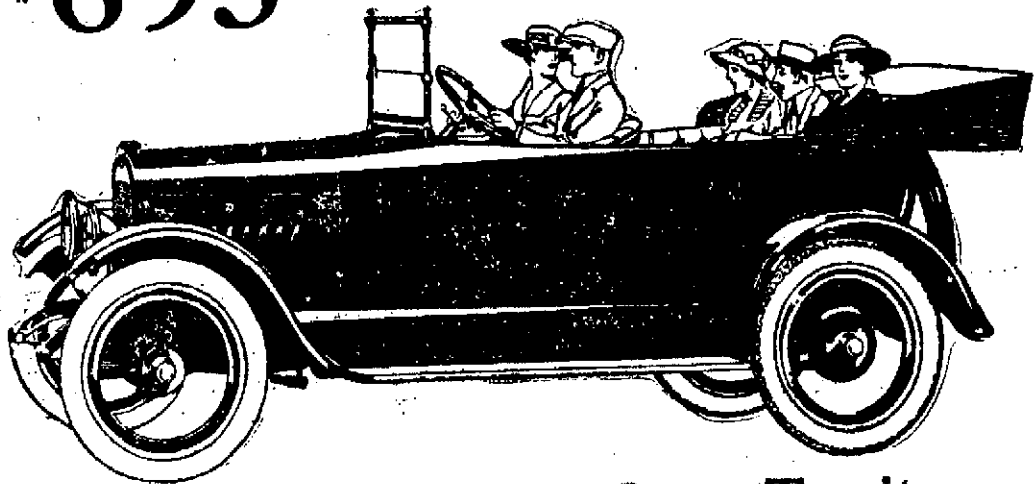

STYLE—Its cruiser-built body with high, rolling sides. The Regal is the only car selling under $1000 that uses this latest design.

REAR AXLE—Its full floating rear axle—an expensive and better axle than other types which are usually found on light cars.

GASOLINE SYSTEM—A system that includes a vacuum feed to the motor with gasoline tank suspended at rear of car. A factor of safety and the same construction adopted only by higher-priced cars.

Go over these points with us, one by one, on the day you go for a demonstration. At least drop in and let your eyes tell you what a big, luxurious light car this Regal-4-Thirty-Two is.

GIRL OFFERS TO GIVE EYE SO HER BLIND
SOLDIER LOVER MAY REGAIN SIGHT.

Following the announcement from Paris by Dr. Rochoon Duvigneau, noted oculist, that science had progressed so it is possible to graft a small piece of the human cornea on another cornea, a young girl has written to the Academy of Medicine offering to sacrifice one of her eyes to restore sight to her blind lover, who is a soldier. The offer was rejected.

Uric Acid-Poisoning!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called Anuric—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anuric at any drugstore and get relief from the pains it has brought about by uric acid. Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations. It is just as necessary to keep the kidneys acting properly as to keep the bowels active. The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and an Anuric tablet. In this way it is readily dissolved with the food, picked up by the blood and finally reaches the kidneys, where it has a tonic effect in rebuilding those organs. Step into the drugstore and ask for a 30-cent package of Anuric, or send Dr. Pierce 10c. for trial pkg. Anuric—many times more potent than lithin, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you. Advertisement.

FIRE CONTROL DRILL

BY PERSHING'S ARMY

Vastly Increased American
Cavalry Efficiency in Month.

Field Headquarters, American Punitive Expedition in Mexico, Oct. 20.—“Fire control” drills, which, in a month's time have increased the effectiveness of cavalry regiments' fire 100 per cent., are important factors in the field maneuvers being held by the American punitive expedition.

Far from being a period of stagnation for the expeditionary troops, the hiatus during the last few months in the pursuit of Villa has been of almost incalculable benefit to them, particularly to the mounted arm. It has given commanding officers opportunities to handle larger bodies of men under conditions more nearly akin to those of war than have obtained at any time since in the past 50 years.

The maneuvers, which are varied, progressive and in accordance with well defined plans, include such simple exercises as horse training and ascend to solving of warfare problems that involve the handling of brigades. Fire control, although classed among the elementary exercises, is virtually new to the cavalry, although the infantry has been working on it for several years.

Pamphlets issued by the School of Musketry Fire at Ft. Sill, Okla., have been furnished commanding officers and problems they contain in skeleton form are amplified and worked out. Exercises suggested in these pamphlets also are being tried out and suggestions for improvement, resulting from actual practice, are being noted. Recommendations by regimental officers are being studied by General J. J. Pershing and his chief of staff, Colonel De R. C. Cabell, and those considered worth while are being incorporated in tentative manuals.

Studying developments of the European war, and realizing that, under modern conditions of warfare, cavalry does most of its fighting on foot, commanders of that arm of the service are giving their troops a great deal of dismounted work, paying particular attention to attack. In this connection it is noticeable that the ringing bugle no longer sounds the charge, for every maneuver is made by signal. Save for the tramp of hoofs and the leather-softened rattle of equipment, troop movements are made silently, not a voice being raised in command.

When a problem, prepared by the commanding general or his staff, is given out, an observer accompanies each of the opposing leaders and an umpire watches the operations. After each mimic combat, a critique is held. Tactical errors observed are pointed out and suggestions made relative to better maneuvers that might have been employed.

Full advantage is being taken of the fact that there are four regiments of cavalry at headquarters camp, a circumstance without parallel in army annals for years. All the regiments being used, it also is observed, are being maneuvered at full war strength as provided under the new army reorganization bill. This affords the first opportunity American commanders have had of handling troops of this size in maneuvers.

The war game will reach a climax when the maneuvers progress to the point where every fighting man available will be marched against an imaginary enemy under conditions that almost approximate real war. Drilled from 6 to 8 hours a day and performing duties which, if not carried out, might turn a healthy camp into a dangerous one, the expedition thus far has not stagnated.

FIGHT SEARCHLIGHT HUNTING.

Bartholomew County Game Commissioners Seeking to Enforce Law.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 20.—F. M. Ehlers and Charles Cannon, deputy fish and game commissioners, are conducting a war on searchlight hunting in Bartholomew county. They say automobile owners drive slowly until their searchlights reach a rabbit, then stop and shoot the rabbit while it is blinded by light. The deputies also say some hunters are using ferrets in hunting rabbits, and they are trying to break up this practice. The Bartholomew County Fishing and Hunting club is co-operating with the deputies in their efforts to enforce the fish and game laws in this county.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 20.—C. W. Cook, son of William C. Cook, 2320 West Seventh street, this city, an expert machine gun operator with the British army has written his parents from Sussex, England, that he was wounded in the foot during a recent battle on the

J. B. Howard, Himself, Inventor of the Florence Hot Blast Heater and the Searchlight Base Burner Will Give a Sidewalk Demonstration of Both Stoves Tomorrow In Front of Our East Berry Street Entrances

ALL FORT WAYNE IS INVITED TO WITNESS MR. HOWARD'S REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION OF HIS TWO WONDERFUL STOVES. MR. HOWARD, WHO IS THE GREATEST AUTHORITY ON COMBUSTION DEVICES IN THE COUNTRY TODAY, WILL CONDUCT THIS PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION ALONG PURELY EDUCATIVE LINES, SEEKING TO ENLIGHTEN HIS AUDITORS AS TO THE TRUE MERITS AND DEMERITS OF VARIOUS STOVES AND ILLUSTRATING IN VIVID MANNER THE BROAD DIFFERENTIATION BETWEEN THE SO-CALLED "BASE BURNERS" AND "HOT BLAST HEATERS" AND THE HIGHLY SPECIALIZED SEARCHLIGHT BASE BURNER AND FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER.

IN HIS LECTURE MR. HOWARD WILL EXPLAIN AND PROVE BY ACTUAL COMPARISON THAT THE SEARCHLIGHT BURNS EVERY INGREDIENT OF HARD COAL, SOMETHING WHICH ALL OTHER BASE BURNERS WASTE. HE WILL ALSO EXPLAIN AND PROVE BY ACTUAL TEST THAT THE FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER IS THE ONLY ABSOLUTE SMOKE, SOOT AND GASE-CONSUMING STOVE IN THE WORLD. FURTHERMORE, MR. HOWARD WILL DEMONSTRATE FULLY WHY THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF MOST BASE BURNERS AND HOT-BLAST HEATERS ARE WRONG, BEING PEURILE IMITATIONS OF THE VARIOUS J. B. HOWARD DEVICES.

MR. HOWARD, WHO IS KNOWN AS "THE STOVE WIZARD," IS A MAN OF DYNAMIC ENERGY AND GREAT PERSONAL MAGNETISM. HIS LECTURES ARE FULL OF SOUND LOGIC AND SANE REASONING AND HE NEVER FAILS TO IMPRESS HIS LISTENERS THROUGH THE FORCE OF HIS ARGUMENTS AND BY THE APPEAL OF HIS UNIQUE PERSONALITY. TO THE PERSON WHO IS CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF A STOVE THIS DEMONSTRATION WILL PROVE PROFOUNDLY INTERESTING, WHILE TO OTHERS MR. HOWARD'S LECTURE WILL PROVE MOST ENTERTAINING AND INSTRUCTIVE.

The Searchlight--The Last Word In Stove Efficiency

The SEARCHLIGHT marks the highest development of the Base Burner Stove by an inventor whose genius is acknowledged all over the world. Mr. Howard has incorporated in this stove features and various perfections which place it head and shoulders above the average Base Burner, which, in many instances, is just a stove patterned after the SEARCHLIGHT but boasting none of the wonderful SEARCHLIGHT devices, which are patented and therefore cannot be used without infringing upon the Howard patents.

The SEARCHLIGHT Will Heat 8 Rooms

The J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION is the secret of the wonderful success of the SEARCHLIGHT. It is a device installed in the base of the stove which burns every particle of Carbon Monoxide (commonly known as poison gas) and which is wasted in all the so-called base burners and in fact has never before been utilized since anthracite coal was first burned. It is without a doubt the greatest heating device ever invented and you will find it only on the SEARCHLIGHT.

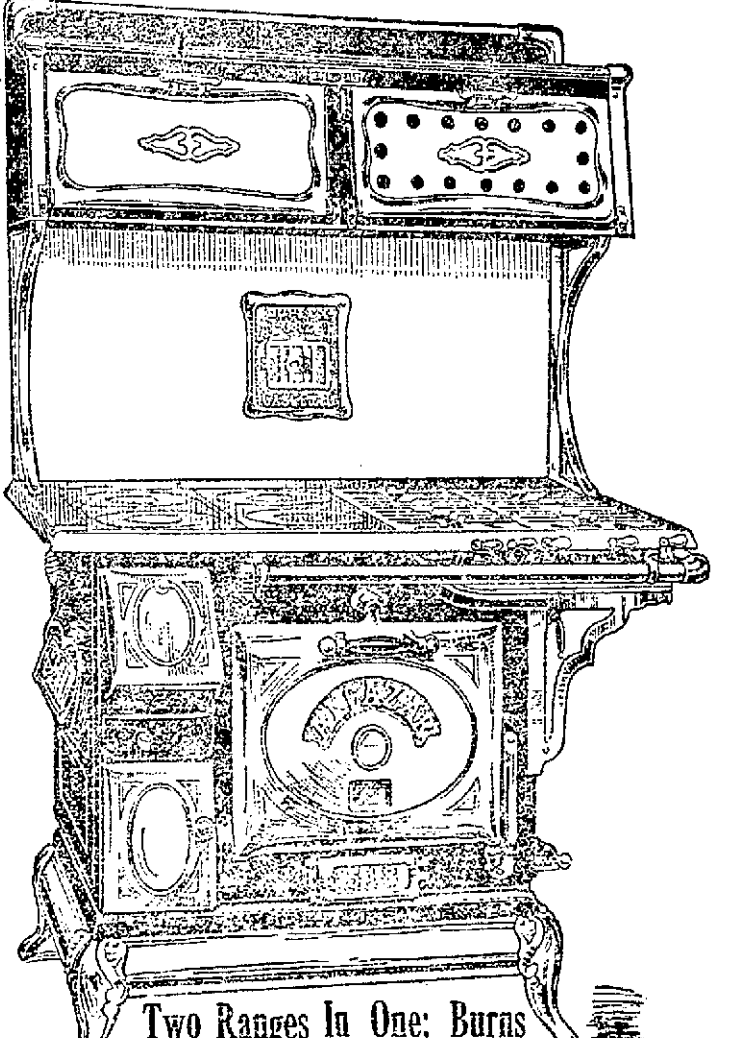

The HOWARD METHOD of Combustion

In his demonstration tomorrow Mr. Howard will expose the deception practiced upon the public by the manufacturers of the so-called base burners and prove by actual test that the SEARCHLIGHT will heat three times the space that can be heated by any of these so-called base burners and do it with the same amount of fuel. He will also explain in lucid manner how the Carbon Monoxide is utilized the same as fuel by the J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION DEVICE, which is built into the SEARCHLIGHT.

The Bitter Test of Comparison

The SEARCHLIGHT will heat any eight rooms in an ordinary house far better than a furnace or hot water boiler. Just set the combustion damper of the SEARCHLIGHT when you go to bed, and whether the weather is zero or even twenty below you will find no variation in the temperature of the house when you arise in the morning. In zero weather you fill the magazine of the SEARCHLIGHT once in twenty-four hours -- in fair weather once in three or four days.

A Special Demonstration of the Famous Duplex-Alcazar Combination Range Will Be Given On the Interior of Our Store During the Next Three Days By Bruce E. Gollan, Factory Representative.

Two Ranges In One; Burns Both Coal and Gas

A single coal or wood range is wasteful except for winter use. A single Gas Range is wasteful except for summer use. To combine the Two is ideal, and meets the demand of the Twentieth Century Home for "Comfort," "Convenience" and "Economy" all the year around.

The DUPLEX ALCAZAR is a single range, only 43 inches long, in which Gas and Coal or Wood can be used at the same time, or separately, just as desired. It is just the Range for Your Home. There is nothing to lift out or interchange. Simply "pull or push a lever" at lower right hand side of Range and over is ready for use for either fuel. It is as easy as turning on or off the water faucet in the kitchen.

J. B. Howard Offers $5,000

To Any Stove Dealer or Manufacturer who will produce a Stove tomorrow in the form of a Hard Coal Base Burner or so-called Base Burner that will burn all ingredients of Hard Coal, such as Carbon Monoxide (commonly known as poison gas), or will heat the same amount of space with the same amount of fuel as the SEARCHLIGHT I WILL OFFER THE SUM OF $5,000.00.

Signed J. B. HOWARD

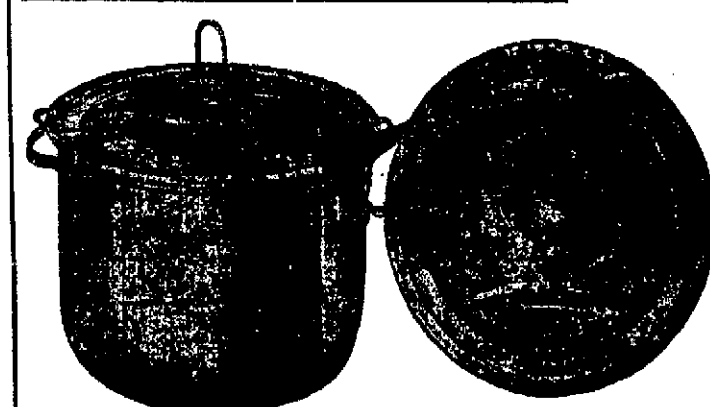

The Offer!

This drastic offer of $5,000.00 has repeatedly been made and no one has ever dared to accept the challenge. This offer has been made for four consecutive years and each time has gone unclaimed, a circumstance which proves conclusively that the SEARCHLIGHT is the greatest actor in the drama of modern stove construction.

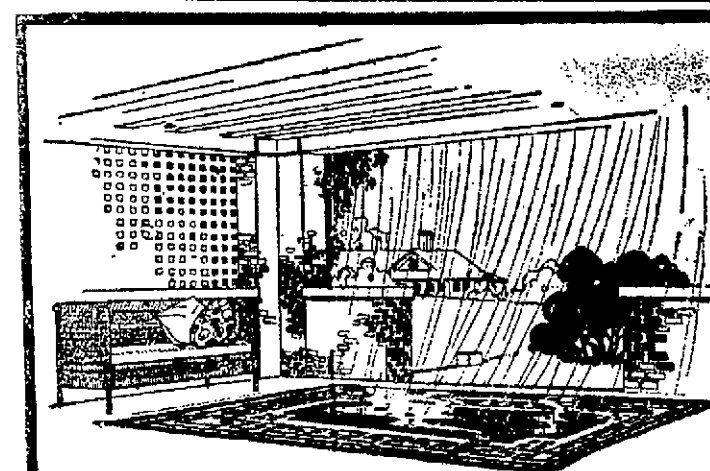

The Reason!

The reason for this offer is to convince the public that the SEARCHLIGHT BASE BURNER with the J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION embodied is the greatest heating device ever invented. Hundreds of SEARCHLIGHT owners in this city will testify to the economical and efficient results obtained from the SEARCHLIGHT under the severest conditions.

THE FLORENCE; Nemesis of Jack Frost

With wintry days coming on at a rapid pace, the thoughts naturally turn to warmth and comfort in the home. No need to worry about your heating troubles further, however, if you own a FLORENCE HOT-BLAST HEATER. The Florence ends stove troubles forever and besides insuring you a warm "comfy" house during wintry weather it cuts a generous slice off your coal bills. Mr. Howard will explain the various features of the FLORENCE in his sidewalk demonstration tomorrow. Do not fail to hear him.

The Florence Idea Eliminates Puffing

During his demonstration Mr. Howard will explain fully and prove by an actual "live fire test" how the FLORENCE eliminates the "puffing" nuisance. If you have ever used Hot Blast Heaters of certain makes you will know that it was no uncommon experience to come home and find that the door of the stove has been "puffed open" and dirty black soot blown all over the house.

Holds Fire Perfectly Over Night

The FLORENCE will positively hold fire over night. Just fill the firepot of the stove when you go to bed and in the morning you will discover the same even temperature that existed when you retired.

The Florence Means More Heat and Less Fuel

You can heat a five or six-room house all winter long for $10.00 with the FLORENCE and use a very cheap grade of coal. And furthermore, no matter how cheap the grade of fuel used, the FLORENCE keeps clean. This is because it can burn hard or soft coal siftings, dust, slack, coke, sawdust or rubbish. Mr. Howard proves this by actual test in his demonstration tomorrow.

A Florence On Easy Terms

Kindly keep in mind that you can buy the FLORENCE (or any other stove sold here) on the easy payment plan. Our liberal credit concessions makes it possible for you to have your stove installed right away if you want to.

ADMIT WILSON WOULD CARRY ILLINOIS NOW

Before Election.

BY GILSON GARDNER.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—That Illinois would go for Wilson if the election were held today is frankly admitted by the republican managers in charge of the state campaign. At the same time they claim the state ticket and express a hope that the coming three weeks may turn the tide of sentiment to Hughes.

To tell the truth I was amazed at this open admission at republican state headquarters. I would not have had the courage to claim Illinois for Wilson. There are too many influences at work on the republican side, and too great a normal republican majority, to be overcome. But when the republican managers themselves tell me it will go for Wilson I can do nothing but accept their judgment.

The state and national campaigns are being separately handled. The state headquarters are in the Great Northern hotel, while the national headquarters are in the Conway building. At national headquarters western chairman Tobe Hart is still claiming Illinois and a hundred superfluous votes in the electoral college for Hughes.

The truth is Hughes has been thrown overboard by state managers in the hope that by so lightening the ship its crew may get to shore.

The state ticket is headed by Frank O. Lowden, formerly congressman from one of the central districts of the state, and has on it Medill McCormick, the first bull moose to gig-back into the "party of his fathers." He should have said his father-in-law. Mrs. McCormick is a daughter of Mark Hanna, while McCormick's mother was a daughter of Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune. The Hanna estate and the Tribune estate are helping defray the expenses of the state campaign, while the Pullman palace car estate—Lowden married one of the three Pullman daughters—is likewise helping to underwrite the state activities.

It's a fine, rich, strong, disinterested campaign, and now that Candidate C. E. Hughes has been sewed up in a bag and foiled to the whale, there is a right good prospect that "Colonel" (by courtesy) Lowden will be elected governor by a hundred (more or less) thousand majority, and that Medill McCormick, perhaps, may come to Washington to render disinterested service for the party of Lincoln, Hanna and Penrose.

The women of Illinois, it seems, are going to elect Wilson. Incidentally, Mrs. McCormick claims women the right to vote—a right which does not extend to the state ticket and members of congress. Now the women by the first exercise of that privilege may elect a democratic president, and if they are not careful to keep their pacifism away from their husbands, brothers and sons, may defeat her husband for congress.

Approximately a million Illinois women are to cast their votes for the first time for presidential electors. A few canby canvassers showed these women were almost overwhelmingly for Wilson, because "he kept the country out of war." This tremendous vote plus the male pacifists, plus the commercially content, plus the disgruntled progressives, plus the railroad employees, plus the organized labor vote, plus the social worker vote, plus the Jewish vote, plus the semi-radical vote, plus the anti-machine vote, plus the anti-Wall street vote, and so forth and so forth, made it quite evident that Wilson would get the electoral vote of Illinois.

The national republican majority in Illinois is very large. The combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt four years ago was 235,023 more than the vote cast for Wilson. In 1914 Raymond Robins, as progressive candidate for United States senator, polled 203,027 votes, while Roger Sullivan, democrat, polled 578,403 and L. Y. Sherman was elected with 590,661. All of which—until the republicans woke up—led them to believe that Illinois with its 29 votes in the electoral college was perfectly safe for any republican candidate who might be named.

BUT THAT WAS BEFORE THEY WOKE UP.

ALL DUE TO WRANGLE OVER PRICE OF FISH

Inner Facts of Clash Between Chinese and Japs Come to Light.

Mukden, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Controversy concerning the price of fish is reported to have been the immediate cause of the conflict between Japanese and Chinese soldiers at Chengchiatun on August 13, which resulted in the death of eleven soldiers and the injury of many others.

A Japanese drug clerk who was buying a fish from a Chinese boy, objected to the price asked, and gave the boy a beating. Chinese soldiers resented the attack made upon the boy by the Japanese, and handled the drug clerk roughly.

The disgruntled Japanese reported to Japanese officers that he had been assaulted by Chinese soldiers without reasons. A Japanese gendarme was detailed to make an investigation, and reported that his efforts to get information at the Chinese barracks had been resisted. A lieutenant and twenty privates were detailed by the Japanese commanding officer to proceed to the Chinese barracks and obtain satisfaction.

Two sentries at the Chinese barracks refused the Japanese troops admission. The Chinese insist that the Japanese lieutenant gave orders for his soldiers to use force. A battle followed in which seven Japanese soldiers were killed outright, five were mortally wounded, and several others less seriously injured. Four Chinese soldiers were killed and a number wounded.

While it has not been positively established who fired the first shot, it was probably fired by a Chinese who was standing some distance from the gate, and is reported to have fired with such deadly aim that he alone probably killed most of the Japanese.

After the conflict the Japanese fled to their barracks, where they barricaded themselves, fearing a general attack from Chinese troops. The magistrate of Chengchiatun visited the Japanese commander in an effort to make amends and restore peace. He was kept as a prisoner in the Japanese barracks by the commander, who explained that he felt he was protecting his troops against any further attack by holding the magistrate. Finally the Japanese released the magistrate after he had turned his son over to them to be held as a hostage.

On August 16 the magistrate effected arrangements for the withdrawal of Chinese troops five miles from town, and peace was restored.

PURSUE RECKLESS DRIVER.

Autoists, Angered by Accidents, Unable to Catch Fast Machine.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Pursued by six automobiles, a huge touring car containing a man and two women escaped across the state line into Illinois after the machine had sidestepped the car of Richard Fehrmann, a Whiting contractor, on the Jackson highway, near Dyer. Six persons, relatives of Fehrmann, were injured when the auto was overturned and demolished. Both machines were forced from the road and indignant autoists attempted to catch the reckless driver, but his machine was too fast.

BIG ELM TREES FOR HARRISON HILL

Anyone interested in sylviculture or landscaping will be fully repaid for their trouble if they will stroll through Harrison Hill, the new addition located on Calhoun street, just south of Rudisill boulevard, where there have been scores of elm trees, ranging from six to ten inches set out. By transplanting these elms which are from twenty to thirty years old this addition takes on an aspect that would otherwise require from ten to twenty years to produce. It has necessitated on the part of the promoters of Harrison Hill to set out trees of this size, but as this tract was intended for a present-day proposition, and not one that would take a number of years to develop, they feel that the extra trouble was fully justified. Details regarding the lots in this addition may be secured from Hilgemann & Schlauf, North American building.—Advertisement.

SENTENCED DAY AFTER THEFT.

Man Who Stole 72 Chickens and Sold Them for $56 Sent to Reformatory.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20.—Awakening seventy-two chickens from a sound sleep, placing them in a spring wagon and driving away without causing a squawk or any noise loud enough to arouse their owner, who was sleeping less than 100 feet away, was the champion chicken stealing feat of Mose Budreau, of Fowler.

Judge Billings, of the Benton circuit court, sentenced Budreau to from one to fourteen years in the state reformatory. The theft was committed Sunday night. Theodore Johnson, living three miles east of Fowler, was the victim. Budreau drove to Goodland where he sold the chickens for $56.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes any one look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases, and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Advertisement.

No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. RATHER TRUSTING TO LUCK AS TO "TANKS"

Army Heads Believe 1,000 Could Be Collected in Few Weeks.

BY FREDERICK M. KERBY.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—The United States army can be equipped with 1,000 of the "tanks" reported to have been done so much execution on the British lines in France, in a few weeks the ordnance board believes.

"We could undoubtedly equip very quickly similar machines for use in the army, if it became necessary to do so," said Major Adam F. Casad of the ordnance bureau of the war department, discussing the possibility of the use of the tanks in our army.

This, in spite of the fact that the tractors must be collected from various parts of the country, measurements made for armor and encasements, the machines linked together as are the component parts of the great British tanks, and their mechanism so co-ordinated that the machines will work in unison. In other words, the army could be equipped with tanks if luck could do it.

"We bought some time ago three Holt Caterpillar tractors for experimental use in Hawaii," Casad continued. "We have used them there, however, merely to furnish traction for drawing artillery."

"Later we bought five additional tractors and have been experimenting with them here in the same way. Lately we placed an order for 27 more machines, to equip the artillery regiment there for hauling its guns."

"We have considered use of tractors in fighting, but have never actually armored them. They could be armored and equipped, however, in a very short time, if it was thought necessary."

There are at least 2,000 BIG caterpillar farm tractors in use in the United States today, according to experts of the farm management bureau of the department of agriculture. They are used most largely in the "tule" grass lands of California, flooded part of the year, but which, in dry season, make excellent farming lands.

These tractors, with their wide tread, will go anywhere in these swampy lands, and are used to pull plows. They are also used to some extent in the delta region of Louisiana.

"It is easy to understand how caterpillar type tractors can climb shell craters, push down trees, go over trenches and even push down walls of buildings," said A. P. Yerkes, expert in the bureau of farm management.

"You can practically stand a tractor on its nose, and as long as the revolving surface touches the earth it will move forward and climb out of a hole. The combined power of four of these tractors would be quite sufficient to push over any ordinary tree or similar obstacle."

Officers of the ordnance bureau think conditions similar to those on the battlefield in France would be unlikely to confront an American army defending the country against invasion, and are skeptical as to the value of the "tanks."

FARMER FLOURISHES REVOLVER.

Intoxicated Man Refuses to Allow Adair Automobile to Pass in Road.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 20.—While returning to Evansville from New Harmony, where he had been making an address yesterday afternoon, J. A. M. Adair, candidate for governor, got several thrills when a drunken farmer refused to make room for the automobile in which Adair was riding, and when the party attempted to pass flourished a revolver and threatened the lives of those in the machine. With Adair were Mayor Benjamin Bosse and Howard Ross, editor of a local paper.

Mayor Bosse pleaded with the farmer to draw aside and allow the automobile to pass, but the man, whose name was not learned, was obstinate and continued to make blood-curdling threats. Finally when those in the machine had resigned themselves to move at a walking pace behind the slowly moving wagon, the farmer suddenly pulled aside and without a word allowed the automobile to pass.

CONSTITUTION ACTS AS BAR.

Act to Allow Soldiers on Border to Vote Would Be Illegal.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—Governor Ralston announced yesterday that it appears no way can be found whereby the members of the Indiana national guard on the border can vote at the coming election. The governor's attention was called to conditions a few days ago by Newton D. Gilbert, of Fort Wayne, who suggested that a special session of the legislature be called to enact a measure permitting the members of the guard to vote. Governor Ralston yesterday replied to Mr. Gilbert in a letter in which he stated that the passage of such a law would be unconstitutional. The governor quotes a section of the constitution to justify his statements.

This is according to tradition honored in the imperial palace in Tokyo and throughout Japan. Eight Cities Want Athletic Events

EIGHT CITIES BID FOR WINTER EVENTS

Places of Athletic Union Championships to Be Awarded Soon.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Eight cities, including Chicago, are bidding for the Central Amateur Athletic union winter championships which are to be awarded at a special meeting here next month.

This will be the first time in the history of the union that so many cities outside of Chicago have interested themselves in the events.

The only important amateur sport of the winter season in which Chicago athletic clubs will not be interested is boxing, and the only reason for this state of affairs is that the Illinois law prohibits the sport for both professionals and "Simon pures."

Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids and Milwaukee are after the title championships. The Illinois Athletic club, the Chicago Athletic association, and the Hamilton club, all of Chicago, want the aquatic events, but those organizations will be opposed by the Detroit Athletic club.

As to basketball, the Illinois Athletic club, the Cleveland A. C., Detroit A. C., and Cincinnati Gymnasium and Athletic club are among the bidders. St. Paul and the Mystic A. C. of Chicago are after the indoor track championships. These probably will be split, according to present plans, the junior series going to St. Paul and the seniors to Chicago.

CONFERENCE OFFICIAL TO WORK HERE SUNDAY

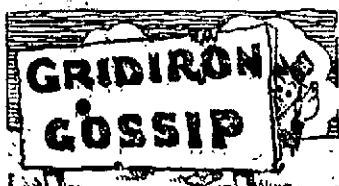

Put a Stop to the Wrangling.

The Friar management has secured H. G. Thomas of Illinois to work as referee in Sunday's game. Thomas has handled several conference games and comes well recommended.

Mehegan, of Purdue, who has handled all the Friar games this year, is a good referee, but he has worked here too often and has lost his authority over the local players. As a result the men were ready to argue every point and a great deal of unnecessary wrangling slowed up the games.

Weather conditions have interfered with the Friars this week and not one good practice has been held. Tuesday night's workout was half-hearted and rain stopped last night's. Only Saturday afternoon remains and some hard work will probably be put in.

The visitors are coming with a well uniformed team and a good reputation. They will have numbers on their backs and these will be on the score cards.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 20.—Bob Zupke's reconstructed Illinois took their last hard drill last night in preparation for the opening of the conference campaign against Ohio State tomorrow. With good luck as to his crutches, Zupke should be able to put a much stronger eleven in the field than fell before Colgate.

Potter and Charlier are prominent on the hospital list, while Hauschman, another good line man, remains ineligible. Charlier's disability has given Schlaudermann a chance at center, and the Californian has been taking advantage of it. Bit Stewart doubtless will claim his old place at guard on Saturday, and it is expected Potter will be able to play the other guard position.

Ohio is billed to be a Tartar. The Illinois remember the tie score last year and the Oberlin score of 128 last Saturday.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Oct. 20.—Badger football players were called upon this afternoon to run through a long rehearsal of plays designed for use in the Chicago game. Then they bucked against the reserves in scrimmage. A bad blow was dealt the chances for the back field when Edler, who starred in the South Dakota game, was knocked out with a hip injury. Medical advisers declare that he will be confined for several days. Today's practice was directed by Soucy. Coach Withington tonight is in Milwaukee, the honored guest at a gathering of Wisconsin and Harvard graduates, 500 strong, who will attend the Chicago-Wisconsin game.

INDIANA

Bloomington, Oct. 20.—For the first time since the coaching regime of Jimmy Sheldon, the old charging machine was resurrected at Indiana today and the line men were given an hour's drill in driving back an imaginary Tufts defense. Because of the rain the players were compelled to dig their toes in the soft earth in order to get a hold and make headway. Tackling was also on the program again, and at the conclusion of the rudimentary drill, the "varsity" and scrubs lined up for a twelve minute scrimmage, which resulted 14 to 0 in favor of the regulars. Right End Buschman returned to the fold, and an improvement was noted in the line plugging of Captain McIntosh, who has been out until this week.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—Tackle Frank Mayer is due to get out of the hospital tomorrow, but he will not be in actual play for more than a week. His friends say he will be in the lineup against Illinois, but hardly before then.

The Gophers held only a short scrimmage, snow and sleet having made the field a slippery mess. A chalk talk followed a short workout and session on the eluder path. Hartwig played at guard for Gray, who is limping slightly. Ballantine, half, was tried at quarter and Tomarek at right end. Harold Hansen, tackleback, will take an examination to-

FAMOUS HALFBACK TO COACH TEAMS THROUGH THE SENTINEL.

Elmer Oliphant, famous West Point half back and Uncle Sam's greatest athlete, is going to coach football teams through The Sentinel.

Oliphant has prepared six hang-up plays, illustrated by diagrams and thoroughly explained so any team can work them out. His articles will appear in The Sentinel beginning tomorrow.

The plays are dandies. Similar plays will be used by the Army in its biggest games this year and teams using them may win their games with the same formations with which the Army will try to down the Navy in the great annual struggle.

Before Oliphant could prepare these articles for The Sentinel it was necessary for him to get permission from the commandant of the United States Military academy.

Oliphant is one of the biggest stars football has produced. Eastern critics say he and Harry Le Gore, the great Yale backfield man, will be the big stars of the present season.

Oliphant is the only man who has ever won four letters in athletics at the army school. He won his laurels in football, baseball, basketball and track. Previous to entering Uncle Sam's school, Oliphant spent four years at Purdue university and there he was the only athlete who won four athletic letters.

Oliphant's career at Purdue was remarkable. In the summer he worked in southern Indiana coal mines to pay for his schooling. Graduating three years ago, he received the appointment to West Point.

As a football player Oliphant stands head and shoulders above most backfield men of the country. He is fast and powerful; a remarkable drop kicker and punter.

Quick thinking and brainy playing combine to make him one of the greatest field strategists of the decade.

Watch for his articles and plays in The Sentinel.

tomorrow to clean up his scholastic record. T. N. Slocum, a Chinese student, has joined the freshman squad as end or tackle. He played two years on the Minot, N. D., high school team. The South Dakota squad, twenty-five strong, will arrive tomorrow morning.

IOWA.

Iowa City, Oct. 20.—A drizzling rain converted Iowa field into a sea of mud and Coach Jones limited practice to a light conditioning workout and a long signal drill. He also delivered a lengthy lecture on the intricacies of his new plays and outlined the style of game to be used against Purdue. The "skill practice" seemed helpful to the squad. Captain Loun and Mendonhall, end and halfback, returned to the lineup and indications are a solid front will be presented against the Boilermakers. Bowyer, still in suffering from injuries, but ought to be back at tackle by Saturday. Jones announced there will be no more scrimmages before Purdue arrives.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 20.—Three touchdowns in fifteen minutes of play was the record that Yost's "varsity" was able to make in yesterday afternoon's clash with the scrubs. The second string men made free use of Michigan Aggie's formations during the battle, but the more experienced crew held them without any trouble.

No regular "varsity" team was at work at any time. Rehner, Boyd, Wieman and Zeiger all got in at one time or another, but Captain Maubetsch, Niemann and Smith were not allowed to take part at all. Smith was busy this afternoon receiving an X-ray treatment for boils on his right arm.

Tomorrow is the last day of drill before the big struggle and only light work will be indulged in. The major part of the time will be given over to signal practice and every possible care will be taken to keep the men in condition so that a solid front will be presented to the Aggies on Saturday.

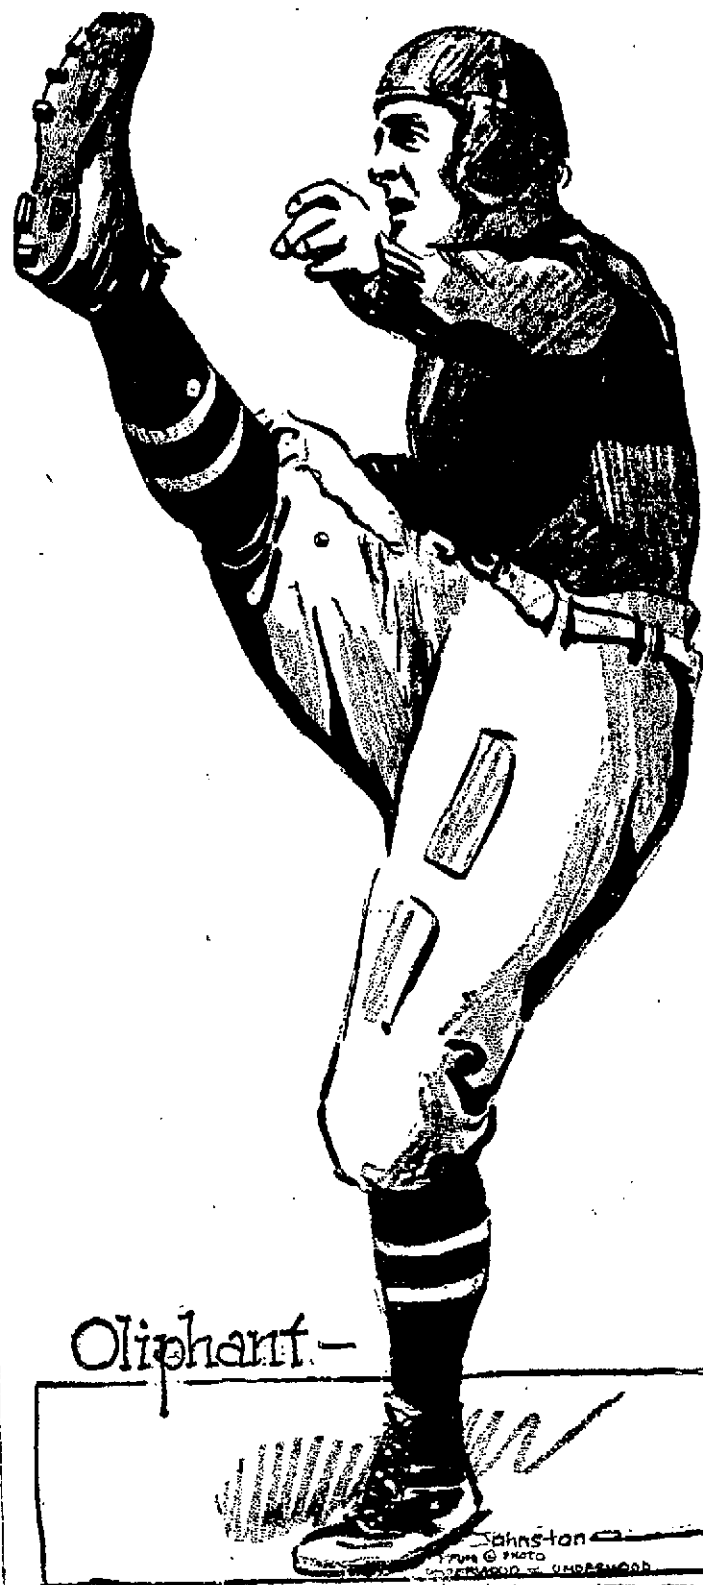

TAFT IT MADE CENTER.

Charley Taft, son of former President Taft, has been made regular center of the Yale eleven.

Taft played end and halfback last year and was playing tackle early this season. Three men trying for center, Callahan, Vorys and Smith, were injured and Taft was tried.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR ROOTERS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 20.—Students at Ohio State university are planning to charter a special train for the Ohio-Illinois football game at Urbana on October 21. A twenty piece student band will lead the Backeye rooters. More than 200 are expected to make the trip.

HAMMOND TO PLAY SHERIDANS SUNDAY

Clabby Team Will Help Open Lafayette Professional Season.

The Clabby A. A. team, of Hammond, supported by 500 rooters, will journey to Lafayette Sunday to help the Sheridans open the professional season in that city. Both teams will have old college men with them, but there is no doubt that Frank Blocker will be the big drawing card. The Sheridan team is the representative eleven of Lafayette.

In speaking of the strong Hammond team, the Lafayette Courier has the following: "The Hammond team was downed by the Fort Wayne Friars at Fort Wayne last Sunday, the score being 9 to 0. The scores, however, were not made until Captain Blocker was removed from the game because of injuries. The Fort Wayne team is recognized by sporting writers as the greatest in the country and is hoped to beat Pine Village in the game to be staged soon."

We're Sorry for You, Doc.

But Nelson is to consult a beauty doctor. Coach Stiehm is evidently unable to put the steam in Indiana. This note sending business is getting

EVANSTON MEETS WABASH SUNDAY

Although Wabash and the Friars will not meet this year it is not going to be hard to pick the better team. Last Sunday Wabash and Pine Village played to a 0 to 0 tie. Pine Village will play the Friars here soon.

Next Sunday Wabash will meet the last Evanston team. That is another team which will soon be playing here.

A week from Sunday will offer a chance to collect some real dope. Wabash lines up against the Detroit Herald that day. The latter team played the ex-Carlisle Indians, winning by a score of 12 to 0. Last Sunday the Friars beat these same Indians 27 to 0. The score seems to give the locals the edge on the Herald, so that Wabash has to beat the Herald to stay in the running.

"ZUMMIE" FINDS BRIDE TAKEN AS A BIGAMIST

by Woe Following His Marriage.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—When "Zummie" of Detroit hears of a neat package of his own letters tied up by a pink ribbon to a suit for $25,000 for breach of promise, he probably will think his cup of woe is running over. For yesterday, Mrs. Ruth Day McLean Zummstein, his bride of a day, was arrested on a charge of bigamy.

"Zummie" is Arnold Zummstein, a real estate operator of Detroit. This is set out in the breach of promise action started in Chicago by Miss Helene Wohlford, a cabaret dancer not lacking in recent mention in the newspapers nor in personal charm. He is accused of breaking the heart of Miss Wohlford by marrying Miss McLean. Miss McLean is the daughter of Dr. Angus McLean of Detroit, who has been conspicuous in the world of surgery.

The police interfere. Zummstein and Miss McLean were married in Terre Haute, Ind., on Tuesday afternoon. But the mating was short of duration, for it was learned that Miss McLean, or more recently Mrs. Zummstein, was arrested on charges to the Terre Haute police for Chief Marquardt of Detroit. Soon after Dr. McLean hurried to Terre Haute, obtained the release of his daughter, and returned to Detroit.

The advice to the Indiana police was in effect that Miss McLean's marriage of Sept. 17, 1915, has never been dissolved and therefore her union with Zummstein, sued for $25,000 in Chicago by the dancer, and benefit of a bride in Terre Haute, could not be found in Detroit. But it was reported he was returning to his home from his wedding trip.

Helene Got Heirs. Zummstein first was mentioned in connection with Miss Wohlford when the dancer was known as Mrs. Helene B. Cowan. Zummstein was named in a suit for divorce brought by the husband of the girl, James C. Cowan. A legal separation was handed down a few weeks ago.

Cowan, in asking a divorce from his cabaret wife, set out that she wrote him she "could not care for any man for any length of time." Also he said his wife had promised to forego the cabaret and settle down to a domestic life. But she didn't stop her dancing. Instead she kept late hours soon after she was married to Cowan, he alleged, and often came home late in the night. On one occasion, he declared, he entered a homegoing elevated train to find his wife sitting in the lap of a man who was entirely strange to him.

Finally, Cowan alleged the discovery that Mr. Zummstein, the Detroit broker, had presented Mrs. Helene Wohlford Cowan with diamonds, a set of expensive furs, and an automobile.

A Change of Heart. The divorce was not contested by Mrs. Cowan, who resumed her name of Wohlford. And as Miss Wohlford states in her suit for breach of promise she was tenderly courted by "Zummie" with promises of marriage. But then his ardor faded and he grew cold. Then she heard of his marriage to another girl. And then she brought suit.

Zummstein's mistress, of which Miss Wohlford offers an abundance, invariably was opened with "My Dear" and closed with a kitchinish "Zummie." There are references to clothes for Miss Wohlford.

CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, RUN-DOWN?

Wash Out the Bile With a Wine-glassful of Tollo Water and
Feel Fine in Half an Hour

Our present mode of living makes bad livers. The bile tubes become choked and force bile into the system, causing gas, heartburn, coated tongue, constipation, dizziness, nervousness, headache and stomach trouble.

A third of a tumblerful of TOLLO WATER in a glass of plain water before breakfast relieves your constipation in 20 minutes. The natural properties of this water stimulate the liver to greater activity without the weakening effects produced by strong drugs.

Get a 15-cent bottle and take a little for a few days. It really works wonders. TOLLO WATER is bottled at Dawson Springs, Kentucky, but it is sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 20.—A demand for the stoppage of submarine warfare, coupled with an appeal to the United States to take the initiative toward that end, is voiced by the Telegram. The Telegram says: "Ten days have elapsed since the submarine war was declared to the door of America and nothing has been done. Are we to understand that our ships are allowed to be torpedoed right on the American coast? We say in all frankness to America that submarine war must be stopped and Germany must be told that mistakes, which all the world know are no mistakes, will no longer be tolerated. WILSON WOMEN AND FOES STAGE A RIOT

Hughes Banners Smashed in
Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—An attempted "silent demonstration" against President Wilson by members of the national woman's party in front of the Auditorium yesterday developed into a near riot in which the banners opposing Wilson were torn from the demonstrators and trampled, and the women were roughly handled. President Wilson was seated in an automobile a few hundred feet away when the demonstration started, but passed into the building and was not a witness to the scene that followed.

The national woman's suffrage party, favoring Hughes because of his stand for a national suffrage amendment, had decided to borrow a bit from the tactics of the democratic women, who had heckled the Hughes women's special on its coast to coast trip. They had planned to greet President Wilson with banners asking pertinent questions on his suffrage position. It was tried on yesterday when the president motored up to the Auditorium theater to speak, with the riot as a result.

The police were useless. As the president's car flashed into sight the angry word "Shame!" leaped from lip to lip. There was a swift surge outward, and the thin line of women sashed in the colors of the party rumbled up like a rank of paper dolls.

Michigan avenue in front of the Congress hotel rang with screams and oaths. The "insulting" banners bobbed for a sudden, agitated moment above the crowd like a fishing fleet hit by a squall, and then sank.

They never rose. Umbrellas, canes, hands and feet ripped them to bits and smashed in the street. So vicious was the attack on the handful of women that many were knocked down and trampled. Those who attempted to defend their banners were beaten on the knuckles until their grip relaxed. Hats were torn off. Hair fell in cascades. Hairpins jumped like Mexican beans on the pavement. Waits rose, tears fell, waists parted, stays creaked, and women were wild in Michigan avenue.

Cries of "Dislawyers!" "Where's your baby?" "Down with suffragists!" and "Back to the kitchen!" were still ringing the boulevard when the president serenely put forth his opening words to the women assembled in the theater.

Although men predominated in the assault on the "silent demonstration," many women also darted in to the melee and registered a few spiteful nicks on their sorely outnumbered sisters. From 15,000 to 20,000 persons packed in Michigan boulevard and Congress street witnessed the annihilation of Wilson's women opponents.

PHRASE NAUSEATING, SAYS T. R.

Cites Result if Lincoln Had "Kept Us Out of War."

Emoria, Kas., Oct. 20.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, speaking in a driving snowstorm here last night, told a large crowd that "Kansas, of all states, should resent that phrase, 'he kept us out of war.'" Col. Roosevelt devoted his brief talk from the rear platform of his car to an attack on the foreign policy of President Wilson.

"If Abraham Lincoln had kept us out of war there would have been no free state of Kansas," Col. Roosevelt asserted. "If our forefathers had believed in 'safety first' there would be no United States today. The phrase is nauseating to a patriot acquainted with the history of our country."

JOINS VON HINDENBURG.

Gen. von Ludendorff Oppose More Ruthless Subsea Campaign.

Berlin, Oct. 19, 1 p. m., via London. Oct. 20.—General von Ludendorff has joined Field Marshal von Hindenburg in opposing a more ruthless prosecution of submarine warfare. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's position was made plain at a meeting of the independent committee for German peace terms last Saturday when through a personal representative he requested the committee to abstain from exercising sharper submarine campaign.

General von Ludendorff has expressed his views through a letter which was read yesterday by Liberal Leader Schleifer. The letter said in part:

"The hopes of our enemies based on extraordinary exertions on all fronts, can only be frustrated through mighty efforts on our part. We will accomplish this if the German people stand united behind us and give us their confidence and do not demoralize the army by controversies over the expediency of means and ways to success. If to the outsider it seems that to program on certain questions is lacking this does not prove that the program is actually at fault."

LOCAL SYRIANS CAME FROM DOOMED ZONE

Adds to Their Desire to Help Those Who Are Dying of Starvation.

From the beautiful vale, which spreads about the foot of historic Mount Lebanon, came nearly half of the Syrians who made their way across the seas to the "Land of Liberty" and to Fort Wayne. Every member of the Fort Wayne Syrian Orthodox society have declared their allegiance to the United States.

But they remember well their old home surroundings. The rolling grain meadows, the terraced grape arbors, the sunny slopes of the wooded mountain, from which Solomon drew the mighty timbers for his temple, are all dear to them. They know the country and many of the people who are starving there. The slow death of their former countrymen is most vivid to them.

They are doing their best to secure aid for the war stricken Syrians. All money furnished by the local Syrian society is to be converted into food and carried by a government ship to the starving peoples. The public is asked to assist. Contributions are to be left at the First National bank, where they will be called for and used for Syrian relief.

Department of Justice at Sea Regarding Poll
Fraud Law.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—The department of justice is in the unusual predicament of conducting a wide-spread investigation for election conspiracy frauds without having a known valid law on which to base prosecutions even if the frauds are discovered.

These investigations are taking place throughout the middle west and in Pennsylvania and New York and Denver, Colo. It is estimated that from fifty to a hundred special agents of the department of justice are now combing the country "discovering" election frauds. Most of these are in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio, but there are a number of them in other places.

If it is found that election frauds have been perpetrated by the wholesale, as the department seems to think they have, then any prosecutions will have to be based on section 37 of the penal code, which defines and provides a penalty for a conspiracy to defraud the United States.

However, there is much doubt about whether this section takes in election frauds. Judge Brown of the federal court in Rhode Island, has ruled that it does not. Judge Anderson of Indiana, in the Terre Haute case ruled otherwise.

The department, therefore, does not really know whether section 37 applies to elections or not. It hopes that the decision of Judge Brown will be overruled by the supreme court and that of Judge Anderson upheld, but it is not at all sure that this is going to be the case.

It was learned today that federal agents, working under the direction of Clinton C. Clabaugh of Chicago, have been working in Danville, Bloomington, and East St. Louis, Ill.

It is reported that the department feels that sufficient evidence of fraud

WILSON URGES FIRM STAND FOR AMERICA

Chicago's Ovation to President Eclipses Demonstrations of Many Years.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—President Wilson speaking to a new citizens' meeting here, declared last night that foreign born of the United States should put their American allegiance above all others. He praised the ideals that brought new citizens to the United States and exhorted them to stand firm for America.

lined his belief that in the determination of the future of the world after the present war America will play an important part.

During a strenuous twelve hours in Chicago the president addressed a collection of women as "fellow citizens," upheld the principle of the eight-hour day and urged that progressives of all parties work for a broader America.

Ovation is Tremendous. Chicago's ovation to the president was tremendous, and it could hardly be called a demonstration. It was a demonstration of the kind accorded public men in many years.

The crowds clamoring to see and hear Mr. Wilson were even larger and more voracious than the throngs of 1912 in the days of the bull moose call. They thronged into the shade of the kind accorded public men in many years.

A demonstration lasting more than fifteen minutes, greeted the president at new citizens' meeting last night. Men stood on chairs and cheered, waving their hats. The president bowed again and again. The applause ended when a clergyman began an invocation. The preliminary speakers were constantly interrupted by shouts of "Wilson, Wilson."

Crowd Stands and Cheers. When the president rose the crowd led by Gov. Dunne, stood and cheered uproariously. "I come here tonight to address those who have newly sworn allegiance to the United States," said the president. "But I realize that I cannot do so without speaking to my own conscience and to the conscience of the people of the nation." He pointed out that the new citizens had chosen again people in the crowd shouted often their new allegiance. "Within the last few months," he added, "some distinction has been drawn. A man or a woman who becomes a citizen of the United States is not expected to give up his or her love for the country of their birth.

"But people who come to this country are expected to put their new allegiance above every other allegiance. It puts an obligation on him.

"The future of this nation depends upon the self control and loyalty of its citizens. Only by conscience and by loyalty felt in every throb of the heart can you become true citizens.

"A free self governing people is a people which does not need to be watched."

"Say It Again," is Demand. The president's address was frequently interrupted by applause. "Say it again," he said, "I want you to say it again."

"I like to think that in the days to come America may interpret the thought of the world. I like to think that the only things that disturb America are the things which interfere with her am-old country here.

"The strength of a nation does not rest so much in its thinking as in its feeling. Outside the heart there is no life. You must see to it that you do not hold aloof.

"You must remember that the United States has a great part to play in the world. Can you imagine a nation more fitted to play a great part? A nation made up of the world should understand the world."

He said the United States stands for the rights of mankind everywhere. "We are prepared to understand other nations."

He said the men lost at Vera Cruz were drawn from four different stocks.

"I like to think that in the days to come America may interpret the thought of the world. I like to think that the only things that disturb America are the things which interfere with her am-bitants but with her sympathies.

"I like to think that when it comes to the settlement of the present war, we shall be able to assist in interpreting the needs of the future."

He added he did not mean the United States should have any part in determining the terms of settlement. He spoke of the fact that many Americans were drawn from Germany, Ireland, England, France, Italy, Spain and many other nations.

"Let us never allow ourselves to want a single foot of foreign territory. Let us stand by the little nations that need to be stood by. Let us show that we are not interested in the geography of politics."

"Let us show that we want no boundaries of mankind."

"I believe in you as I would have you believe in America. I have not come here to read you a lesson, but merely to bid you welcome to a great partnership."

If you knew that we had in stock 3 times many new Fall Suits and Overcoats as you could find in all other stores in Fort Wayne would you not feel that it was good business to see this great stock before you spent one cent for clothing? Such is the case. So think it over.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE WHO ARE TO WED.

FRANK E. WILMORE.

MISS REBECCA MENEFEE.

More friends than they can number are interested in the approaching marriage of Miss Rebecca Menefee and Mr. Frank E. Wilmore, which is to take place in November. Miss Menefee made the announcement of her engagement to the twenty members of a Sunday school class of which she has been the teacher for fourteen years, on Tuesday evening, entertaining them at her home in Bowers avenue, in an entirely hospitable and charming manner. Miss Menefee is an unusually competent young woman in many ways. For over ten years she has been private secretary, bookkeeper and general assistant to her father in the offices of the Menefee Art Stone works. But aside from her work in a business way Miss Menefee has found time to do her share of church work and is recognized as one of the most helpful members of Calvary C. B. church. In "idle" moments Miss Menefee has accomplished much fine needlework, pursued her musical studies, as she has an excellent voice, and in a general way is well known and holds the good position of assistant road foreman of engines in this city at the Pennsylvania railroad. Miss Menefee's home after her marriage will be at 915 East Lewis street.

home in Fairfield avenue, on Friday afternoon. The company was small but better served as an avenue for becoming acquainted, so the time was equally delightfully to hostess, visitors and other guests.

Mrs. W. H. Peltier entertained twenty young friends of Mrs. Bartlett Shrock at a post-nuptial Halloween bridge party on Friday afternoon. The bride received a gift from the hostess and the prize at cards was won by Miss Irma Peltier. Mrs. Rosser McClure and Mrs. John P. Evans presided at the refreshment table and Miss Alice Knight and Miss Virginia Olds assisted in serving.

Tudhope-Corbett.
Miss Dorothy Corbett, a Hope hospital graduate in professional nursing in the class of 1911, and a very charming and greatly admired young woman, was married on October 7 to Captain William Tudhope, of the 17th Ontario battalion. The wedding took place in the Episcopal church in Orillia, Ontario, Canada, and the men of the bridal party were in military uniform. Miss Margaret Corbett, a sister to the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. MacPherson. The bride and groom are in Orillia for the present but Captain Tudhope expects to be sent with his regiment to some point abroad at any time, and will be either accompanied by his bride or she will follow him shortly afterwards.

Baird-Keller.
The marriage of Miss Rose Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Keller, of St. Mary's avenue, and Mr. Clay O. Baird, of Cleveland, took place on Thursday evening at the home of the bride, Rev. George Doege, of Trinity German Lutheran church, officiating. Miss Helen Schroeder played the wedding march. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for their home in Cleveland. Mr. Baird is a civil engineer.
